

The Gladstone Circular.

Mr. Gladstone's circular to the members of the House of Commons desiring their attendance in Parliament for important business, says that business of the first importance will at once be proceeded with. The Daily News, in a leading editorial article, commenting on the circular, says it effectually disposes of the rumors which had again begun to circulate that Parliament would, after all, be summoned before Christmas, and of other rumors put forward, with a semblance of authority, that the government would be compelled in consequence of divisions among the Ministers to content itself with a declaratory resolution on Irish questions instead of proceeding by bill. The Daily News adds: "At the same time most persons will read Mr. Gladstone's circular with a distinct sense of relief. It is one thing to feel morally certain that the important business will be entered upon at once. It is another thing to be informed of the fact by the Prime Minister." The Standard says: "We understand that the government intend to propose, at an early period in the session, resolutions dealing with obstruction in Parliament."

An importer writes as follows to the Halifax Chronicle:-

The following extract from a letter of a Glasgow shipping house, received by Saturday's mail, speaks for itself:- "Enclosed find bill of lading of goods per 'Austrian' to Halifax, via Boston. We sent them this way to save freight, especially as the Messrs. Allan's assured us that, from their arrangements, there would be no detention. Please give us instructions for future shipments, as to how you should like them sent. Via Boston, the rate is 35s.; but we can ship direct from here, by Liverpool to Halifax, for 42s. 6d."

Mr. Frode's work on "The Oxford Revival and its Leaders" will first appear in the pages of Good Words. It is drawn up in the form of a series of letters to a friend, the first of which, dealing with "The Church of England Fifty Years Ago," will appear in the January number. Others will follow in successive numbers treating of "The Tractarians," "John Henry Newman," "Tract XC. and its consequences," "The Lives of the Saints," &c. The personal details and outspoken criticisms of these papers are certain to arouse much interest.

Mme. Christine Nilsson says that it amuses her to hear people in France speak of the dreadful habit that Americans have of conveying their food to their mouths with their knives. She says that she has been at table between a German prince and a diplomat who went through the same sleight of hand.

Ireland's peasantry were awarded a hearty expression of good will by Congress yesterday; but let them be thankful that they do not have to look to Congress by better laws. They could all starve while members were getting rid of superfluous talk.—N. Y. Herald

Gladstone loves books, pictures and old china. His tastes are aristocratic; his manners are so simple that they are called democratic.

Carlyle believes in a first and only love.

Edwin Arnold's new poem, "The Hlad of India," will be begun in the January number of the International Review.

Stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style. Buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of running after expensive and quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, and makes the proprietors rich, but put your trust in the greatest of all simple pure remedies, Hop Bitters that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see better times and good health. Try it once. Read of it in another column.

A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own household work for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."
