RESULTS TELL HIGH PRICED PELTS

Read what Mr. Chester S. McLure has to say on this matter:— Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 3, 1922.

Manager, Imperial Biscuit Co., Ltd., Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Dear Sir: You have asked me on several occasions for my opinion with reference to the Imperial Biscuit that you are manufacturing.

Being a small shareholder in your Company, I perhaps have delayed writing you on that account. Ever since you began manufacturing the Imperial Biscuit, as a Fox breeder I have used your Biscuit in my own ranch and have found them an excellent article of fox food. For the past two years, since you have almost perfected this Biscuit, I have watched closely from a fur standpoint the ranchers that have been using this Cod Oil Biscuit, and the results are very noticeable indeed—one could almost tell from the skins that were brought to my office for sale where Imperial Biscuits had been fed. For instance, it is noticeable in the pelt of the animal that there was a luxuriant growth of fur, clear in color, and with that brilliant sheen or lustre, which goes to make a high grade pelt.

My advice would simply be that no fur farmer that anticipates successfully raising a good grade of fur can be without this superior food for his foxes; and I know that it is the intention of the manufacturers to endeavor to improve if possible and make a Biscuit that is a perfectly balanced ration.

For the sake of good furs, I trust that you will continue putting out to the people the information you have with regard to your Biscuit, and when they begin feeding them as the chief article of food we will then all know what a boon it will be to the good furs of this province.

Yours faithfully, W. CHESTER S. McLURE,

HELPING THE STARVING CHILDREN—A number of little girls of Prince Street School anxious to help the famine fund held a concert last Friday night and made quite a success of the affair, the programme being nicely arranged.

ISLANDER DIED—The death occurred on April 23rd, 1922, at the Sister's Hospital, Denver, Col., of William Lannan, formerly of Greenfield and brother of the late James Lannan, of Montague. The remains were laid to rest at Bona Vista, Col., beside those of his brother Edward, who predeceased him two years ago. One brother and one sister, viz: Thomas F., of Alhambra, Calif., and Mrs. Daniel Donovan, of Dartmouth, N. S., are left to mourn. Rest in peace.

Long Standing Asthma—Many have suffered so long from asthma and have tried so many so-called remedies they think that there is no real help for them. They should read the letters received by the manufacturers of D. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma remedy from hundreds of cases once as desperate as their own. Even in long neglected cases this famous preparation brings prompt help.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mrs. Herbert Buchanan, who died May 24th, 1920:

Dearest Maggie, thou hast left us, And thy loss we deeply feel, But its God who has bereaved us, Who can all our sorrows heal. —Inserted by Father and Mother.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Geo. Clark, who entered into rest, May 25th, 1921:

Think of us, dearest one, while o'er life's waters We seek the land, Missing thy voice, thy touch, and the true helping Of thy pure hand.

Till through the storm and tempest safely anchored, Just on the other side, We find thy dear face looking through death's shadows, Not changed but glorified. —Inserted by the family.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y. — "I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like." —Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N. Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

"Fool's Paradise" Is A Winner

Cecil B. De Mille's superb Paramount picture, "Fool's Paradise," is sure of doing a record business at the Prince Edward today and the Strand Thursday. It is a delightful creation and aside from its great heart appeal, there are many dramatic situations that thrill old and young alike. Dorothy Dalton, Mildred Harris, Conrad Nagel, Theodore Kosloff, John Davidson and Julia Faye, who have the leading roles, are highly artistic in their portrayals. "Fool's Paradise" surpasses all past efforts of Cecil B. De Mille, one of the greatest directors of the silent drama and is on a scale of magnificence never attempted before by this Director. You are carried from the Mexican border to Paris, Monte Carlo and the Orient. Altogether the production is a gorgeous one and has to be seen to be appreciated.

Prince Edward Island

Farm life—as an honorary member of the staff—is pleasant, too. There can be no healthier or happier time. One takes part in the usual farm jobs, so far as one is capable—plowing, sowing, looking for eggs, digging potatoes, pulling turnips, or taking the cattle to the brook to water at nightfall. There's an astonishing number of jobs to be done on a farm. It is famous, besides, for fresh milk, eggs, butter, fruit and vegetables—not to mention an abundance of fresh air. One pities the poor townsmen who must needs go to the grocer for his "strictly new-laid eggs"—what, by the way, is the difference between a new-laid egg and a strictly new-laid egg? who cannot get his potatoes, as we get them, with the damp earth upon them, who cannot eat a Baldwin or Yellow Transparent that he has just shaken from the tree and picked up on the ground. As for the hours that one just basks in the field—perched on the loose stone wall by the well; in the wood whose branches have hanging to them barley straw from a passing cart; in the pasture where the horses crop the grass among the daisies and the buttercups—these remain among one's most pleasant, and therefore permanent, memories.

An old gentleman from Boston, who makes an annual pilgrimage, said that to him one of the most delightful qualities in Prince Edward Island was the unspoiled and natural friendliness of the people. Hardly anyone passed him on the country roads without a pleasant greeting of some sort—"a great day," "fine weather for the crops," "looks like rain,"—some little good-hearted endeavor to make the stranger feel himself at home and among friends. Few who were driving would pass the pedestrian without saying "Going my way?" or some such thing, and offering him a lift. It was a charming quality, this native and unaffected courtesy; and he never remembered it but his heart warmed towards the little island. He was not alone. No one who has visited Prince Edward Island but must retain equally pleasant memories of kindness and courtesy shown to him on a walk by total strangers.

What are some of the little pictures that come up in the memory as one looks back on a stay of two months in Prince Edward Island? Red and sometimes grotesquely shaped cliffs aglow in the late sun-light; sand dunes on the north shore, held from blowing away by sandalgrass; the yellow stubble of a harvest field whitened with rye-ter-shells; a jolting cart by the river, with a whistling boy on the shaft, going to pick up kelp and seaweed; an apple tree in an orchard lit with red fruit; a maple tree in October, blood-red in every leaf; the white wire-netting of a fox ranch far off in the shelter of firwoods; cattle knee-deep in a brook; the jangle of a distant bell among alders and tall birches; a red sinking sun seen through a firwood. Memories enough to take away with one and to go and come upon during the years that follow.
