Collision With Pole At S'side
Injures Summerfield Man

SUMMERSIDE — Justin Curley of Summerside is in Prince County Hospital with chest injuries as the result of a car accident in Summerside on Saturday night. His condition is said to be satisfactory.

Curley was said to have been the driver of a 1953 Ford which was extensively damaged on the front end when it struck a telephone pole on Water Street West about midnight.

An unidentified passenger in the front seat of the car shattered the windshield with her head from the impact of the crash. She was taken to Prince County Hospital but was released yesterday.

The scene of the accident, known locally as Hippocentaur's Corner, was the same location in which an accident occurred about two weeks ago when a car struck the same pole and almost went over the railing into Summerside harbor.

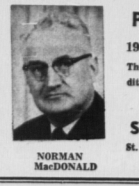

The driver of a 1953 Ford which was struck a telephone pole on Saturday at noon, Clifford Arsenault of Summerside suffered injuries about the mouth when his car struck a telephone pole on Harvard Street, resulting in an estimated $700 damage to the car. Mr. Arsenault was traveling westward and was alone in the car when the accident occurred.

6,000 At Air Force Day
In S'side See Displays

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN — An estimated 6,000 persons attended the annual Air Force Day program at RCAF Station Summerside on Saturday afternoon and enjoyed a spectacular display of flying as well as interesting ground exhibits provided by the different departments and groups on the station.

This year's program differed from those past years by having the largest variety of aircraft ever seen here on an Air Force Day, and the static or ground displays were enhanced with interest indicating careful planning and preparation.

In addition to the mighty Argus aircraft, around which the primary role of RCAF Station Summerside revolves, were the familiar Neptune aircraft which are also of great importance in the Summerside air training program; and the gigantic "Aukon," the largest aircraft ever built in Canada, and which dwarfed all others at the show.

Other aircraft on display and participating in the flying program included the Hercules, the Cosmopolitan, the Otter, the Albatross, the Cosmon, the C19 Boeac, a Helicopter, and T38 and Sabre jets.

The air show was officially opened by Lieutenant-Governor F. Walter Hyndman, following brief remarks of welcome to all visitors by the station's commanding officer, Group Capt. A. G. Dagg.

He explained the role of RCAF Station, Summerside in Maritime Air Command, and declared that his Summerside station was as important as any station in the command. Explaining three phases of the work done at Summerside he referred first to the maritime operational training unit which trains maritime crews that go to all the stations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts under Maritime Air Command.

Second in terms of time that the unit has been here is the maritime proving and evaluation unit, which tests and evaluates all new pieces of equipment before they are accepted for use in anti-submarine detection and warfare.

NEW SQUADRON
The third and newest unit at the station is the No. 415 Argus Squadron whose role is flying over the vast ocean approaches to our shores in command.

warded Saturday evening from the Charlottetown Provincial Home to his late residence, where the funeral will be held today, Monday, June 18, at 2 p.m. (advanced summer time) in the Peoples cemetery, Kensington.

Covehead Team
Grabs Honors

The powerful Covehead Flyer racing team carried off top honours at Covehead Saturday night under the lights amassing 91 points to lead McCulloch's by 23 points.

Top driver was Don Allan of the Flyers with 38 individual points.

Two major accidents lived the proceedings when Stephen Younker and Keith MacLean tangled in the final turn of the first event and piled into the race. Kimball Acorn thrilled the crowd, doing a complete flip into safety fence and in the fifth the pit area.

All escaped with minor bruises and MacLean hung onto his third place position in the final standings.

MacLean's 32 points boosted his season's total to 124 and he will replace Eddie MacLean in next week's special event which features the top 5 drivers to date. These 5 drivers and their point totals are as follows:

Don Allan Flyers 148
Raymond Birch Flyers 136
Stephen Younker McCulloch's 128
G. Scantlebury 125
Marauders 125
Keith MacLean V's 124
MacLaren stands sixth at 121 points.

HANGAR DISPLAYS

The display in the hangar proved a top interest to the crowd, and among these displays were those of the nuclear defence, telecommunications, maritime air command, munitions and weapons, photographic section, electrical instrument sports and recreation, and a flu and game exhibit that was the largest ever presented at an air force day show.

New this year, and holding the crowd interest throughout the demonstration, was an exhibition of judo staged by students of P. L. Robert Allison, himself a holder of a judo black belt, the highest achievement in the art.

The RCAF band, under Bandmaster William Conkey provided a concert within the hangar that was enjoyed by those attending the air show.

The parade of mobile equipment this year was one of the longest on record and featured a number of new and extremely interesting vehicles, for various duties from transport to snow removal.

YOU HAVE A HAND IN THINGS CANADIAN
when you own Life Insurance

Surprising? Yes—but true. Like most people, you have probably thought of your life insurance as protection for your family — as a good way to save money regularly — as a valuable collateral if you need a loan for an emergency.

Actually, your life insurance dollars are more than an investment in your personal security and your family's. These dollars are also an investment in Canada. They stimulate growth and progress and help make this country a better place in which to live and work.

At this moment, 9 BILLION DOLLARS of life insurance savings are invested in important Canadian enterprises — through the purchase of bonds and stocks and through mortgages.

These hard-working dollars are helping to finance great projects all over this country such as pipelines, shopping centres, bridges and highways, homes, apartment and office buildings, schools, factories, industrial plants and power developments. These investments create employment opportunities, too.

The income from these investments benefits you directly by reducing the cost of life insurance to you and the 9 million other Canadian policyowners.
