

THE RACE WAR.

(St. John Sun.)

Premier Parent, of Quebec: with his provincial election on the same lines as those followed by Mr Tarte in the Federal elections. We see no reason to expect a different result. The conservative party in the province is smashed just as it was a dozen years ago when Mr. Mercier swept the province on the Rielite issue. The appeal was then made to the French speaking voters just as Mr. Tarte makes it now. They were told that Riel was hanged by the fanatical Orangemen who controlled the conservative party. They were called upon to punish the "insulters of our race," the fanatics, "the eaters of French" and "the hangmen." A few years later they learned that the leaders when they made the appeal had their hands deep in the public treasury, and were building great mansions for themselves, contributing twenty-five thousand and fifty dollars at a time to the hood's fund, and subsidizing with the people's money the orators and the press to keep the race feeling hot while the blunder went on.

When this became understood the people of Quebec acted well. They destroyed the provincial government and established an honest ministers.

But as soon as this as this exposure had become an old story the old incendiary appeal which had opened Mercier's way to the treasury a few years before was resumed on behalf of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It was the chief stock in trade of the Laurier party in 1896. It was their whole campaign in 1900. Assisted by a splendid election fund and by patronage it swept the province almost clear last week. There will be another fund and the same appeal next month.

For fifteen years this thing has been going on, systematically and thoroughly. There is no pause. It is a deliberate political propaganda carried out with scientific precision and with relentless determination. No conservative running in French constituency has been spared or can hope to escape, unless the people rise superior to this appeal to their sentiments and passions.

Let it not be supposed that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a narrow man or a jealous man. Mr. Tarte is altogether free from any feeling against the English people. So far as the leaders and managers are concerned there is an entire absence of prejudice. It is all political. Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Tarte have no passionate interest in the matter. But they see the political value of this appeal to the passions of their compatriots.

It is also a part of the game to represent that the conservatives in other provinces are making war on the French-Canadians. The premier, his colleagues, and the press know that this is not so. Mr. Tarte knows that Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster have gone to extreme lengths in order that the fullest measure of justice should be done to French-Canadians and to Roman Catholics. He and the premier know that the members of the late government rather than leave a minority complaining, construed the rights of that minority in a liberal manner, and that by so doing they weakened their position before the electorate. Yet Mr. Tarte has day after day, in his own press, and in his own speeches, represented Sir Charles and Mr. Foster to the people of Quebec as fanatical and intolerant anti-French leaders—determined to crush out the French population.

It is on this false appeal that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has obtained his great majority in his own province. The premier can at times use smooth and conciliatory words, but he knows exactly what has been done and why it was done. He knew beforehand that it would be done. He wished it to be done, and profits by it.

In saying this we make no attack on the French-Canadians. The best men among them say the same thing. With in the last five years the statements made here were made over and over again in the House of Commons by French Canadian members. There is no doubt in Quebec as to the issue which was at the front there. Mr. Casgrain does not hesitate to describe the canvass made against him. The campaign made through the press speaks for itself.

Three Negroes Lynched.

JEFFERSON, Tex., Nov. 19.—Three negroes who had been arrested by Sheriff Haywood for waylaying and attempting to kill Mr. Stallcup, were taken from the gaol by unknown persons and hanged to the railway bridge across Cypress bayou. The negroes had confessed. The mob overpowered the gaoler.
