IN MEMORIAM

JENKINS—In loving memory of Mrs. Mary Florence Jenkins who passed away, two years ago December 17, 1955.

In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.

Lovingly remembered by son George, daughter-in-law Aretta, grandchildren Sadie, Ruby and David.

GRAHAM—In loving memory of our dear mother Mrs. Mary Graham who departed this life Dec. 15, 1947.
In a grave quietly sleeping
Where the green grass gently waves
Lies the one we loved so dearly
Looking back with memories
Along the path we trod
We bless the years we had with you,
And leave the rest with God.
Lovingly remembered by her son Frank and daughter, Mrs. Percy MacPherson.

COLES—In loving memory of our mother, who passed away Dec. 15, 1950.
Though her smile has gone forever
And her hand we cannot touch
We shall never lose sweet memories
Of the one we loved so much.
Lovingly remembered by Alice, Myrtle and Margaret.

U. S. Production Of Steel Down

CLEVELAND (AP) — The U.S ingot production rate slipped 2.5 per cent last week to 69 per cent of last Jan. 1 capacity—the lowest since October, 1954, Steel magazine said Sunday.

Holiday curtailments are expected to drop the rate still more before the month ends.

"But indications are that primary production is approaching balance with finishing mill operations, the weekly journal of metal-working reports.

Mill shipments of finished products totalled 6,550,690 net tons during October, compared with 7,930,957 tons in October of last year and the estimated total mill shipments for all of 1957 will be 81,300,000 tons, or about 2,000,000 under 1956, Steel said.

Steel said that among factors contributing to the present lag in steel demand are year-end inventory taxes, widespread use of minimum stockpiles, quick delivery by mills of most products, seasonal slackening in construction, and economic uncertainties arising from the international situation.

Rising Costs Snag Project

MONTREAL (CP) — Rising costs have snagged international aviation's plans for a new type of radio network across the North Atlantic, a Canadian government official said Wednesday. The project goes back into the discussion stage.

For air travellers, the development means continuation of delays in flights when airliners are out of communication with air traffic controllers because of radio blackouts. Aurora contributed to making the North Atlantic area one of the worst in the world for radio communication, it was said.

The project involved an agreement among 14 countries whose planes fly the North Atlantic and cost of the new network was to be shared. Canada, Britain, Iceland and Denmark were to have built it.

N. Y. Stock Market Makes Its Second Weekly Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined last week as industrial news remained generally depressing. It was the markets second straight weekly decline.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.20 to $157.30.

Stocks gave ground Monday and Tuesday in moderate selling prompted by a further drop in the steel operating rate and by reports of layoffs in the automotive industry and slow sales of new cars. The scheduled steel industry output sank to the lowest rate since 1954 for a non-strike period.

The result was a decline to new lows for the year by the outstanding producers in the steel and automobile fields.

RAIL STOCKS RALLY

Meanwhile, the badly battered railway section of the market was sinking Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, down to their lowest prices since 1954. From their highes of 1957 alone, the railways had suffered losses of close to 50 per cent.

On Thursday, however, the rails mounted an amazing rally, forcing ahead while the rest of the market milled irregularly. There was nothing in the news to prompt this vigorous recovery.

The verdict of Wall Street, however, was that the rails had been outrageously oversold and that their prospects for earnings and dividends were not nearly so bad as the stock quotations seemed to indicate.

OVER-ALL LOSSES CUT

The advance of the carriers continued Friday for a while but faded before the close. Meanwhile steels, oils and selected issues in other divisions did well enough to give the market another moderate gain and to cut the over-all losses for the week.

Among Canadian issues on the New York exchange, International Nickel dropped 2 to 73¾ and Hudson Bay dropped 2 to 47. Aluminium Ltd. was steady at 30¼, Canadian Pacific at 24⅝ and Dome Mines at 11.

Among Canadian issues on the American exchange, Shawinigan dropped 1 to 24 and Canadian Marconi dropped ¼ to 2¾ while Brazilian traction rose ½ to 7.

Molybdenite was steady at ⅞, Jupiter Oil dropped ¼ to 2 and Fargo dropped ⅛ to 5¼.

Reserve Ruling On Phone Rates

OTTAWA (CP) — The board of transport commissioners Thursday adjourned and reserved judgment on an application by the Bell Telephone Company for increased rates in Ontario and Quebec.

Chief commissioner C. D. Shepard said the board "will do its best to expedite a decision." Bell seeks rate increases that would add $24,200,000 annually to operating revenues.

