THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MARCH 25, 1889.

Sudden Death of a Merchant.

We announce to-day, with regret, the death of John McEachen, Esq., merchant, of this city. Mr. McEachen had been unwell for some time past, but was able to move about and attend to business as usual. Yesterday forenoon he was present at Mass in St. Dunstan's Cathedral, and after service took a short walk preparatory to returning to his residence. Just as he was entering his doorway, he felt himself suddenly growing weak, and fell. Kind hands came to his assistance, but too late to be of service. When Doctors Conroy and Kelly, who were hastily summoned, arrived on the scene, only his mortal part remained.

Mr. McEachen was born at Black Bush, Lot 44, on the 31st of August, 1828. In January, 1861, he married Anne Gillis, of this city, who bore him six children, three of whom—one daughter and two sons—are still living. One of the sons is practicing law in New York, and the other is engaged in business in this city.

During the thirty or more years that Mr. McEachen was engaged in business in Charlottetown he made many friends. Quiet and unassuming in his manner, and frank and honorable in his business relations, he was in every sense a good citizen. For a number of years he was a member of the Board of Firewardens, discharging his duties to the satisfaction of all. He was several times urged to enter political life, but his inclinations were not in that direction, and he always declined the honor.

Mr. McEachen was an honorary member of St. Vincent de Paul Society, and in his death the poor loved a good friend.

To his bereaved wife and family, THE EXAMINER extends its sympathy.

The Fire Yesterday.

BETWEEN four and five o'clock yesterday afternoon, the tank house of the P. E. I. R., near St. Peter's Road, was discovered to be on fire. Before any successful effort could be made to save it, however, it was burned to the ground.

Besides the machinery by which the pumps were worked, there were in the building the tools of the section men, and a velocipede-valued at about $30. The total loss is estimated at between $130 and $140.

The fire is supposed to have its origin from a patch of dry grass which had been set on fire by some children. The burning grass spread towards the building ignited the bottom shingles. The fire thus started spread so rapidly that in a short time the building was a mass of flames.

Why He Tired of the Paper.

The value of certain kinds of local news is well set forth in the following critical but badly spelled communication: "Dear Sir—I have by offer my resignation as a subscriber to your paper, it being a paper, it being a pamphlet of such small knousness as not to benefit my family by takin' it. What you need in your shete is branes and some one to russel up news and write eddytorials and live topics. No mention has been made in your shete of me bucherin' a poland china pig weighin' 339 pounds, or of the gaps in the chickens out this way. You steganously ignore the fact that the tater bugs an eatin' things up out here, and say nothin' 'bout H. Simpson's durham bull calf brekin' its legs fallin' down a well, or of grandma sipes havin' the sore legs. Two important weddin's here have been utterly ignored by your column, and a two koluma obituary writ by me on the death of grampa Henry was left out by your shete, to say nothin' of a alphabetical poem beginnin' with 'A is for Andy and also for Ark' writ by me darter. This is why your shete is unpoplar here. If you don't want any eddytorials from this place and ain't goin' to put in any news in your shete we don't want said shete."

Y. S.—If you print that obituary in your next issue I may sign again for your shete.

Odds and Ends.

Queen Victoria, it is said, "scorns to use an umbrella." She is the only woman living who has gone through such a long r—n without an umbrella.—Norristown Herald.

The Detroit Free Press makes this extract from the last issue of the Arizona Kicker, that lively type of border journalism:—

"EXPLANATORY.—Last week we announced that we were on the trail of J. B. Davis, the Apache avenue grocer, and that this week's issue would contain an expose calculated to startle the community. We had over a column of it in type when Mr. Davis called at the Kicker office and subscribed for the paper and gave us a column ad. for a year. Mr. Davis is not only a general, whole-souled gentleman, worthy of a place in our best society, but an enterprising, go-ahead citizen who is a credit to the whole State. When you want the best of goods at the lowest prices call on him."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA LETTER.

A Scene in the House.

RETREAT OF THE GRITS.

God Save the Queen.

I wish your reporter had been in the House last night to describe the scene which took place at the division upon Sir Richard Cartwright's amendment to go into Committee of supply. The debate upon the budget speech lasted just a fortnight, and as it was announced that it would close last night, the House was crowded. Mr. Davies spoke in the afternoon, and delivered himself very well. Paterson, of Brant, made a vigorous speech from the Opposition standpoint. Dickey, Sir Charles Tupper's successor in Cumberland, N. S., made a capital speech which won him great applause. About 1.30 this (Wednesday) morning the fiat went forth to call in the members when the electric bells went clattering in every corner. During the period which elapses before the whips return to the House from hunting up stragglers, it is customary to have a song, and this morning we had three of them. Jones, of Gaspe, led off with "Brigadier," every French member joining in the chorus as only Frenchmen can. I wish Professor Caven could have heard it. Lady Stanley and some others of the Governor-General's household were in the Speaker's gallery and thoroughly enjoyed the scene. Then Col. Prior, of Victoria, B. C., followed with the "Red, White and Blue," the chorus of which was also heartily rendered. Then Bechard (Opp.) gave the "Marseillaise"; he is a striking-looking man, with long, bushy, iron-grey hair, and moustache, and every feature of his face was brought into action as he sang in magnificent voice. After this the vote was taken—121 to 77, a majority of 44. Cheer after cheer resounded through the Chamber at the announcement, and then some of the juniors started "God Save the Queen," amid indignant cries of "Order, order" from the Opposition benches. At the suggestion of the Speaker, the singing was suspended until the House could go through the formality of adjournment, which would occupy about one minute. But this space of time was all too short for the Grits to vanose from the House. Helter-skelter, out they bustled while firm to their guns remained the Government. And then, when the solemn procession of Sergeant-at-Arms, Mace and Speaker had left the House, the glorious old National Anthem arose with greater enthusiasm, succeeded by cheer upon cheer from loyal Liberal-Conservatives. Where were the Grits during this scene? Out in the corridors getting into their hats and overcoats and straking for home as if the old boy was after them. Can you inform me, Mr. Editor, why the Grits left rather than join in "God save the Queen?"

