

The Daily Examiner

MAY 10, 1886.

A SURVEY.

It is pleasing to learn that the Dominion Government have decided to order a survey of the bottom of the Strait of Northumberland, between Capes Tormentine and Traverse.

Trying to Shirk the Issue.

THE Patriot—never distinguished for high moral courage—tries to shirk the issue raised by the Opposition, "Taxation vs. the Collection of Debts due the Province," and to make it appear that in stating that issue THE EXAMINER is guilty of "gross misrepresentation."

Let us look into the matter. Hon. Mr. Sullivan, in the Budget Speech, said it was the policy of the Government to collect the debts due the Province, and stated that the Government expected to receive from the Dominion $125,000.

The Opposition, on their part, submitted a resolution which has already appeared in these columns—the gist of which is contained in the following words:

"Therefore Resolved, That this House is of opinion that, in providing 'ways and means' for the expenditure of this Province for the current year, the Government is not justified in calculating upon $125,000 being received from the Dominion Government during the present year."

Here we have a clear expression of want of confidence in the policy of the Government—a decided statement that the Government is not justified in the course it has adopted.

It is not, what then? The Government do not pretend that if the debts due the Province cannot be collected resort to direct taxation will not be necessary. The Opposition declare with all their might that direct taxation is necessary. It follows that if the policy of the Government be unjustifiable and so deemed by the people, whose suffrages the Opposition seek at the polls, resort must at once be had to direct taxation, and that the Opposition have, in their resolution, raised the issue of taxation vs. collection of debts.

But, it is argued, the Opposition referred to the $125,000 as a monetary consideration in lieu of the non-fulfillment for the future of the Terms of Confederation. This was an unwarrantable assumption for which the Opposition had no grounds whatever. It was but an artful pretence, raised for the purpose of giving reasonable color to their attempts to prevent the Government from collecting the debts due the Province. Nothing can be more certain than that the Opposition do not wish the Government to succeed in their efforts to relieve the public from taxation. They want to get into office themselves; and if they do, taxation comes forthwith, as a matter of course.

We sincerely hope that the Opposition will not, after the manner of the Patriot, try to shirk this issue. Having raised it, they are in honor, bound to stick to it. Let us have a fair and square contest. No shirking of important issues. No exhibition, on the part of the Opposition, of the white feather.

Quoting "The Examiner."

THE Patriot quotes THE EXAMINER'S remarks about the interest paid by the Government to the banks. The quotation contained information which readers of the Patriot, as well as the public at large, are entitled to, but which, it is safe to say, the Patriot, if left to itself, would never have afforded. The Patriot might, with advantage to its readers, quote more freely from THE EXAMINER than it does; and from the article in question it ought in common fairness to have quoted a little more,—and not to have conveyed the impression that THE EXAMINER censures the Government because they have to pay interest to the banks. How much interest would the Province now be paying if Messrs. L. H. Davies and W. D. Stewart had not been driven from power? As between the two parties, that's the question. It has been demonstrated that the expenditures of the Opposition Party were larger than those of the Government Party, by about $100,000 a year. Consequently if they had remained in power till now, the Province would be $800,000 worse off than it is; and if the debt could have been placed on the Banks at 6 per cent, the interest we should now be paying would amount to—not $3,332 a year—but about $54,000!

Of course we could not possibly pay so much, and our people would either be ground down by taxation, or the Government of the Province would be practically bankrupt.

The Patriot sneers at THE EXAMINER for "letting its light shine on both sides." This, evidently, is not consistent with the Patriot's idea of the duty of a public journal. We tell the Patriot that THE EXAMINER, and the Party it supports, have no other desire than that every important fact in connection with the administration of the Province should be fully known and understood by the people. Let the Patriot and its friends garble and misrepresent, and show but one side of the shield, if they choose. We say let both sides be examined and discussed; and then let the people decide in favor of the side they think best.

Riel Literature.

