Stream Pollution Results In Fines

SUMMERSIDE — The current RCMP program of curbing stream pollution in the Prince County area is beginning to produce results.

Farmers who utilize local waters and ponds to fill their crop sprayers have been contacted by RCMP and a police spokesman said last night that co-operation is "one hundred per cent".

The spokesman added that the main reason for the pollution of the waters was the lack of information or realization of the damage being incurred.

The farmers who have sprayers equipped with tanks, rather than draw water from wells, drive to a nearby natural supply of water and pipe it into their tanks. Usually before the water is drawn, fungicides are placed into the sprayer tank to be diluted with water taken in.

Frequently farmers, in their haste, leave these empty containers lying about and some often get into the streams. These poisonous substances kill fish when they come in contact with it.

Dumping of garbage into waters is another common pollution method.

Although not so much now as in the past, saw mills located by a dam or river, would generally have a large pile of sawdust nearby and amounts of this sawdust seeped into the water causing danger and killing fish.

The RCMP program had proof of results yesterday when two persons pleaded guilty in Prince County magistrate's court before Magistrate W. Chester S. MacDonald to pollution of streams.

Freeman Fred Simmons, North Bedeque, pleaded guilty to a charge of throwing household garbage into a stream and was fined $20 and costs or 15 days.

Patrick Gerald McCarville, Kinkora RR, pleaded guilty to charges of throwing into a stream paper bags containing remnants of fungicide and he was also fined $20 and costs or 15 days.

These were the first two cases of this nature to come before the court. As public knowledge of this serious matter of stream pollution grows, RCMP estimate a decrease in danger to one natural resources - fish.

It's 'Grey-Tull', And Not Gretel

NEWPORT, R.I. (CP) — It isn't Gretel, as in Hansel and Gretel.

"Grey-tull"—with the accent on the first syllable.

That's how the Australians pronounce the name of their 12-metre yacht challenging the United States' Weatherly for for the America's Cup.

Some broadcasters, out of deference to the Australians, are using the "grey-tull" pronunciation.

and nine private secondary schools across Canada.

The special commission will "study the implications of the establishing of an increasing number of denominational schools and colleges," with reference to efficiency, the proper use of state taxes and "the integration of our population of many ethnic and racial origins into a national unity."

The study will examine the advantages and disadvantages of both state - controlled education and "a purely denominational system, state-supported.

The commission then will seek to discover "the extent to which in attempting to find a compromise between the two systems, there may have been encroachment upon rights confirmed by the Canadian constitution."

The issue of the changing ratio of religious loyalties in Canada's population first arose at the current United Church council on opening night, when the retiring moderator Dr. Hugh A. McLeod, charged that "overwhelming" Roman Catholic immigration was threatening traditional liberties in Canada.

Last Friday, council assigned a special commission to analyze 1961 census figures on immigration and their relationship to "ethnic groups, different segments of the population and the religious loyalties involved."

Last Sunday, several British newspapers indicated that Canada, by her touch approach, was being isolated from other Commonwealth countries.

One Canadian source said Tuesday night — not entirely in jest — that Britain may be isolated Commonwealth member.

S'side To Offer Bonds On American Market

SUMMERSIDE — The Summerside Town Council Monday night unanimously approved the issue of debentures in the amount of $750,000 at a special session.

The debentures will be offered on the American bond market where a favourable rate of interest is available, and the money will be used to pay for general permanent works (400,000), water and sewerage extensions ($150,000) and electric light and power extensions ($200,000).

Town Manager Joseph Brophy explained that the rapid growth of the town had necessitated the expansion of municipal services, and that the debentures were being issued to pay for these costs.

Citing several of these projects they included the Walker sub-division, the first 100 and second 200 homes at Hillcrest, the new fire hall, the new fire pumper and a portion of the engine at the electric light plant.

Mr. Brophy pointed out that these items were in addition to the normal capital expenditures of new streets, sidewalks, water and sewage extension.

In explaining the sale of the Summerside bonds on the American market, Mayor J. Ernest Morrison said that the council had been studying the matter for the past three months, and said that the comparative cost of money "behooves us to test the American bond market".

Mr. Brophy referred to an article in the September issue of "Civic Administration" magazine, which dealt with municipal planning and states, in part, "municipalities thinking about floating issues in the U.S. should be prepared to move fast. Observers speculate that U.S. long-term rates, steady for some time past, may soon start moving up, in a bid to halt the U.S. balance of payments deficit".

Mr. Brophy said several large Canadian cities have recently sold on the American market with success and he added "municipalities should take advantage of the premium on American funds".

The motion for the sale of the bonds was moved by Coun. Leo Wood and seconded by Coun. Alex MacDonald.

FIRST MAJOR ISSUE

The proposed debenture sale is the first major bond issue since 1957 when $400,000 of town bonds were marketed, following a similar issue in 1956. These two issues were marketed to finance the acquisition of the stadium, new high school and auditorium.

In early 1960 a short-term debenture issue was marketed in the comparatively lesser amount of $150,000, deliberately prepared for size and term due to high money costs prevailing at the time.

