

No Blame Attached to Driver In Bus-Truck Collision

That James Dow of Charlottetown came to his death as a result of injuries received when his truck was in collision with a bus on the afternoon of August 4 was the verdict reached by a coroner's jury last night. No blame was attached to the driver of the bus, Earl Patrick McKenna, Charlottetown.

Coroner L. E. Prowse presided at the inquest. Mr. J. P. Nicholson represented the Crown. Members of the jury were: John Gordon Lamont, Eric Leroy Ferguson (foreman), Wendell John Scott, John Dunnean McGillivray, John Cameron, Lester Dalrymple.

Dr. Neil Boyd, assistant provincial pathologist stated that Mr. Dow had received many severe injuries. The heart was torn open, the liver and spleen were torn and there were multiple fractures of the skull. Any one of these three major injuries, he said would be sufficient to cause death.

Dr. Angus MacLeod of Bonshaw, called to the scene of the accident said the truck driver was dead when he arrived. Dr. MacLeod made an examination of the body except to ascertain whether he was dead or not.

Mrs. Caroline Livingstone of Clyde River told of Dow calling at her house on the afternoon of the accident. She told of hearing brakes screech and of seeing the bus pushing the truck across the road.

Mr. George Hees member of The House of Commons for Toronto-Broadview, and Mrs. Hees are expected to arrive in this Province today. They will spend a week or so at Cavendish.

being in a nervous condition, he was normal in every respect. He said there was no evidence of liquor on the bus driver.

BUS DRIVER TESTIFIES

Earl Patrick McKenna, driver of the bus said he was travelling alone in the bus from Halifax to Charlottetown. He had arrived at Borden around 3.30 on the afternoon of the 14th. He said he was travelling around 40 miles per hour all the way down from Borden.

Shortly after he passed Clyde River Post Office, McKenna said he saw a vehicle proceeding slowly from a laneway on his right. The bus driver sounded his horn and the other vehicle which he saw to be a half ton truck heisted as if it were going to stop.

Approaching a little nearer, McKenna said the truck suddenly shot out in front of him. He applied the brakes and swerved to the left but was unable to avoid the collision.

Alex Scott Is Consultant Engineer On Trans Canada

The man who doesn't know the meaning of the word "quit" is Mr. Alex Scott, consultant engineer for the Provincial Government on the Trans Canada Highway project now being carried out between Cross Roads and Mount Albion.

After his retirement from the Canadian National Railway where he had a long service as Division Engineer, he was pressed into service as a consultant engineer on the Halifax Dartmouth Bridge and worked through to its completion last year.

During the construction of the bridge Mr. Scott supervised every operation from the bottom of the concrete caissons to the top of the towers on which the huge steel cables are strung.

Next he took on the job of overseeing the construction of a power plant at Wolfville, N.S. After this was completed a short time ago he had more or less decided to take things easy when a leg which had been broken the previous year began to bother him a bit.

However it was not in Mr. Scott's book to remain idle and when the Department of Highways was looking for a competent man who knows concrete, Chief Engineer, Gordon White immediately thought of the former Division Engineer.

When Mr. White phoned him to ask him to take the job, Mr. Scott's immediate answer was "sure. So when many men his age would be more than anxious to call it quits, the hardy Scotsman gives of his talents, happy in the knowledge that he can be of service to this Province where he has lived for so many years and which he has learned to love so well.

Report On Late Blight Conditions

"The progress of potato late blight in Prince Edward Island has been slowed by the drier atmospheric conditions that have prevailed during the past several days, states the weekly potato bulletin issued by the Science Service Laboratory. "However, it appears that a period of high humidity and showers is approaching as the bulletin is being written. If such conditions move into the region, then we may expect the disease to make further advances."

"In Nova Scotia, potato blight is present in the counties of Lunenburg, Kings, Cumberland and Colchester. The growers in Colchester County should pay particular attention to their spray programme for weather conditions there have been ideal for the development and spread of the disease."

"Aphid populations are building up and in some island fields considerable damage is being done. In Nova Scotia the population of the pest is much lower."

"The second brood of flea beetles is now emerging."

Religion is altruism translated into action, the necessary cement that binds all hearts together. This was taught by Christ and a new civilization was founded. Through the power of his teachings now we are beginning a new era."

"We believe a world civilization will harbor all mankind. This will be the promised kingdom of God on earth."

Stresses Need of Reviving Rural Family Life In P. E. I.

"The problems of re-ordering family life and reviving rural life are closely related — at least in Prince Edward Island — because everything about us is bound up with agriculture," declared Mr. Wilfrid Driscoll, in addressing the 34th annual provincial diocesan convention of the Catholic Women's League last evening. Mr. Driscoll, who was the chief speaker at the convention dinner at St. Dunstan's University last night, took for his subject the convention theme, "Participation in the Lay Apostolate."

"It is not possible to help others if our own spiritual life is flat, nor do we get the reward or have the effect we otherwise would if our motives are impure — a mixture of vanity and pride or personal ambition," Mr. Driscoll said. "We must be genuine and sincere about this — hence the emphasis on personal and interior reform."

"For all of our role as members of the Mystical Body is best fulfilled by performing well the duties of our state in life — whether as wife, nurse, office girl, mother, teacher, etc. For most of us, in one way or another — that reduces itself to the task of re-creating family life."

Mr. Driscoll said it is generally admitted that rural life offers better opportunities for the rearing and educating of a family, and for rebuilding family life.

"The vocation of agriculture more than any other makes for a more unified and permanent family life, and hence is a great help in assisting individuals to save their souls. Our own experience and the history of the Church tells us that there has always been a close connection between religion and life on the land. History points to the fact that when people desert the land and concentrate in cities and large industrial centres, there is a process of decay in society sets in."