A GREAT deal of literature in connection with the Riel question is just now being distributed in certain sections of King's County. There are some parts of that County to which it will not be sent by Dr. McIntyre, M. P. It will require a very free distribution of Mr. Cameron's speeches to explain the Doctor's vote on the Riel affair. And, if he succeeds in letting in any light on his own vote, he will also have to reconcile his Riel friends to the vote given on that head by his leader, Mr. Davies. At the time of the general election, Grit candidates made many promises. Sir John's Government was to be broken up, and all who would vote the Grit ticket would receive their reward. Now, all that their supporters have for their trouble is the grim satisfaction of receiving Riel pamphlets through the mails. A very poor return this, it is true, and one that will be remembered when the next election takes place.

Tecumseh—A Drama.

Canadian literature, which has already some creditable names in the branch of Belles Lettres, has received an accession in "Tecumseh," a drama by Charles Mair, recently published by Hunter, Rose & Co., Toronto. Canadian dramatists may almost be numbered on the fingers of one hand, and Mr. Mair, by this publication, has shown himself a worthy brother of the band.

The period covered by the drama is from about the date of the conference held at Vincennes, between Gen. Harrison, commanding the United States troops, and the great Shawanoe warrior Tecumseh, who was endeavoring to unite all the Indian tribes in one formidable league, to the death of Tecumseh. This period gives the author an opportunity of introducing a considerable variety of persons, which he has done with good dramatic effect.

The characters of Tecumseh, General Harrison and General Brock, are drawn with many vigor, and the prudent General Proctor is pictured in colors in which one would rather not seek immortality. Ollivay, the prophet, Tecumseh's brother, is depicted as black as he can possibly be painted. Next to Tecumseh, the hero is Lefroy, by nationality a Guernseyman, but he acts like a Frenchman of the most Jean Jacques Rousseau, a post-painter of a Communist stamp, who falls in love with her, Tecumseh's niece, and for love of her gets himself up as a red man. Iena (we must not call her the fair Shawanoe) notwithstanding an uncomfortable amount of patriotism in her composition, is just the wild-wood girl to attract the regards of a wandering artist who has the additional disadvantage of being a poet. Tecumseh's ruthless order that "red shall not marry white," is adverse to the lovers. Twang, Slauch, Gerkin and Bloat, typical Western citizens and land-grabbers of the period, are produced in their native atrocity; and, although their dialogue is well done, we think it a pity they should have been introduced. Vulgarity, however true to type, is beneath the level of drama. Mamate, Weetamore and Winona, Indian women, are chiefly notable for their pretty names. The interest of the action is made skillfully to increase as the piece proceeds.

Had we space to spare, numerous graceful passages might be selected from the drama. We cannot refrain from copying this pretty little lyric:

Fly far from me, Even as the daylight flies, And leave me in the darkness of my pain! Some earlier love will come to thee again, And sweet new moons will rise, And smile on it and thee.

Fly far from me, Even whilst the daylight wanes— Ere thy lips burn me in a last caress! Ere fancy quickens; and my longings press, And my weak spirit hastes, For shelter unto thee!

Fly far from me, Even whilst the daylight wanes— So shall we never meet again! Fly! for my senses swim—Oh Love! Oh Pain!— Help for my spirit fails— I cannot fly from thee!

In Act IV the scene crosses the British line and chorus invites the reader to:

Leave the home of mercenary minds, And wing with mine in your uplifted thoughts, Away to our unyielding Canada! There to behold the genius of the land, Beneath her singing pine and sugar tree, Companioned with the lion, Loyalty.

Meeting of Presbytery.

The Presbytery of P. E. I. met in Summerside on the 4th inst. There were present Revs. Wm. Scott, J. M. McLeod, Allan McLean, J. G. Cameron, Alex. Roulston, Wm. P. Archibald, George McMillan, Wm. A. Mason, A. F. Carr, W. H. Spencer, and Geo. Fisher, Ministers; and Messrs. John Clay, Donald Campbell, Wm. B. Donald, and John McArthur, ruling Elders.

The Presbytery agreed to apply to the General Assembly for leave to receive Rev. A. A. McKenzie, A. B. B. Sc., of the Church of Scotland as a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Mr. G. E. Howie having applied through the Presbytery of Halifax to the General Assembly to be received as a probationer of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and having labored on P. E. Island with acceptance for the last six months, both as a preacher and a lecturer, this Presbytery cordially commend his application to the favorable consideration of the General Assembly.

