THE GREAT INVIGORATING TONIC.

CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE.

INVALUABLE in cases of Loss of Appetite, Weak or Painful Indigestion, Malaria, Lowness of Spirits, Fevers of all kinds, and as a general Strengthening of the System when weakened by changes of the season.

It is necessary to remember that there are many so-called Quinine Wines, but that the GREAT ORIGINAL is "Campbell's," and that the genuine bears our signature upon the label. The best proof of its value is the fact that its sale at the present time is larger than ever before.

The following certificate shows how CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE is appreciated. Having submitted two samples of Quinine Wine, imitations of the genuine, along with a sample of our own, to the Public Analyst, we received the following reply:

"CAMPBELL'S is the only genuine Quinine Wine of the three samples examined at Messrs. Kenneth Campbell & Co's. request."

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 11, 1891.

Notes and Comments.

—It was in a moment of weakness that the Liberal chiefs thought they could destroy the Conservative Government by a runaway swindler's testimony.

—The steamship State of Indiana made the last trip from Boston to Charlottetown in sixty-five hours, but this time includes a stop of nine hours at Halifax, and two hours at Hawkesbury. It is expected that the speed will be still further increased and the charge for passage to Boston is now reduced to five dollars.

—The Crown Prince of Greece is said to be quite an athlete, and though his build is more Teutonic than Hellenic—for he has the stature and dimensions of the Romanoffs and his German kin as well—he is not unworthy in physique and prowess to represent a people who have given the world its types of manly beauty and strength, and whose literature abounds in records of heroism.

—Speaking of railway mileage in Canada a contemporary makes the following comparison:

	Railway Mileage.
Canada	14,004
Austria-Hungary	15,270
France	20,000
Germany	25,450
Great Britain and Ireland	19,812
Turkish Empire	1,261
Italy	8,060

It will not be many years before Canada will have a greater railway mileage than any other country except the United States. In Canada we already stand first.

—One of the literary sensations of the year will be the autobiography of General Benjamin F. Butler, soon to be published. The object of the writer is to explain and defend his political and military career, and the book is certain to be full of piquant reading. The hero of Fort Fisher has informed an interviewer that his greatest regret is that he cannot hope to live long enough to reply to all the criticisms that will be made upon it. General Butler always was a good fighter with the pen, and his coming book will furnish a battle ground upon which many spirited contests will doubtless be fought.

—The Moncton Times remarks: "Under the government and a grit tariff in 1873, Canada's import of manufactured cotton goods amounted in value to upwards of seven millions of dollars, while our imports of raw cotton for manufacture in this country were only seven and a quarter million pounds. Under the Conservative Government and the National Policy in 1890, Canada's imports of manufactured cotton goods were of the value of less than four million dollars, while our imports of raw cotton had increased to $33 million pounds. Thus as a result of the Conservative tariff policy imports of manufactured cotton goods are reduced one-half, while the importation of raw cotton to be manufactured in this country has been increased more than four-fold."

—A North Dakota correspondent of the Huron Expositor, speaking of the movement of settlers from his state into Manitoba, asserts that the crops to the south of the boundary compare favorably with those to the north, but he adds: "Of course we must admit that Manitoba has a good deal lower taxes than we have at the present time, and I believe they have a better market for their stock." Lower taxes and a better market are great things in a farmer's favor. The Manitoba farmers knew what they were about in March when they sent four anti-commercial unionists to parliament out of the five representatives of the province elects.

—The Newfoundland trouble has been forced into the background by other questions, and nothing has been heard of late of the arbitration with France. This temporary quietude is explained in an answer of Sir James Fergusson, the Foreign Under-Secretary, to an inquiring mind in the Imperial House of Commons the other day, when he said:

"The actual state of the case is, that when the agreement for the Newfoundland arbitration was signed, both the English and French Governments reserved the approval of their respective Parliaments before the arrangement was put into execution. Her Majesty's Government have obtained the approval of the Imperial Parliament. The French Government have as yet only obtained the approval of their Senate, and have up to this time abstained from bringing the agreement before the Chamber of the Deputies. Her Majesty's Government are doing what is in their power to bring the negotiation to a speedy and satisfactory issue."

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE STATEMENT BELIEVED.—We have published at different times that we could furnish a piece of crockery or glassware to every man, woman and child on P. E. Island, as yet we have met, but one person who doubted this statement, but after going through our store and warehouse, he said it is all true. If there is another person who yet doubts our statement we wish him or her to call and look through our stock (without charge) and we believe they will be quite satisfied that our statement is correct.—W. Written For The Examiner.

"Shakespeare" to "Byron"—No. 3.

I.
Oh, gentle muse! thou ne'er wast known
To slight the meekest poet's cry;
Nor ever hast thou coldness shown
To those who would in truth apply
Their feeble talents to thy cause
In putting those impostors down,
Who strive to undermine thy laws
And gain unmerited renown.

II.
Thou spirit of immortal song!
Attend thy servants humble prayer,
Who would thy tuneful war prolong
To keep thine image pure and fair;
Behold, another light (?) appears
Who claims a lustre all his own;
Whose measures grate on poet's ears;
Who battles in his ranks alone.

III.
Not Byron this time, mark you well,
For he lies silent in the tomb;
(His race was short—his funeral knell
Has lately sounded through the gloom)
But "Byron" (in quotation marks,
With mien more modest—talents less,
Would fain instil immortal sparks
Through rhyme whose meaning none can guess.