Counsel John L. O'Brien for the company asked the board to authorize any new rates because the company's estimates for 1958 are based on the assumption that higher rates will go into effect Jan. 1.

In final argument Thursday, counsels Hollis Beckett for the township of Scarborough and Dawson McDonald for the city of Montreal, both asked that the application for rate boosts be turned down because the company has not shown it needs them.

W. S. Rogers, representing the township of North York, asked that the board examine carefully the evidence and grant only rate increases that are justified.

'Surprised By Dulles' View

OTTAWA (CP) — A Canadian diplomatic representative in Washington two years ago said Thursday he "was surprised" by the way in which U.S. Secretary of State Dulles objected to a Canadian proposal made at the time.

George Glazebrook, charge d'affaires in Washington at the time, made the statement when asked for comment on reports that he was "tongue lashed" by Dulles.

The question of Mr. Dulles' treatment of Canada's minister to the U.S., and of British and French ambassadors was raised Wednesday in Commons by A. B. MacDonald (CCF — Vancouver Kingsway).

WILL INVESTIGATE

External Affairs Minister Smith said he had not heard of it, but would investigate.

Mr. Glazebrook now heads the Commonwealth division of the external affairs department in Ottawa.

The incident had arisen when former health minister Martin, then leading the Canadian delegation to the United Nations, took the lead in proposing acceptance into the United Nations membership of 16 countries.

"Mr. Dulles called us in to inform us of his objections," Mr. Glazebrook said. "He made it very apparent he did not agree with us."

Musician Dies In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Arthur Henry Egerton, 66, considered one of Canada's outstanding music scholars, died Tuesday at his home in Hemmingford, Que., south of Montreal near the U.S. border.

He received his musical education in his native Montreal and as Strathcona scholar at the Royal College of Music, London.

In 1913 he was named organist at Christ Church Cathedral in Montreal and became known as a brilliant organist and choir director. He went to Winnipeg in 1921 where for five years he was organist, organizer and conductor of the Winnipeg Choral Orchestral Society, chairman of the Canadian College of Organists and examiner for the Manitoba department of education.

He was a fellow of the Royal College of Organists, honorary associate of the Royal College of Music and doctor of music at the University of Toronto.

In 1936 he was organist at Trinity Memorial Church and remained there until resigning Christ Church Cathedral at the end of the war. He went to Dominion Church in Ottawa in 1949 and remained there until 1954 when he went to First Baptist Church in Bathurst, N.B.

He retired in 1955 because of ill health and lived in Hemmingford.

Polish-Born Coal Dealer Starts Christmas Tree Sale

By DON HOYT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP)—Arthur Funt believes in giving from his heart at Christmas.

For almost 20 years, Christmas trees have caused the Polish-born coal dealer to make business almost a sideline during the Yuletide season while he concentrates on his own, unique brand of charity.

Since bombs rained on Britain during the dark days of 1940, Mr. Funt has bought Christmas trees with profits from his small business.

Each year, people and organizations are invited to call and ask for a tre. What they pay is up to them.

ACCEPTS DONATIONS

"I send the tree and accept a donation," Mr. Funt says. "If it's a poor family and they can't give me, well, that's charity, too. Sometimes I get 50 cents for a tree, sometimes $25 or $30."

His annual supply of trees — he sometimes buys 300 to distribute—usually cost between $75 and $100. Mr. Funt has no idea of the added cost for deliveries in his company truck or the stands made to hold the trees.

During the Second World War, donations for the trees went to the Queen's Canadian Fund for the relief of air raid victims. Mostly, the donations have been given to the Junior Red Cross and its crippled children's fund. Some years the donations went to the Red Cross and the Salvation Army. Last year, $150 was given to aid Hungarian refugees.

"I am a veteran from the First World War," Mr. Funt says. "I benefited a lot from the Red Cross."

PAYS FOR TREES

His main contribution, he says, is the cost of the trees. "That is my personal donation." The contributions from tree recipients are either given to him or sent direct to the Red Cross.

A Red Cross official said Thursday "Mr. Funt does a great deal of things for people, other than donate the Christmas trees—like helping immigrants." The spokesman declined to elaborate further.

So this year again Mr. Funt's trees will decorate homes, churches, schools, hospitals and business places in this area. Most of all, perhaps, Mr. Funt likes his trees to be accepted by the schools.

"I like to bring the kids in," he says. "They seem to like helping the crippled ones and they should know about helping others."
