Quebec Province In Midst Of Growing Building Boom

MONTREAL (CP) — Many tourists visit Montreal to see its old churches and other history-steeped buildings nestled among narrow 200-year-old streets. But to get to them they almost inevitably have to pass under the shadow of 20th - century skyscrapers and along modern super-highways.

Greater Montreal, and all of Quebec province, is currently in the midst of a building boom involving billions of dollars. The Montreal Construction Association has estimated that $8,000,000,000 will be spent on construction in Quebec province this year. At least one-third of that sum is expected to go into the Greater Montreal area.

The value of building permits in 1963 was $185,006,005, second only to the record year of 1959 ($209,214,652) when huge projects such as Place Ville Marie were started.

A spokesman connected with the construction association says:

"The prospects for 1964, and even for the next two or three years, seem encouraging. The winter months have been more active than usual with the calling of tenders for a large volume of building and engineering projects."

VOLUME LARGE

"There is also a large volume of institutional construction involving district colleagues, universities and schools and hospitals. Construction of several high-rise apartment buildings in the downtown area is already under way or will be soon."

The extra winter activity is due to the city's unusually low snowfall there have been only four snowfalls of consequence since the new year and the weather has been mild for the time of year.

Heavy construction, digging and transportation, normally affected during Montreal's average winters, have moved smoothly this year.

"I really shudder to think what would happen in the downtown area had we maintained our average winter snowfall of more than 100 inches," one contractor said. "We are very, very lucky."

BUILD SUBWAY

Among major projects currently being constructed are a subway, Place Victoria and the 1967 world's fair development.

Other projects, either under way or to begin in the near future, include a new tunnel-bridge complex connecting Montreal Island and the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, various university buildings, and a new provincial building to house courts and the provincial police headquarters.

The value of building permits in the city for January was $7,673,800 and for February $12,726,600.

Both figures are below the comparative figures for last year, but city officials expect the value of permits this year to equal and possibly surpass 1963's.

Nfld. Boosts Hospital Pay

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Health Minister James McGrath has announced a 10-per cent increase in salaries for lower-paid categories of non-professional employees in Newfoundland hospitals.

In a statement to the legislature, Mr. McGrath said the increases will cost the government about $650,000 over a three-year period. The salaries will be increased five per cent the first year, 7½ per cent the second year and the full 10 per cent increase will be realized in 1966-67.

It was the second major salary increase for hospital workers in Newfoundland in as many days. Monday Mr. McGrath announced more than $800,000 in salary increases for all grades of nurses in the province.
