

Tiny Brain For Aircraft

MURRAY HILL, N.J. (AP)—In less than a year you can say its "brain" is a miniature electro-dynamic "brain" for aircraft—can do 300 additions or subtractions. Or 300 multiplications or divisions, if you prefer.

The "brain" was developed at the Bell telephone laboratories here.

Trade, short for transistor-digital-computer, is a computer that can operate flawlessly in planes flying at supersonic speed, its maker said.

It eliminates vacuum tube failure and heat, jet aircraft's greatest electronic problems, by the use of transistors instead of vacuum tubes. It contains nearly 800 of these tiny, solid devices and is believed to be the first all-transistor computer designed for aircraft.

Trade needs only as much electric power as that used by an ordinary light bulb less than 100 watts.

PARENTS VISIT TRACADIE CROSS SCHOOL

Parents and friends took advantage of the invitation extended by the teachers at the Home and School meeting on March 7th, and visited the school during classes on Thursday afternoon.

The visitors showed great interest in the attractive display of writing, composition, paintings and posters in the various classrooms. Classes were conducted in arithmetic, geography, phonics, and reading. A dramatization, "Belling the Cat," by Grade Three was enjoyed by all. A number of pupils participated in a Spelling Match and several gave brief oral biographies of historical characters. Mary Fiske was highly commended for speaking on "Why I Want To Be A Teacher."

Mr. Gordon M. Rice, Supervisor of Schools, was present and expressed his pleasure at seeing such a large attendance of rate-payers present. He also complimented the people on improvements made during the past few years in school property and made suggestions for further improvements.

Mrs. Basil MacDonald then spoke words of commendation in which she made special mention of a Geography demonstration. Various other ladies and gentlemen also expressed their appreciation of the work of the pupils and teachers.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Husband and Father, H. Wesley MacKenzie who passed away March 15th, 1947.

I think of him in silence. His name I often call. There's nothing left to answer. But his picture on the wall.

Lovingly Remembered by Wife Bessie and Family.

In loving memory of my dear Father, H. Wesley MacKenzie, who passed away March 15th, 1947.

Nothing can ever take away The love a heart holds dear. Fond memories linger every day. Remembrance keeps him near.

Lovingly Remembered by Daughter Mildred, Mrs. Claude Delaney and Granddaughter Bessie.

In loving memory of Maynard W. Sanderson, who passed away March 16th, 1953.

Always a smile, never a frown. Always a hand, when someone was down. There wasn't a thing too big or too small. That he wouldn't try to do for us all. Treasures and memories are all we have left. Of a husband and father we loved and will never forget.

Lovingly Remembered by Wife and Daughter.

In loving memory of our dear Husband and Dad, Angus MacEachern, Rocky Point, P. E. I., who passed away March 15th, 1950.

Those whom we love go out of sight. But never out of mind. They are cherished in the hearts Of those they leave behind.

Sadly Missed and Fondly Remembered by Wife and Family.

In loving memory of Ernest M. Currie, Rocky Point, who passed away March 15th, 1948.

Love and remembrance is a link death cannot sever.

Always Remembered by his Wife, Louise and Family.

Parliamentarians Having Busy Time This Session

OTTAWA (CP) — Members of Parliament cannot be accused of taking life easy at the present session.

In fact, they are liable to go down in the records of the Commons as the busiest law makers of recent years.

The duties of members include attending sessions of the Commons and participating in the work of committees which consider many types of proposed legislation and various government policies.

Nine committees now are meeting, some two or three times a week. At least another six, and perhaps more, will be set up before prorogation. They now are meeting morning and afternoon and soon will start meeting at night.

MOST ACTIVE

The most active committee so far this session is a special one established to consider the estimates of the departments of citizenship and immigration, veterans affairs, northern affairs and finance. It has met 11 times.

The special Commons - Senate committee on capital and corporal punishment and lotteries has held 11 sittings and has reported its complete work until sometime in May. This committee also met last session.

The standing committee on external affairs has met five times to consider legislation lightening federal control on international rivers. It also will meet later to consider the government's foreign policy.

