MOUNT ALLISON.

The Closing Exercises.

NAMES OF THE GRADUATES.

(Special Correspondence of The Examiner.)

SACKVILLE, N. B., May 29.

Yesterday morning, notwithstanding the unpleasant state of the weather, Lingley Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity by visitors and citizens to witness the closing exercises of the Ladies' College. The graduates in Arts for the degree of M. L. A., were Miss M. Black, Miss M. E. Cann, Miss Ada Bager and Miss Lillie Lathern. Graduates in Music, Miss Minnie B. Hall and Miss Emma Shenton. Graduate in Fine Arts, Miss L. Hart. The programme of the exercises was interesting throughout. Perhaps the most pleasing literary features were the Valedictory Address by Miss Lillie Lathern, of Halifax, and the prize essay on "Flower Lore," by Miss E. Shenton. Miss Mabel Cann also read a selection from a very admirable paper—subject, "Our Hoods." She treated the subject under three divisions: childhood, maidenhood and womanhood, the last the audience had the privilege of listening. The true sphere of woman, said Miss Cann, is that of the "home-maker."

Principal Borden, in his report, stated that the attendance was in advance of last year, 148 being enrolled, while the average attendance was 86 resident boarders, and 17 day scholars. Type-writing and shorthand has been taught during the past year with great success. The following is the prize list:—1st Prize for Oil Painting, won by Miss L. Hart ($25); 1st prize Crayon, given by the late Mrs. L. A. Wilmot, Miss J. Fraser; Mathematical Scholarship, Lily Palmer; Natural Science Scholarship, won by Myrtle Whitman; Prize Essay, Miss Emma Shenton; prize for general average, Miss Edith Smith, Halifax; 2nd do., Lizzie Redmond; 1st Rhetoric and English Literature, won by Miss Nellie Moore; Geometry, 1st, Laura Cameron; History, Katie Higgins, Charlottetown; Grammar, 1st Miss Tilley, Newfoundland; Eloquence Prize, Ida Milbury; highest average in compositions, Lena Churchill.

On Tuesday evening addresses were delivered by Alexander Anderson, L. L. D., Prince of Wales College, and Miss S. E. Smith, St. John, before the Alumni and Alumnae Societies, after which visitors, citizens and students repaired to Memorial Hall, where all partook of the delicious viands prepared by the committee.

In the afternoon the gymnastic class, under Mr. Sheffield, gave a splendid exhibition. The dumbbell exercise, work on the parallel bars (high and low), and the tumbling was excellent. The single stick contest between Mr. Arthur Mellish of the Engineers and Mr. Fred Markham of the Cavalry was very exciting. Mr. Mellish: at one time breaking his sword in a futile attempt to break down Mr. Markham's guard. When time was called it was found that both had an equal number of points. In a tug of war, Mr. Mellish won two to one from Mr. Markham. W. B. McCoy, of Halifax, won the gold medal, and R. W. Crowe the silver. J. B. Gough, of P. E. Island, also did good work and won a prize, but had to retire early.

The prizes were distributed by the Rev. Father Cormier, of St. Joseph's College, Memramcook.

At nine o'clock on Wednesday morning Lingley Hall was crowded to witness the University Convocation.

The following programme was well carried out, consisting of addresses, etc.:—

Organ solo.....Miss N. Churchill
Salutatory address (Latin).....Wm. Ayers, P.E.I.
A Revolutizing Discovery.....
Vocal Solo.....S. W. Prowse, P. E. I.
Hereditary.....H. A. Sheffield
Piano Duet.....Misses A. Moore and M. Black
A Plea for Purity of Politics.....A. Wilson
Vocal Solo.....P. C. L. Harris
Metaphysical Dreams and Valedictory
Vocal Duet.....Miss A. Mock and P. C. L. Harris
Conferring degrees, reports, etc.....

Mr. Ayer's Latin oration was loudly applauded when he referred, in flattering terms, to the young ladies of the Ladies College.

Mr. Prowse spoke of the revolution about to be accomplished through the introduction of a cheap method of extracting aluminium from the soil. He sketched in vivid language the scene of a few years hence when people would ride in aluminium carriages, would eat with aluminium knives, ever free from rust, and live in aluminium houses. As the bronze age followed the stone, and the iron the bronze, so the age of the white metal, aluminium would follow that of the iron, after which we might expect the new Jerusalem, with streets of pure gold and walls of Jasper. He was loudly applauded when he took his seat.

Mr. Sheffield next followed on heredity. He pointed out that it has been claimed that in proportion as certain limbs are used or not used so they develop or fall away. Primal man did not use his tail, so his tail gradually disappeared, yet the rudiments of that tail are yet to be found in the continuation of the spinal column. Apes that lived ages ago found their tails very useful and by continual use they have at length come in possession of a fifth hand. Mr. Sheffield's address abounded in happy strokes and was well received.