"I therefore think that we should do something about the decline of rural life, the continuous closing of farms and the exodus of too many of our young people. Perhaps the most unfortunate aspect of it is that of those who do stay home, many are dissatisfied, waiting for the chance to get away, or for something else to turn up. This makes it more difficult to undertake constructive action."

RURAL NEEDS

"What can we do? Obviously it is not necessary for everyone to go back to the farm nor even for everyone there now to stay there. But all of us in our work should strive for conditions that will enable as many people as possible to lead a contented, dignified life on the land."

"A healthy rural community also needs priests, doctors, teachers, nurses, farm leaders, co-operatives organizers, and leaders in various other fields where it is still possible to serve rural people and improve rural life if they are so minded and so trained."

"Parents from rural parishes should lay more stress on the rich rewards of farm life for the future children — the closeness to nature, the beautiful thought that man is causing the earth to bring forth food for human life is participating in the creative process with His Creator — the measure of independence that has been traditionally associated with the farm."

"There are many things in the world of much more value than money — the farm is no place to get rich, but it has advantages that cannot be measured in dollars. We should revive the notion of thrift, and place more stress on the virtues of moderation — whether in pleasures or in the quest of material goods."

"I believe that a forward step in reviving rural life and a rural philosophy — with all that implies — would be to set aside a Sunday as a Rural Life Sunday, or perhaps a whole week as a Rural Life Week. Fathers could then take the opportunity of emphasizing the Material and Spiritual possibilities of the land. They might introduce more ceremonies in keeping with the theme, and in general use every means to impress on their parishioners the importance of rural life."

Diocesan Council Report, Catholic Women's League

The following review of the activities of the Provincial Diocesan Council, Catholic Women's League, for the year 1955-56, is from the report presented at the annual meeting yesterday by Mrs. Basil MacDonald, Provincial Diocesan Recording Secretary.

Spiritual: During the year, Masses numbering 215 were offered for the living and deceased members and relatives. 1,398 members make the First Friday and Saturday, and 395 members attend daily Mass. The daily Rosary is recited by approximately 75 per cent of our members. Practically all Sub-divisions help to keep churches and altars clean and attractive, and many members assist in the teaching of Catechism.

Education: The sum of $1,838.00 was reported by having been spent on Education during the year. $221.00 was donated as prizes at school and college closings, and $927.50 was given to the Catholic Girl's Scholarship Association. $55.00 was donated to the P.E.I. Music Festival Association.

The crusade for decent literature is well supported by the majority of Sub-divisions and several report having formed Vigilance Committees who, in some cases, have been instrumental in having salacious literature removed from the news-stands. Many books have been donated to school libraries.

Citizenship: All Sub-divisions report their members take an active part in every worthwhile community project and are represented on city welfare and civic boards. Consideration is given to laws passed in our Provincial Legislature and our entire membership urged to take advantage of the franchise. An active part is taken in all phases of Citizenship work.

65 members assisted with Red Social Welfare, Polo, Free Dispensary, TB, and Cancer Drive, sary, and Poppy Day Appeals. A large amount of sewing and knitting was done for Red Cross, and Remembrance Day and Citizenship Day are fittingly observed.

Free Sub-division reports showed 1,480 inches of space were utilized in our newspapers this year. 1,880 Catholic papers and magazines are coming to the members as well as 187 copies of the League magazine.

CONVENTION DINNER

Upwards of 150 members and guests were present at the convention dinner held in the College dining room at 6.00 p.m. presided over by Mrs. Basil MacDonald the President.

Guests included His Excellency Bishop MacEachern, His Excellency Bishop Nelligan, His Honour Lieutenant Governor Frowse and Mrs. Frowse, Councillor Edwin C. Johnstone representing the City and Mrs. Johnstone, Commander J. J. Conolly and Mrs. Conolly, Sir William MacMillan, Kt Commander of St. Gregory, and Mrs. MacMillan and Mr. John Eldon Green.

Speaking briefly Lieutenant Governor Frowse commended the C. W. L. for the splendid work they were doing throughout the Province. "You are a powerful influence for good" he said "Anyone who is not taking part in community work is missing a great deal. We owe a great deal to Divine Providence for the privilege of living in our community and I am grateful, on behalf of Mrs. Frowse and myself, for the courtesy extended to me being asked to be here tonight."

Bishop Nelligan expressed his delight at being present and meeting the members. He stressed the importance of the objective of the organization, "For God and Canada." He spoke of the position Canada holds in the eyes of the nations of the world and the increase in responsibilities which are rapidly growing, particularly with reference to British, American and Canadian understanding. "Unity and harmony exists between the two great nations which fought each other on the Plains of Abraham and who are now united in two great leaders, recognized as such by a United Canada," Bishop Nelligan said.

Bishop Nelligan, who was Senior R. C. Chaplain in World War II, retiring with the rank of Brigadier, is a native of Tignish. He is now on the teaching staff of Assumption College, Windsor, Ont.

Sir William MacMillan spoke in sincere appreciation of the work being done by women throughout the Province, particularly in connection with the two orphanages and also the splendid type of young girls entering the hospitals for training. "These have high qualities of womanhood which fit them for the work they are called upon to do," he said. Women must continue to do the good work now so necessary in a world of doubt, sorrow and misunderstanding.

Mr. John Eldon Green confirmed the desire of the Knights of Columbus to give their full support to any objectives of the C. W. L. possible. He congratulated them on what had been achieved and hoped they would continue to expand and meet with further success.

Following the address by Mr. Wilfred Driscoll, an appreciation on behalf of the organization was expressed by Mrs. Joseph MacDonald to the guests of church and
