

True Success Story

By F. H. MacArthur

Emanuel Swedenborg, the founder of the New Jerusalem Church, was called the son of the swayed by Swedenborg at the time Queen Ulrica raised the Swedenborg family to the rank of nobility.

Swedenborg was born at Stockholm, but the story of his youth is shrouded in truth and fiction. We do know, however, that as a boy he had few advantages, his father being a poor bishop of West Gothland.

Somehow young Emanuel acquired a splendid education, embracing such subjects as mechanics, mathematics, mining, chemistry and most of the natural sciences. He spent four years in scientific travels that took him all over Europe, and on his return to his home town he was appointed assessor in the Royal College of Mines by Charles XII. He held this position for only a few years but strangely enough retained the salary through life.

His writings were numerous and followed a wide field, for example: his work on the origin of things, mining and smelting, religion and so on. But his first writings to attract the attention of scholars was published in his 46th year. This was followed by extensive travel which helped to increase his knowledge and to meet many of Europe's leading scholars and thinkers.

Then he returned home to write "Economy of the Soul-Kingdom", which contains the application of the system of nature, unfolded in his philosophical works, to man. This great and strange character claims to have been introduced to persons in the spiritual world in 1743 at Love intercourse with persons in the spiritual world but his eyes saw also heaven, hell and the whole world of spirits.

His followers may still be found in the United States and in many countries of Europe. While most of us will not agree with his conception of religion, yet we cannot fail to recognize in the works of Emanuel Swedenborg a depth of knowledge such as few men have equalled.

Truly, he was a successful man having by hard work and perhaps a touch of genius raised himself and his family from a humble place to the rank of nobility.

Emanuel Swedenborg invented a kind of ralling machine capable of transporting a cannon over mountains. His strange machine was used at the siege of Fredericksburg and proved its worth. For this invention and his treatises on algebra, the value of money and the position of the earth, tides, etc., he gained the favor of the government. It was for this service, too, that the Queen conferred the rank of nobility on the family.

IMPORTS OF CORN

Imports of corn into Canada during the calendar year 1949 amounted to 8,436,316 bushels, slightly more than the 1948 imports of 8,213,948 bushels. Practically all of Canada's imports of corn have been from the United States, which in 1949 produced a corn crop estimated over 3.3 billion bushels.

WEDDING BELLS

CALCOTT—BRYANTON

Standards of gladioli formed the floral setting for a pretty autumn wedding on September first in Trinity United Church, when Dorothy June Bryanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bryanton, exchanged marriage vows with John Murray Calcott, son of Mr. and the late Mrs. John Calcott, of Guelph, Ontario.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. D. Ashford, with Mr. Paul Cudmore at the organ. Miss Phyllis Coffin was soloist, singing "I'll Walk Beside You", and "Through the Years". Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her bridal gown of white lace designed on princess lines with tiny Peter Pan collar and wearing a finger-tip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of red roses.

The matron of honour, Mrs. William A. Henry, sister of the bride, was attired in cherry-red taffeta and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Pickard and Miss Sylvia Orford, were gowned in yellow nylon and nile green taffeta, identical in style. They carried mixed bouquets.

The bride's mother wore a dress of Hunter Green with wine accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Dr. M. M. Muttie of Woodstock, N. B., was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Stanley Bryanton and W. A. Henry.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Queen Hotel. The bride's table being centred with a three-tier wedding cake encircled with bouquets of mixed garden flowers.

SMITH—MOORESIDE

An event of interest took place at North Milton, on Aug. 10th at four o'clock, when Joyce Jeannette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reagh S. Moorside, became the bride of Clayton Myron Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith of Hunter River. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Richardson of New Glasgow, under an arch trimmed with beautiful summer flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the charming bride was gowned in floor-length white satin, made with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her finger-tip veil was of embroidered net, with sweetheart headdress, and she carried a beautiful cascade bouquet of American beauty roses and baby's breath. She wore a double strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Grant Toombs as bridesmaid, who was attired in pink taffeta with matching gloves and headdress and carrying a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl earring set, and to the groomsmen a signed ring.

The wedding march was played by Miss Alecia Jenkins of Charlottetown.

The bride's mother wore a brown moire taffeta with a corsage of pink roses, while the groom's mother was dressed in a blue taffeta with a corsage of pink roses.

After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served to near relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The Misses Stella and George Moorside, sisters of the bride ushered the guests to the tables. The dining-room was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers and white wedding bells, while pearly vases of flowers adorned the table. A beautifully decorated wedding cake occupied the centre of the table.

Assisting in serving was Mrs. A. B. Coles, aunt of the bride, and Miss Alecia Jenkins, friend of the bride.

Later in the evening the newlyweds left for a honeymoon through the Maritimes. For travelling the bride donned a brown gabardine suit with pink accessories and corsage of pink roses. They are residing in Summerside.

IN THE ROCKIES... ACROSS THE PRAIRIES... IN THE MARITIMES...

In British Columbia, an independent research organization asked city motorists "If you replaced tires, what brand did you buy last?" They found that more people stated Goodyear tires than the next 6 leading brands combined! In leading towns and cities all over the prairie provinces, where a tire is judged on mileage, most motorists said "The tires I bought last are Goodyears." In fact Goodyears were preferred by more prairie drivers than the next 5 leading brands combined. In the land of seaports and scenery... tops again! More urban folks preferred Goodyear than the next 6 leading brands together! Evidently, Canadian motorists agree with car-makers, who put more Goodyear tires on new cars than any other brand.