The annual repayment costs of the issue will be proportionally shared through the electric light department rates, water and sewerage department rates and general department through taxation. A tabulation of the impact of the general department's share on taxation indicates that additional assesment to be received through the completion of the 200 homes plus utility surplus will finance the new expenditure.

The new issue on the American market will be payable in annua. installments over a 20-year period, with the interest at five and a quarter per cent for the first 10 years, and at five and one half per cent for the final 10 years.

Cost of money on the Canadian bond market is currently between six and a half to 6.7 per cent.

Strait Swim Broached At Borden Meeting

A meeting was held last night at Borden Town Hall to discuss plans for a marathon swim of the Northumberland Strait next year.

The idea of a Strait swim originated with James Pendergast formerly of Kensington and now of Charlottetown several years ago and since then two swimmers have mastered the arduous feat, Evelyn Henry of Southport was the first to succeed and she was followed by a Mrs. Peters of Summerside.

Last night a Borden committee was formed to organize the swim and named chairman was James McCormack. Other members of the committee are as follows: — Mayor Gilbert Bell, vice-chairman; Reginald Rodgers, treasurer. Also elected were Mrs. Herb MacKenzie, Allie Gatway, Arnett Bell and Rev. A.J. Pendergast. James Pendergast was named to handle the public relations and promotion of the swim.

The committee hopes to stage the swim preferably the last week of July or the first week of August next year but tides will also be taken into consideration.

George V. Fraser, director of the P.E.I. Travel Bureau and Mr. Pendergast were in attendance last night. According to Mr. Fraser the swim was studied extensively two years ago and were it not for the lateness of the season it might have been staged.

It was thought that $2,000 or less would be sufficient to put on this event which will be open to all competitors. Substantial prizes will be given to the top finishers.

The committee will organize various service clubs in Borden to entertain the crowd while the swim is on with such features as boat races, games, track and field events, go-kart races; suppers, etc. It is also hoped that the swim plans will be well organized by February so that it will appear in the tourist literature.

A committee spokesman said last night that an appeal will be made to the general public for suggestions and donations.

Les Sprague Retains Title

By VERN GILBERT

HALIFAX (CP)—Young Les Sprague of Amherst retained his Canadian junior welterweight boxing title here Tuesday night when challenger Fernand Simard of Quebec City was unable to come out for the eighth round.

The blonde 20-year-old Nova Scotian used stinging lefts to the head to wear Simard down. Both fighters were bleeding at the end of the seventh when Simard's handlers decided to throw in the towel.

Sprague, who won the vacant title here last month over Ty Gardiner of Sydney River, N.S., weighed 136½ for the scheduled 12-rounder. Simard, who until Tuesday night had never been knocked off his feet, weighed 135.

It was hard fought battle all the way, but the crewcut champion had too much sting in his gloves for the Quebecer.

Both fighters fought at long range through the first three rounds befort a disappointing crowd of 2,000. But in the fourth Sprague blasted Simard into the ropes. The challenger hung on the ropes for nearly a minute as Sprague cut loose with a barrage of left hooks. Simard withstood the punishment and fought back gamely.

In the fifth Simard sank to the canvas for a nine-count after running into a solid left hook to the mid section. In the sixth the champion continued to use left hooks to the head of the former navy amateur performer, who by this time was bleeding from a cut over the right eye.

Both fighters were bleeding from the nose at the end of the seventh round as Sprague continued to press, pumping a flashy left hook to the head. Blood smeared both fighters at the end.

Here Gretel (left) is seen trailing her American rival as she did during much of the race. The series is knotted at 1-all with the next race slated Thursday.

Aussie Paper Criticizes O'Day

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — The Melbourne Sun News-Pictorial says the official spokesman for the U.S. Americas Cup defender Weatherly has been consistently anti - Australian in his press comments.

In a dispatch from Newport, R.I., where the Australian yacht Gretel is challenging for the cup, The Sun says the spokesman, George O'Day, "struck a new low note" in a newspaper article in which he attacked the crew appointments and training methods of Sir Frank Packer, head of the Australian syndicate.

The Sun said O'Day seemed to be "conducting a war of nerves on the Australians," and had continued "his daily critical barbs at the Australian camp" in his newspaper article.

"Many American yachtsmen were offended by the gross lack of taste evidenced by the official spokesman for the defending yacht in chasting the head of the challenging syndicate," the newspaper said.

"The general feeling yesterday was that O'Day had gone beyond the boundaries of good sportsmanship in putting his criticism into print under his own name."

TD Is Credited To Wrong Player

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fullback Bobby Kuntz scored three touchdowns in Hamilton Tiger-Cat's 31-6 victory over British Columbia Lions in Monday night's Canadian Football League game here.

The Canadian Press erroneously attributed Kuntz's first touchdown to Don Sutherin when a reporter made an error in number identification. Kuntz was number 23 and Sutherin 22.

Kuntz scored his touchdowns in the first, second and third quarters. Sutherin kicked a field goal and three converts.
