Nikita Is In Playful Mood On Tour Of San Francisco

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev bounced around the San Francisco area on tour Monday, gaily pulling the unexpected, trading hats with a longshoreman and offering advice on crime control.

The Soviet premier's day-long travels, including a harbor boat trip and a journey 60 miles south to the San Jose computer plant of International Business Machines Corporation, led up to a civic dinner at which he was the principal speaker.

The Soviet premier's day-long travels, including a harbor boat trip and a journey 60 miles south to the San Jose computer plant of International Business Machines Corporation, led up to a civic dinner at which he was the principal speaker.

The shift-Khrushchev said 90 per cent of the cruisers are being junked—is no surprise. The West's naval leaders have been warning for years of the increasing strength of the Soviet submarine fleet.

But, said Khrushchev, we now are catching herring with our submarines. And that, said Russia's minister for cultural exchange, Georgi Zhukov, is no joke. Especially equipped submarines are searching under the surface for fish.

SNAPS AT REPORTER
The premier snapped at a Soviet correspondent who thought he had said Russia is building the world's biggest navy.

"I did not say that," he said. "I said that it would sound like some sort of threat."

Khrushchev talked about navies while cruising around San Francisco bay on a U.S. coast guard cutter. U.S. destroyers were flitting about just before he set out and an aircraft carrier with a swarm of planes on deck swept within a thousand yards or so of the premier.

The tour took him on a circle near the graceful arch of the Golden Gate bridge and the long, sweeping bay bridge — with a couple of close-ups of the federal prison on Alcatraz Island.

Khrushchev said that in a land such as Russia, with no private property, you won't have so many criminals.

He himself had thrown police into confusion. With disdain for the security precautions, flung around him, Khrushchev suddenly balked at "doing" a supermarket and said he was going to a longshoremen's hall.

He had been invited to come at 6 a.m. to watch the assignment of workers to jobs. The invitation was issued by Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, and Paul St. Sure head of the Pacific Maritime Association, an organization of ship-owners.

CAME TOO LATE
But by the time Khrushchev showed up, the job assigning was all over and only one man was on hand.

That didn't daunt the premier.

'Capital City Four' Highlights Services In Montrose Area

ALBERTON—Saturday was a memorable day on Montrose pastoral charge of the United Church of Canada. All three services of worship were enriched by the generous contribution of sacred song reverently and harmoniously presented by "The Capital City Four" of Fredericton, N. B.

Frank Pridham, who sings the bass, is a son of a Montrose congregation member. Other members of the quartet were making their first visit to this province. They are Harry Currie, Baritone; Therman Wistor, second tenor, and Jack Scott, first tenor.

At the W.M.S. Thankoffering service in Montrose Sunday morning the quartet sang "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" "Sweet Peace," and "Jesus, Rose of Sharon." Solist Jack Scott sang "His Eye Is On The Sparrow."

At regular afternoon worship in Elmedale their selections were "Give Me Thy Heart," "Calvary," and "Shall I Crucify My Saviour?" The solo was "How Great Thou Art."

In the evening, at Campbellton W.M.S. Thankoffering Service the quartet sang "Wonderful Peace" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Mr. Scott sang "The Stranger of Galilee."

The minister, Rev. Robert A. Crooks, based his message for the thankoffering on Luke 17:11-13 which records the story of how Jesus healed ten lepers and only one returned to give thanks.

He recalled the emphasis that was laid on thanksgiving by the Judaism of the Old Testament
