If when traveling to Portugal or Spain you go to the theatre and wish to enjoy the best of the night, you will not do so with your stick, or kick against the woodwork of your box, or stamp with your feet. A few years ago I was in Lisbon and went one night to one of the theaters to see a zarzuela, as the comic operas imported from Spain are called. I was with a party of friends in a stage box. Now, in Portugal such a box is, as the name implies, on the stage itself, and you could not hear the performers. Needless to say, you are too near for comfort. The light blinds you, the dust and powder cover your clothes, the defects of the performance are glaring.

On the night to which I specially refer a woman came upon the stage and sang a ballad with much taste and feeling. When she had finished, some of my party applauded, and I knocked on the floor of the box with my stick. The woman did not accept an encore, and as she went off threw a reproachful glance at me. "It was not so bad as all that," remarked one of my friends, a good judge of music. "So I thought," I replied. "Then why did you condemn it," he asked, and then began to laugh. "I see you don't know the custom of the country," he went on. "When we find a thing very bad indeed, we do as you have been doing." I felt very foolish.—Today.

Thumb-screws.

William Carstairs, the Scotch divine who for 14 years served William III as confidential secretary and adviser in chief, had been implicated in the Rye House plot, a conspiracy to assassinate Charles II and place Monmouth on the throne. He was put to the excruciating torture of the thumb-screws, or thumb-screws, which he endured heroically, without confessing or implicating others.

After Carstairs became the private adviser of William he was presented with the instrument by which he had been tortured. The king, wishing to see the measure of fortitude necessary to endure the terrible torture without making a confession of some sort, placed his thumbs in the machine and told Carstairs to turn the screw. He turned slowly and cautiously.

"It is unpleasant," said King William, "yet it might be endured. You are trifling with me. Turn the screw so that I may really feel pain similar to that you felt."

Carstairs turned the screw sharply. The king cried out, and when released said that under such pain he would have confessed to anything, true or false.

A Monster Palace.

Spain possesses one of the largest buildings in the world. It is at once a palace, a museum, a library, a picture gallery, a monastery, a church and a burial place. This wonderful edifice is called the Escorial, although the name is very generally corrupted both in England and America into "Escorial."

The Escorial was commenced in 1563 by order of Philip II of Spain and was intended partly as a royal burying place for the kings of Spain and partly as a commemoration of Philip's victory over the French at St. Quentin in 1557. It is built entirely of granite and measures 744 feet in length by 580 feet in breadth. At each corner is a tower 200 feet in height. The building is supposed to represent an enormous gridiron lying upside down, and this shape is believed to have reference to St. Lawrence, who was martyred on a gridiron.

Twenty-one years were spent in building it, and it cost over $12,000,000. It has been twice partly destroyed by lightning and was sacked by the French soldiers in 1808. There are 14,000 doors and 11,000 windows.

"I guess Mrs. Frills doesn't like that new French maid."

"What French maid?"

"I didn't know her name until I met Mrs. Frills yesterday. I said, 'How worried you look! Do I?' said she. 'Well, it's only embongpong.' And so I suppose that's the maid's name."

"What is?"

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

First, Second, Third.

A correspondent calls attention to the various "words of abbreviating the word" and "third." His position seems to be correct, and the use which he recommends should prevail. Standard authorities, he says, are "overwhelmingly in favor of 2d and '3d, instead of 2nd and 3rd."

In the case of "first," the word stem seems to be fir. This is supplied by the figure 1, and the abbreviated form is 1st. In the case of "second," the word stem is secon, which is supplied by the figure 2, giving us 2d. In "third," the word stem is thir, which gives us 3d for the other form. — Living Church.

The rifle was introduced into the British service about the beginning of the present century. They were of such primitive make that mallets were served out with each rifle to ram the bullets home.

Fat is absolutely necessary as an article of diet. If it is not of the right kind it may not be digested. Then the body will not get enough of it. In this event there is fat-starvation.

Scott's Emulsion supplies this needed fat, of the right kind, in the right quantity, and in the form already partly digested.

As a result all the organs and tissues take on activity.
