

The Heirs of Mary Stuart.

On Saturday last, at the "Court," I noticed the Prince of Wales studying English History, as read through the imaginative spectacles of Schiller and Hon. Lewis Wingfield. Closely, critically, and enthusiastically, the Prince watched the curious page of our English life that was unfolded before him, and I wonder if this curious thought struck him when he went round for his wonted entr'acte cigarette—that of Henry VIII. and Elizabeth not one descendant is alive, and that he himself is the eleventh in direct descent from poor, much-abused Marie Stuart! Nay, more, through the marriage with Frederick of Prussia the Princess of Wales has also some Stuart blood in her veins, and if you think it out you will find that, with the exception of Turkey, every reigning royal family in Europe can be traced to the stock of the beautiful woman who was beheaded in Fotheringay something over three centuries ago. What a curious freak of history it was that brought the descendants of Sophia and the "Beautiful Queen of Bohemia" to reign in England when the elder line was exhausted!—London Pan.

Absence of Mind.

"Speaking of absence of mind," said the Rev. Sidney Smith, "the oddest instance happened to me once in forgetting my name. I knocked at a door in London, and asked if Mrs. — was at home. 'Yes, sir; pray what name shall I say?' I looked in the man's face astonished. What name? Aye, that is the question—what is my name? I believe that the man thought me mad, but it is true that during the space of two or three minutes I had no more idea of who I was than if I had never existed. I did not know whether I was a dissenter or a layman; I felt as dull as Sternhold or Jenkins. At last, to my grief, it flashed across my mind that I was Sidney Smith. I heard also of a clergyman, who went jogging along on a road until he came to a turpentine. 'What is to pay?' he asked. 'Pay, sir? for what?' asked the turnpike man. 'Why, for my horse, to be sure.' 'Your horse, sir? what horse?' There is no horse, sir! 'No horse? God bless me!' said he, suddenly looking down between his legs. 'I thought I was on horseback.'

Earnest temperance men in the United States are beginning to realize the futility of the attempt to make men sober by legislation, and in several quarters a strong feeling has been expressed in favor of resorting to the old method of moral suasion, which has been largely neglected of late for unprofitable political work. A new temperance movement has been started in Boston, the object of which is to promote the growth of temperance sentiment, ignoring altogether the vexed question of prohibition. Governor Long presided at the opening meeting last week, and expressed himself as heartily in favor of the object in view. The new departure is calculated to win support in quarters where the persistent and unreasoning clamour for legislative prohibition would only have roused opposition.—Toronto Mail.

Mr. Jesse Sparrow, one of the English farmers who visited the Dominion as delegates on the invitation of the Canadian Government, has written a long letter, which has been published in the Bristol Mercury, in which, after going largely into detail on the subject of Canadian farming, he says:—"Canada is far beyond my expectations in many respects, with so beautiful an atmosphere and rich soil; the people are very courteous and refined in their conversation and manners, the result of good education. I should think they have the best and cheapest schools in the world." He is of the opinion that there was never a better time than the present for the British farmer to come over here and purchase farms.

No surer sign of confidence in Canada's future could be found than that afforded by the remarkable number of railway enterprises now entered upon by capitalists.

Remedy for Hard Times.

Stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style. Buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of running after expensive and quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, and makes the proprietors rich, but puts your trust in the greatest of all simple pure remedies, Hop Bitters that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see better times and good health. Try it once. Read of it in another column.

A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."