A special committee on veterans affairs has held two sessions to discuss government legislation to increase war veterans allowances. This committee will consider other legislation affecting war veterans.

Possible amendments to the Canada Elections Act have been debated at two meetings of the committee on privileges and elections. If time permits, it may also get around to the question of redistribution.

EXPECT CONTROVERSY

A special committee has been established to consider the government's radio and television policies. It is slated to meet shortly and probably will result in some of the most heated controversy of the session.

During debate in the Commons to establish the committee, the opposition served notice that it would conduct a searching inquiry into operations of the CBC. Private broadcasters will have an opportunity to make representations.

Trade Minister Howe told the Commons a few weeks ago the government plans to ask that a committee be created to study the operations of the government's chief research agencies. They are Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., which operates the Chalk River, Ont., atomic energy project, and the National Research Council.

The throne speech, delivered at the opening of the session, also said a special committee will consider operations of the federal district commission, responsible for development of the national capital plan for Ottawa and district.

The standing committee on railways, canals and telegraph lines will give detailed consideration to 10 bills now before the Commons. The railways and shipping committee will consider the annual reports of the board of grain and Canada Airlines.

SENATE BUSY

Amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act likely will be considered by the industrial-relations committee. In addition, the annual report of the board of grain commissioners may be studied by the agriculture committee.

The Senate also has set up two important committees. They will consider the illegal use of narcotics and aspects of the government's spending program for the 1955-56 fiscal year.

Although Pakistan is a New Nation in an old land, strange customs and laws still exist.

Here's one that will stump you. If a married girl over 10 years old is seen talking to any man other than her husband or a blood relative, both are killed instantly. There is no penalty. It is a custom carried down from early times.

Wives are still bought like cattle. A man of marriageable age selects his wife of eight or ten, and bargains with her father as to her worth. Those who are too poor to pay for their wives must give their first born child to the grandfather for subsequent sale.

Murder may still be punished by imposing fines up to one hundred dollars. Blood feuds are recognized.

Farmers believe that the soil needs sleep, so they let parts of their farms lie fallow every other year.

The whip ray, a batlike winged fish of the tropics feeds on clams and oysters, cracking their shells with crushers in their mouths and expelling the fragments like a child spitting apple seeds. Some species carry poisonous barbs on their tails, using them with deadly accuracy against all enemies.

Did you know there is a guitar fish, a bass fish, a cornet fish, and a drum fish? The makings of an orchestra if they could be assembled at one place to chant their weird music.

In Memoriam

The death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Wilbur Trainer, West Royalty, on February 10th of Mrs. Bernard P. Murphy, widow of the late Bernard P. Murphy of Conway, in her eighty-ninth year. The late Mrs. Murphy was born at Hope River, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Greenan.

She received her early education at Hope River School and later entered Prince of Wales College. After receiving her license as a teacher she taught in several schools throughout the island.

The late Mrs. Murphy was a kind and loving neighbor, and was always ready and willing to lend a helping hand to those in trouble. Although in failing health for the past years she still kept a keen interest in community affairs. In her young life she had served on the executive of the Women's Institute and Catholic Women's League in her community.

The funeral was held from the home of her son, John J. Murphy, Conway, on Monday morning, February 14th at 10:00 o'clock to St. Bridget's Church. Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. David McTague, assisted by Rev. M. J. Rooney of Bloomfield as deacon and Rev. Leonard McDonald of Wellington as sub-deacon. Rev. Pius Murnaghan of Grand River was Master of Ceremonies.

She leaves to mourn her passing two sons and three daughters: Mrs. J. Wilbur Trainer, West Royalty, Mrs. Lucius O. Kelly, Charlottetown, Miss Lulu Murphy, Wellington, John J. Murphy, Conway and Ignatius B. Murphy, Charlottetown. One daughter, Sister Mary Bernard, predeceased her a few years ago. A sister, Mrs. Frank McNally of Superior, Wisconsin, also survives.

The pall bearers were Wallace Morrison, Erland Ramsay, Clarence Murphy, George Thompson, Oswald Murphy and Joseph Bulger.