IV.
Oh! Byron, Number Three, alas!
But grave offense I never give—
The honest braying of an ass
Shall long thy silly verse outlive;
'Tis known by all of common sense
Thou art of latest Byron's school,
And like him, with this difference:
Thou art, by far the greater fool.

V.
Give o'er thy senseless chattering
And heed the counsel of the wise;
Think not to mount upon the wing
Triumphant to the poets' skies,
For thou art plucked so very bare
That pigs may sooner hope to fly;
Thou breathe'st not the vital air
Of truth inspired poetry.

SHAKESPEARE.

St. John, N. B., Notes.

St. John is now probably one of the most brilliantly lighted cities in the Dominion (owing in a large measure to the interest created in electrical work by the Electric Exhibition recently held in that city) there being five of the finest central stations of electric light companies in the city running the Edison, Thomson-Houston, Fort Wayne and Brush Electric Light systems. The competition between these companies brings the light within the reach of the citizens generally, and very many of the property holders have, therefore, indulged very lavishly in electric light. In addition, the corporation of the city is now running electric lights of their own in the North End, Brush plant; and Messrs. D. W. Clark & Son are running the Brush system at the West End, and the New Brunswick Electric Light Co. (Fort Wayne system) have completed their arrangements for lighting the East End, and are giving splendid satisfaction.

The streets and sidewalks of St. John are being wonderfully improved, asphalt sidewalks being laid in all the main thoroughfares, while the grading of the streets and laying of block pavement from the International Steamship Co.'s landing to Indian-town, will not only modify the noise of the traffic on the streets, but make it a most delightful drive over this largely frequented thoroughfare, while the effects of the brilliantly lighted and beautifully decorated shop windows along the route, as well as the effect of the street lights, make it particularly attractive for an evening walk or drive.

The citizens of St. John are laying themselves out to make their "Canada's International Exhibition" of this year, an unprecedented success throughout the city. The directors of the new opera house are pressing the work on that building rapidly forward, and will have it in readiness for the Exhibition week, when it is expected that the general public will be surprised with the size, beauty and acoustic properties of the theatre also with the class of artists that will be engaged.

"Moosepath Driving Park" Association are preparing a very fine programme of races for their speeding course, and during the past year have expended a large amount of money in putting their "course" in the very best condition to attract the sporting fraternity. It is also understood that the "Neptune Rowing Club" propose to organize for Regatta in which there will be some novel features introduced. No doubt the Amateur Athletic Association and the Shamrock Club will utilize their splendid grounds for some interesting sports.

As to the Exhibition proper, it is gratifying to note that it is maintaining its International character, that in addition to the applications from the Maritime Provinces a number of former exhibitors have already applied for space, including a number from the United States, England, Germany and Italy. It is also anticipated that there will be a very comprehensive Spanish Exhibit. Some of the most attractive exhibits from Jamaica Exhibition are now among the applications for space.

For the cure of female weakness, suppressions, nervousness, bearing down pains and all those peculiar ailments that make woman's life almost unbearable, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an unfailing cure. They build up the blood, restore the nerves and bring a glow of health to sallow cheeks. All dealers, or by mail post paid on receipt of price (50 cents a box). Dr. Williams Med. Co., Brookville, Ont.

MANY prominent men are now being carried off by the ravages of la grippe. When we consider that by using Campbell's Quinine Wine as a preventative we can ward off the attacks of la grippe, we would advise you to purchase a bottle from your druggist.

Dyspepticure—Is not a palliative, but a cure; it first relieves, then controls, and finally entirely subdues the irritation and inflammation of the stomach that causes indigestion and dyspepsia.

Address and Reply.

To Mr. James A. McDonald.
Dear Teacher,—It is with sincere regret that we hear the intelligence that you are about to sever your connection with Blooming Point School, which you have so ably conducted during the last three years.

Words can but very inadequately express the regret we experience in losing such a successful teacher and worthy member of society as you have proved yourself to be.

We know that our loss is your gain, but we pray that wherever your future lot may be cast you will retain the brilliant reputation you achieved in our midst.

In conclusion, we beg to tender you the sincere affection we entertain towards you, while we earnestly implore our Heavenly Father to render your sojourn in this world rich in years, works and honors.

In behalf of the ratepayers of Blooming Point,

ALLAN JOS. McDONALD,
ROD'K J. McDOUGALD,
JOSEPH A. McDONALD,
ANDREW BRADLEY,
JOHN D. McDONALD.

June 30th, 1891.

REPLY.

To the Ratepayers of Blooming Point.

GENTLEMEN,—I can scarcely find words to thank you for your, I fear, too flattering address. If, during the three years I have been in charge of your school, the students have made satisfactory progress, I feel more than amply repaid for all my labors. I must confess that the progress the pupils have made was due, in a great measure, to the aid and encouragement they and I have received from the inhabitants of the district.

Rest assured, gentlemen, that in whatever vocation—in whatever quarter of the globe—my path in the future may lie, I will always remember with pleasure the years I spent in your midst.

Accept my heartfelt thanks for your kind wishes, and be assured that whatever may befall me in the future I will ever reserve one green spot in my heart and memory for my friends at Blooming Point.

Your affectionate friend and teacher,
JAMES A. McDONALD.