Mr. Wilson traced in graphic language the growth of our nation from the time of the freedom loving Anglo-Saxons to the present. He attacked Annexationists and referred in a telling manner to the lonely graves in the Northwest of Canada's soldier boys. His outburst of patriotism struck a chord of sympathy in the hearts of all present and drew forth tremendous applause.

Mr. Levi Curtis handled the abstruse subject of Metaphysical Dreams in an able and intelligent manner. He pointed out the absurdities that Kent and other philosophers have been led into by following Reason and rejecting the evidences of the Senses.

His valedictory, that followed, was one of the finest the writer ever heard. He compared college life to an eddy in a stream in which one is swept round several times and is then carried off in the rush of the current. He took farewell of the President, the faculty and his fellow-students from both institutions, Ladies college and University, in most affecting and eloquent language. Mr. Levi Curtis is destined to shine in his chosen profession the ministry.

Degrees were then conferred. Dr. Inch alluded to the large number graduating—17 B. A., 1 M. A. He expressed great sorrow in parting with many whose association had grown so dear to him.

The following is the list of graduates:—

Judge Burbridge, Dr. Weldon, M. P., and the Principal of the Normal School of Nova Scotia, then addressed the audience.

After singing "God Save the Queen," the audience dispersed, all delighted with the fact that they had not missed one of the most interesting convocations ever held at Mount Allison.

The Parnell Commission.

MAURICE HEALY, M. P., AND JOSEPH BIGGAR, M. P., ON THE WITNESS STAND.

Maurice Healy, M. P. for Cork, was a witness before the Parnell Commission on the 29th. He admitted that the Cork branch of the league had received applications from other branches for lists of merchants who were members of the league in order that other merchants might be boycotted. Healy held it was legitimate to place such pressure upon shopkeepers.

John Biggar, member for West Cavan, testified that he had been a member of the Supreme Council of the Fenian Brotherhood, but had been expelled in 1877 for advocating constitutional action. He joined the Land League in 1879. He declared that the meaning of a speech he made at Cork in the spring of 1880, in which he referred to anarchist Hartman as having imitators in Ireland, had been misunderstood. As a fact, he had only warned the supporters of Whigg and his candidate that the disgust of the people was likely to result in the use of dynamite. In a subsequent speech at Castle-town, he had advised the people to take care that the land they occupied should be of no value to land grabbers. He had further said it was no part of the league's duty to recommend the shooting of landlords, but that it was its duty to defend anybody charged with shooting landlords or their agents. He had said this because no confidence was placed in the administration of the law, and he had held that the league ought to protect prisoners whose crimes were the outcome of bad laws. He and Patrick Egan were trustees of the funds of the league. He could not associate Egan or Sheridan with outrages. Biggar said he had contributed nothing to the Fenian fund. His object in joining the brotherhood was to obtain its assistance in parliamentary elections. Sir Henry James, for the Times, cross-examined Biggar. The witness said he never took part in the work of the league's treasury. He did not know where the record of money dealings of the league were kept, nor did he even know why he had been associated with Egan as treasurer. All the important books of the league had been removed to England. They were very bulky. He did not know that any books had been destroyed. He had not the slightest notion of what had become of the missing documents.

The best and surest dye to color the beard brown or black, as may be desired, is Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers. It never fails.

CHANGED.—From and after to-morrow, June 1st, the business of the Intercolonial Express Company will be merged with the Canadian Express Company. The management in this city will be continued as formerly.

The entering wedge of a complaint that may prove fatal is often a slight cold, which a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral might have cured at the commencement. It would be well, therefore to keep this remedy within reach at all times.

AFTER DAMAGES.—The Halifax Herald says that Mr. Gerrard, the owner of the craft which was run down and sunk off Spry Harbor by the steamer William, has retained John T. Ross to take legal proceedings against the owners of the steamer. The amount claimed for actual damage done is $500.

AN EARLY SEASON.—The Yarmouth Times says: Mr. and Mrs. George Morrow gathered a few ripe strawberries at Quinan on the 14th of May. This shows the season to be about two months earlier than usual. The Yarmouth Times says: Ripe strawberries have been brought us from all directions during the past few days. The cherries are, in some instances, nearly half grown, and from present appearances there will be an abundant crop.

ACCIDENT.—The Halifax Herald says: Daniel Pitts, the ship chandler, met with a very serious accident the other day while superintending some carpenter work in connection with his barn, in the rear of his residence on Artillery Place. A large rusty nail entered his foot. Dr. Cowie was summoned, who succeeded in extracting the nail, which had gone in its full length. Mr. Pitts was able to move around a little yesterday with the assistance of a stick.

FOR BOSTON.—The steamer Worcester, Capt. Nickerson, sailed for Boston last evening with a cargo made up of 350 cases lobsters, 377 bags potatoes, 2029 cases eggs and sundry other merchandise. Her passenger list was as follows: Joseph McNeill, Miss Smith, F. Whitlock, Mrs. Whitlock, J. A. Simmons, W. O. Hall, R. B. McDougal, Mr. McConnell, Miss McDonald, M. J. McLeod, Miss Walsh, E. Gordon and Miss Louise Campbell.