The vote was the largest that has been recorded this session—199, including Speaker, and 14 members paired.

At the marriage of Lady Idina Nevill to Mr. Brassby, in England, the other day, the bridesmaids wore cricketer costumes, the colors being carnation pink, green and white. Their bouquets were of pink carnations and green orchids, tied with white ribbons.

Ex-King Milan of Servia arrived at Buda Pesth on Tuesday. He was accorded a warm reception by the court and official people, but in the large crowd who witnessed his arrival there was more curiosity than enthusiasm. The ex-king dined with the emperor on Tuesday night.

Advices from B. de Pesth state that Emperor Francis Joseph has lost flesh, and that his hair has turned white since the suicide of the Crown Prince Rudolph. He has frequent fits of terrible grief, especially after conferring with Rudolph's friends. The Emperor rarely eats, and she weeps for hours at a time. She is unable to sleep, and the doctors are puzzled.

AHEAD OF THE TIMES—Parnell.

THE STANLEY left Georgetown for Pictou at about eight o'clock this morning.

PRONOUQUÉ.—The Quebec Legislature was prorogued on Thursday last with the usual ceremony.

A gray beard on a man under 50 makes him look older than he is. The best dye to color brown or black is: Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers.

THE DEADLY HAIRPIN.—It is reported that a young woman named Tourgnau, living at Buckingham, Que., during sleep, drove a hairpin into her skull by some means, and in a few days death ensued.

NOT COMPETENT.—An Ottawa despatch says that the report of the board of civil service examiners states that a number of those who presented themselves at the last examination were wholly incompetent.

RECEPTION OF MEMBERS.—The right hand of fellowship was given last evening to six new members in the Second Methodist Church. One adult was baptized. The special services will be continued every evening during the present week. All are welcome.

ROBBING A MINISTER.—An exchange reports that some thief regardless of the sanctity of ministerial garments, stole $25 from the pockets of Rev. Mr. Wootton, at Lower Wentworth, N. S., after he had retired one night last week.

No medicine has had greater success in checking consumption, in its early stages than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops coughing, soothes the throat and lungs, and induces much needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

For purifying the blood, stimulating the appetite, and invigorating the system in the Spring and early Summer, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is unsurpassed. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla and no other, else the result may be anything but satisfactory.

Too RICH FOR HIS BLOOD.—Donald McDonald has returned to Chatham, N. B., after two or three years in Boston. He got the highest wages paid there to a carpenter, $2.75 a day, and Mr. McDonald earned $3 a week, but the cost of living took every cent. He says he has returned to Chatham to stay.

QUACK REMEDIES.—According to a recent despatch, the Venerable Archdeacon Bedford Jones, of Nanapan, Ont., in a sermon on St. Patrick's Day, styled prohibition and total abstinence quack remedies, and claimed that the grace of God should be relied upon rather than the legislation of parliament to suppress the liquor traffic.

MORE EVICTIONS IN IRELAND.—A number of tenants at Towanville, County Donegal, have been evicted from their holdings. It is probable that the evictions would have been resisted had not the authorities furnished a force of 300 policemen and troops to assist them. The crowd of tenants and their sympathizers were overawed by the display of force.

HAS TWO WIVES.—Two years ago a boot and shoe dealer on Notre Dame street, Montreal, married an American lady at St. Albans, and has been living in Montreal ever since. The woman discovered, a few days ago, that her husband was already married and preparing to leave for the States. She had him arrested on a capias for $5,000, when he settled matters by turning the estate over to wife No. 2, the latter paying all creditors.

YELLOW FEVER IN HALIFAX HARBOR.—The British warship Lily arrived at Halifax on Tuesday night last. A case of yellow fever broke out on board at Jamaica and it was decided to come to Halifax so that in the cooler climate there would be no fear of the fever spreading. The sailor attacked was isolated and on the way to Halifax improved, so that he is now convalescent, but will be removed to hospital till he thoroughly recovers. No other cases appeared among the crew. The ship had a yellow flag flying yesterday morning.—Chronicle.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. (April 1 '88)

JOHN L. ON THE SITUATION.—John L. Sullivan talked politics at Worcester, Mass., one day recently. He said he was sorry for Cleveland, because he resembled himself; both were big solid men and both had been knocked out by their former admirers. "There's Harrison," he went on, "he's nowhere's. Jim Blaine is president, and this whisker's, (Harrison) is only a figure-head. When Blaine says do this or do that it's got to be done. I would like to see Jimmy the president. He's been knocked out several times but is still in training. However, I don't like what he calls a vigorous foreign policy, which means getting lots of fellows to shoot each other and carry out some scheme of his own."

A CITY SINKING.—Eight chambers in the fourteen-foot vein and those directly above in the rock vein of the Central Colliery Company, Scranton, Pa., have caved in, and, at latest accounts, the crush was still in progress. The damage that may ensue cannot be determined, as the cave-in is almost under Washburn Street Presbyterian church, and the edifice is dangerously pitched out of plumb and the ceilings are giving way. The residence of the pastor, Rev. J. Stetson, and that of Superintendent Hughes are thrown askew by the crush, and so also are the homes of Helen Pulver and Wesley Lanning and others in the neighborhood. Much excitement prevails as the cave-in gives every evidence of extending.
