

Banton Collier Takes Over As Head Coach of Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Banton Collier took Wednesday as head football coach of Cleveland Browns and quickly made a major change from the Paul Brown regime: "The players won't come in from the bench. "Pro football is much too complicated for any one player or coach to call all the signals," the 65-year-old Kentuckian told a crowded news conference. "Basically, I plan to have the quarterback play the plays."

MacKenzie Cop Opening Matches

MacKenzies from Summerside playing inspired volleyball took an early lead in the Island Senior League at the Charlottetown YMCA on Tuesday evening, sweeping two straight over the Charlottetown, the Micmas and the All-Stars.

In the opening set of matches the Micmas started strong dumping the All-Stars 15-1, only to have the Stars turn around and win the next two straight 15-2 and 15-0. All-Stars then ran into a stumbling block in MacKenzies who defeated them 15-2 and 15-0.

Eagles Playing Royals Tonight

RCAP Eagles visit the Sports Arena tonight for an Island Senior Hockey League battle with the league-leading Parkdale Royals.

The Almen held the Prince County Combines to a tie in their last meeting at Civic Stadium and last Sunday at the ice hang hung a 6-1 defeat on the Penguins. Right now the Eagles look like a smart outfit and they should cause the Royals a few leaders plenty of trouble tonight.

The Team Is Named

THE selections for any all-star team never met with everybody's approval and we guess they never will. This was the case when the "first half" selections were made public Tuesday for the National Hockey League season.

Nobody could ever accuse us of holding too loud for Montreal Canadiens, nevertheless we aren't biased enough to over-planters. These past few weeks they are showing that to the fans and we would like to see them continue right through until the season's end.

WE read Elmer Ferguson's column as we travelled from Montreal to the Maritimes Tuesday and he made his selections, not knowing what the experts were going to release for Tuesday afternoon's papers. Ferguson was included in the column of the writers that picked the all-stars.

The former Maritimer Ferguson was born right here in Charlottetown. He was in perfect agreement with the team named Tuesday but he had Jacques Plante in there between the pipes. Even though we are in the Maritimes, we would not fault a fellow with Elmer's selection of Plante. In fact, we figured the job was Plante's by a landslide and didn't even consider anyone else having a chance. Peter had Plante, Brewer, Mahovich, Mikita and Howe to round out his team.

Plante Is Overlooked

NOW the experts placed Chicago's Glenn Hall in the nets for the first team. Now Hall has proved he is a great netminder but his work this season doesn't rate him over Plante. Jacques is leading in the Veinina trophy race and has played outstanding goal for the Hab's throughout the first half of the campaign. Yet, the acrobatic Plante didn't even land on the second squad.

Just what Jacques Plante must do to grab all-star rating is something we don't know. We are sure that he is wondering the same thing himself. Frank Selke rates Plante as the most outstanding goalie who ever came under him. And the same Mr. Selke has seen a lot of them.

AT any rate, Plante didn't get $50 for making the first team in the first half, nor did he even get the consolation prize of $250. The selectors robbed an artist-golfer of a nice day's pay.

"I'm not really a kook"

You can't roller-skate through New York, even if it's the best way to get around. You shouldn't really fly a kite from your balcony, even if there's a good wind. Not even if you're as well known and lovably wacky as Carol Burnett, who, although she calls herself "funny-looking", is really a very serious girl, aiming for bigger and better things.

Weekend Magazine tells about her, seriously and humorously, this week.

SPORT ECHOES

Subject Is Curling

The subject of our discourse today is curling. Remember that? As Duesley of the Summerside Curling Club has taken on a new look, you may be forced to add a new chapter to the history of the club as being run in a way exceeding in business-like administration anything hitherto attempted. Eric Johnson is the new president, and Eric can throw a hot one at a bar-

Large Number Teenagers

A large number of the new members are still teenagers, and they are showing a great deal of enthusiasm for the game in which, to knock one of the old dependable pros into a cocked hat, a new broom does not sweep as clean as an old experienced one. They were cleaner and can make a report like a pistol shot which we are working on but without any success as yet.

Consols Is Highlight

The British Consols, the highlight of the curling season, will be held in Summerside the 11. and Summerside will be trying to end a long "also ran" drought that has plagued them ever since the new curling rink with its artificial ice was built last year. The Summerside team will be represented by P.E.I. in the Macdonald Brier was the last year of the old curling rink was a real loss. So we have our fingers crossed, and are hoping Summerside will bring home the long-sought for bacon this winter.

BRUINS EDGE AWKWARD 3-4; FORBIE ASSISTS ON TWO

AND Mr. Bathgate

Bathgate has been Andy Bathgate due to warrant recognition, on that first game. Bathgate was needed by a season for himself, leading in the Veinina trophy race and has played outstanding goal for the Hab's throughout the first half of the campaign. Yet, the acrobatic Plante didn't even land on the second squad.

Violates Contract

The admission, the newspaper continued, places Karras in violation of his contract with the NHL which allows the commission to fine and suspend for life or indefinitely, and/or to cancel the contract of a player who has been found guilty of a crime. Rozelle refused to say whether he had ordered the Detroit Red Wings to appear before him.
