In soccer, the Men's Panthers continued their winless streak with a tie on Sunday Oct 17th versus the UNB Reds. The men scored on a last minute goal by Robbie Aiken, who was shifted from his position as full-back in order to further press on an impenetrable Reds defense that had defeated UPEI 2 weekends previous. The men, although determined to get their revenge, were unable to conquer UNB but in this game showed that they were capable of showing a lot of heart despite trailing in the second half in poor conditions.

The men are currently 4-2-3.

Heading into their next game versus Dal on the 30th of October, expect the men to press as they face a must-win situation if they hope to capture another title.

On the women's side, the Panthers continued their hot streak, defeating the Reds 2-0 in a triumphant shutout victory. After the first half ended scoreless, the Panthers' Janelle Blanchard and Meredith Cameron scored to seal the victory after the Panther defense held the Reds to a mere two shots on goal while managing twelve of their own.

The women, 7-1-2, sealed a playoff berth with the win, and play their final game of the season on the 30th against Dal.

After the women played to a 3-2 record at the UNB tournament, they were more than ready for the first league game against Memorial, which would unfortunately come to a close 3-2 loss. Panthers rookie Barb Vriends drilled 16 kills past the opposition and Rebecca Gallant collected 6 digs and 2 aces in the losing effort. .

The women played Memorial again on Sunday, however details were not available at press time.

The women's finish at the UNB tourney was their best ever, and they hope to shake off the loss when they play their next league game against Dal on Saturday, October 30th. Make sure to go and show your support for the Panthers!

Ashley MacDonald of the Women's Rugby Panthers recently earned the prestigious athlete of the week award in Atlantic University Sport, for the week ending Oct 17th. Having scored 10 points in a 15-11 Panther comeback win against St. FX, Ashley gave the women a shot at first place and a spot in the playoffs. It was a huge game for the rising star, a 1st year science student and rugby MVP from Charlottetown Rural, who currently sits third in league scoring with a whopping 26 points.

Her 10 points came by way of a penalty kick, a try, and a conversion.