Rev. Mr. Cameron reported that he had, according to appointment, preached at Mt. Stewart and moderated in a call to Rev. A. B. McLeod and that the call was cordial and harmonious. Mr. Cameron's report was received, his diligence approved and the call sustained as a regular gospel call. Mr. McLeod being present, the call was placed in his hands and accepted by him. The induction was appointed to take place in Mt. Stewart, on Thursday, the 20th inst. at 7 o'clock p. m. Rev. Mr. McMillan to preside, Rev. Rodk. McLean to preach, Rev. Allan McLean to address the congregation. On motion Rev. Mr. Cameron was appointed to preach and serve the edict at 10 o'clock at Mt. Stewart, and at West St. Peter's at 2 o'clock on Monday 10th inst.

Moderation in a call was granted to Richmond Bay East, and Rev. Wm. Scott appointed to perform that duty at such time as shall be agreed upon by the session. The Presbytery agreed to the principle of uniting the P. Mission schemes of the Church under one board, and approved generally of the plan proposed in the remit of the General Assembly. The remit ament printing was also agreed to. Rev. W. P. Archibald, Wm. A. Mason, Wm. H. Spencer and J. M. McLeod, were appointed a committee to watch legislation on Mr. Charlton's sedition bill, and to correspond with other denominations on the matter. Rev. George McMillan was chosen a delegate to the General Assembly instead of Rev. A. F. Carr, resigned.

Interesting and encouraging reports on Sunday Schools, the State of Religion, and statistics were submitted by the convenors of Committees on these subjects. It was agreed to hold a conference on these subjects at the next quarterly meeting in Zion Church, Charlottetown.

Notices were read of the intention of Presbyteries to apply to the General Assembly for leave to receive as Ministers of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Mr. Joseph Watt, of the Congregational Church; Mr. Herbert C. Ross, and Mr. Thomas Patchell, of the Methodist Church; and Mr. W. E. D'Argent, of the American Presbyterian Church.

Mr. J. R. Coffin was appointed to preach at Bloomfield, the Brae and O'Leary; Mr. Corbett at West Cape, Campbellton and Minnigass; and Mr. J. M. McLeod at Richmond Bay West for the Summer months; the latter to give part of his time to Richmond Bay East. Rev. A. Boyd to preach in the congregation of W. and C. Rivers and Brookfield for the month of May. The Clerk was appointed to exchange with Mr. Boyd on the third Sabbath of May and declare this congregation vacant. He was also appointed interim moderator of this session. Mr. Charles McKay was appointed to preach in Summerside until further notice, and also to preach in Lot 16 at 3 o'clock p. m., on 2nd and 3rd Sabbaths of May. On motion it was agreed that the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper be dispensed by Rev. A. F. Carr at Lot 16 on 4th Sabbath of June; at Lot 11 on 2nd Sabbath of July; by Rev. Geo. Fisher; at Tyne Valley by Rev. Mr. Mason on 3rd Sabbath July; and at Lot 14 by Rev. M. Scott on 2nd Sabbath July.

On motion it was unanimously agreed to invite Messrs. Meikle and Gerrard, Evangelists, to visit P. E. Island during the ensuing summer. The Presbytery adjourned to meet at Mount Stewart on 20th inst., at 7 o'clock, p. m.

J. M. McLeod, Presbytery Clerk.

Parnell Congratulated.

On behalf of the Irish Conservative representatives in Parliament, the following telegram was forwarded by the Minister of Inland Revenue, a few nights ago:—

"OTTAWA, MAY 3, 1886. 'PARNELL, M. P., London, Eng.: 'As a mover of the Irish resolutions in the Canadian Parliament, in April, 1885, and on behalf of the Irish representatives in Parliament, I desire to convey, through you, to our fellow subjects in Ireland, an expression of our deep sympathy in their struggle for Home Rule. We reaffirm the sentiments contained in those resolutions, and, without presuming to pronounce an opinion on the details of any particular measure proposed, we desire to declare to the people of Ireland, our gratification at the general recognition of those views which has taken place since 1885 and to express our hope that the time has come when, without injury to the United Kingdom or to any section of it, such a system of self-government may be given to the Irish people as will meet their reasonable demands and fulfil the anticipations which have been so highly cherished in their behalf by many of Her Majesty's subjects in this portion of the Empire.'
