—ACCEPTS CALL TO P. E. I. CHARGE — Rev. W. A. Paterson, M.A., B.D., of Lockport, N. S., has accepted a call to the Georgetown, P. E. I. pastoral charge of the United Church of Canada, subject to the approval of the Yarmouth and P. E. I. Presbyteries, and will be commencing his pastoral duties the end of the Conference Year, June 30. Rev. Mr. Paterson has served at Lockport since 1946. During the Second World War he served as a naval chaplain and has held pastorates in the Montrose, and the Cavendish pastoral charges. He succeeds Rev. S. J. Boyce, B.A., who has given splendid service as minister at Georgetown since 1941. Rev. Mr. Boyce was ordained in 1916 and it is believed he will be retiring from the active ministry this year.

Survey Underway At Montague Bridge

Government surveyors yesterday were taking soundings of the Montague River near the Montague bridge to determine the depth of water at low, high, and medium tides. They were also surveying the approaches to the bridge to determine widths for the approaches of a proposed new bridge. It was learned that there is a few feet on the east side to which the new bridge may be extended, thus making the central driveway of the bridge a possible twenty-four feet in width, allowing still sufficient space for a walk on one side and possibly on both sides.

Lobster Fishermen In King's County Have Varying Luck

A strong north wind yesterday resulted in only partial lines being run on the opening day of lobster fishing which began at 5 A. M. yesterday morning.

Off Georgetown and Murray Harbour North the wind and high seas prevented the complete running of lines, while in Souris and Murray Harbour the fishermen ran almost all lines except for a few boats which did not get out. On the north shore high seas prevented some sixty boats moved out of Georgetown in the early dawn, and the race to the fishing grounds was on. On arrival the larger majority got their lines partially run, a few all, and some none at all. It was reported that the fishermen of the Georgetown area were well supplied with bait owing to the heavy herring run earlier this Spring. Bait last year cost the fishermen an average of 60.00 per barrel.

In Souris over fifty boats ran complete lines, with only three being unsuccessful in getting lines out. It was reported that there was very little wind early in the morning. The wind became stronger in the afternoon, but died down in the evening, so that one boat was able to make the trip to the lines to lay traps.

Murray Harbour fishermen had the same success as Souris with over sixty boats running complete lines. Only one boat was forced to return to the dock because of engine trouble. With the wind remaining strong throughout the day and evening, boats did not venture out to lay any traps.

Murray Harbour North fishermen had the same conditions as the Georgetown fishermen along the Boughton Island-Annandale grounds. Strong winds prevented complete laying of lines, and some boats were unable to lay any.

In all localities it was expected that running lines and laying traps would be completed today.

The factories in each locality are completing last minute preparations, and are ready to begin packing when the first lobsters arrive. Several fishermen stated that prospects look good for the season provided that the weather holds favorable. Cannery have prospects of a good price, with a ready market, and they expect that by the end of the week they will have a fair supply of canned lobsters on hand for shipment to early markets.

—AUCTION FORTY-FIVES and Bridge in the Armouries on Thursday, May 3rd. Lunch. Sponsored by the C. W. L.

—Mr. Jackie Lanigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lanigan, Montague, has taken a position as engineer on the Fairmile 91, owned by Capt. Grant Graham.

Mrs. Sandy MacDonald, Montague, is visiting in Murray Harbour, guest of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Herring.

Miss Alice Gordon, Roseneath, has accepted a position at Jamieson's Drug Store, Montague.

—UNUSUAL ACCIDENT — An unusual accident occurred today near Doug's Service Station, Montague, when a car which had been parked on the roadway somehow became free, and started to move towards the main street. As it got into motion it picked up speed, passed the oil tanks, going between the tanks and a near light pole, headed straight across the pavement where it struck the side of a parked automobile owned by Mr. Charles Fraser of Montague. Neither car suffered severe damage.

Successful Drive For Salvation Army Funds

Mr. T. Roy Cudmore, Provincial Chairman of the Red Shield Drive, informs us that the organization throughout the Province is developing satisfactorily.

The committee for Kensington is headed by Mr. Fred Davison and will soon be commencing the local canvass. Mr. Cudmore, accompanied by Major Hutchinson, journeyed to Souris and Montague yesterday and succeeded in procuring the aid of interested citizens in organizing campaign committees in those localities.

Mr. J. H. M. Dalziel, Manager of the Bank of Commerce, assisted by Mr. George Leard, will be chairman for Souris, and Mr. Gerald Jardine, Chief Accountant of the Bank of Commerce, assisted by Mr. Fulton Campbell, will preside over the organization in Montague.

Mr. Cudmore is pleased with the response from the many Women's Institutes throughout the Province and feels confident that all Groups will respond to the Army's Red Shield Campaign and thus assure the successful conclusion of this worthy appeal.

will be right of U. S. military courts to try Canadian civilians within a certain area. However, the Prime Minister said, the results of the lengthy negotiations will go beyond Canadian-American co-operation into the broader sphere of the 12-nation Atlantic Pact.

Five Bills Prepared

Of five bills to be presented to Parliament, only one would apply solely to the U. S. The others would be as applicable to other pact forces that may serve here as they would to U. S. forces.

The measures would provide anti-espionage and anti-sabotage protection; would free military personnel brought here for Allied forces from border duties; allow foreign army post offices to operate here and compel Canadian civilians to appear as witnesses at U. S. courts martial.

One clause of the agreement is that "the Canadian Government will seek legislation to protect security interests of the U. S. forces in Canada as required under the bases agreement."

As a result of this, Mr. St. Laurent said, two measures will be placed before the Commons. One will be a bill along the lines of the Official Secrets Act, the sweeping anti-espionage law under which 10 Canadians were sent to prison in 1946 and 1947 for spying or conspiring to act illegally for Russia. The Prime Minister said this new bill will be for the protection of Allied governments.

This indicated legislation will be broadened to cover espionage or associated activities affecting Allied units or troops stationed in Canada. The maximum penalty under the act is 14 years.

The second bill would extend the Criminal Code for the protection of property of Allied forces. This would provide penalties for sabotage affecting Allied forces here.

Mr. St. Laurent pointed out that, in strict legality, the U. S. did not have to modify the 99-year lease negotiated with Britain while Newfoundland was a colony. But the U. S. was accustomed to treating Canada with something that went beyond strict legality and had done so again.

The four bases are the Pepperell Air Force base near St. John's, the Harmon Air Force base near Stephenville, McAndrew air base and a naval base at Argentia.

Canada's Argument

Canada's argument was conditions which might have been all right while Newfoundland was a colony no longer were right when Newfoundland became part of a sovereign country.

The new agreement meets the recommendations of the joint Canada-U. S. Board on Defence. It falls under four main headings — income tax, customs and excise,
