Facts are Stubborn Things
So is Bad Blood. The difference between them is that a fact is here to stay. Bad Blood can only stay until Burdock Blood Bitters is used, then it must go. It takes facts to prove this to your satisfaction, and we give them to you every time we catch your eye. Here is one of them. Don't throw the paper down, but read this letter from Mr. Fred Taylor, a detective of Winnipeg. We present his portrait, together with that of his little daughter, mentioned in his letter.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER.
ONE OF THE GALLANT 90TH BATT.
DEAR SIRS,—Having felt out of order for some time, and having no energy or appetite, blotches on legs, tumor on neck—arising from impure blood, doctors doing me no good, I was induced to buy some B.B.B. I was very much against patent medicines at the time, having tried so many, but after using two bottles I began to get better, and at the fourth bottle was completely well and around again. I believe in B.B.B. now, I tell you. I send you a photo of myself and little daughter, Lily. B. B. B. cured her of nasty blisters which came out on her lips. Yours thankfully,
F. TAYLOR,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Clerical Influence.
SIR,—In the Patriot of the 19th inst. is a letter signed, "John Darlington, King's Co.," from which it appears that he is not very well pleased with certain clergymen because they took an active part in the late Dominion election.
Now in voting and canvassing they did only what every British subject had a perfect right to do (if he was not by law disqualified) and in supporting the Conservative candidates, what every true Canadian who loves his country should have done.
Now, Sir, to show Mr. Darlington and others of the same ilk the authority the priesthood have in secular affairs, I beg to quote from the first epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians:
Chap. 6, 2—"Know you not that the saints shall judge this world? And if the world shall be judged by you, are you unworthy to judge the smallest matters?"
3—"Know you not that we shall judge angels? How much more things of this world?"
4—"If, therefore, you shall have judgments about the things of this world; set them to judge who are most despised in the Church?"
In accordance with this power to judge, the clergymen of the church judged the two great political parties of Canada, and they found the Grits guilty of disloyalty to Canada, general political dishonesty, and very much wanting in ability. On the other hand, they found the Conservative party true as steel to Canada, honest, and possessing remarkable administrative talent. We see at present a splendid example, proving the truth of this judgment, in the candidates contesting the First Electoral District of King's County. Consequently, in the exercise of that civil and religious liberty, of which Mr. Darlington would deprive them, they went to the polls on the glorious 5th of March and gave their verdict. Hence the grumbling of the condemned. Well, they are to be pitied; but who can weep for them? Poor fellows!
Now if we were to take away the authority of the Church from the political system what would be the result? Laws would be enacted so regardless of Christian principles that the standard of morality, political and social, would be brought as low as it was in the days of Sodom and Gomorrah. Take for instance in the United States, on account of absence of church influence in their legislative assemblies, we see a divorce law that is a disgrace to a nation calling itself civilized. The bond of marriage, that bulwark of family happiness, is less binding than an ordinary bill of sale. It some states it is easier to get a divorce than a receipt for five dollars, and this is the nation to which the Pitt headers would unite us if they had the power.
To save us from such a mire of political and social degradation, is the sincere wish of the clergy, and in the late contest they did their duty as Christian patriots.
But I fear Mr. Darlington is one of those unfortunate beings, of whom St. Paul speaks in his First Epistle to Timothy.
Chap. 1, 6—"From which things some going astray are turned aside to vain talk."
Desiring to be teachers of the law, understanding neither the things they say, nor whereof they affirm." If so his case is a hard one.
Hoping, however, that the above texts from St. Paul may cause him to repent his folly, and teach him to respect the priesthood, who St. Paul says shine as lights in the world, and thanking you for space in your excellent paper, I remain yours, etc.,
GEO. A. LESLIE.

Mink River Road Jottings.
Mr. John Irving is busily engaged in building a large boat, and preparing for the lobster fishing—when the season comes around.
Mr. Keenan, formerly of Murray River, but now in this vicinity, is doing a large business in boot and shoe making. He keeps one hand constantly employed, and says he cannot fill all the orders that he receives.
The ratepayers of Mink River Road have decided to hold a meeting in the schoolhouse, on Saturday, 28th inst., for the purpose of changing the name of the said road, as all the ninks around this settlement have disappeared, and it would be much better to have the name altered.
I wish to call the attention of my fellow-ratepayers to make an united effort, at the coming annual school meeting, to see about building a larger schoolhouse with two apartments in it, wherein the children of the district may receive a suitable education. At present in this growing settlement we have some fifty householders, with over ninety children of a school age, and it is impossible for any teacher to make scholars out of this said school, as our present teacher has between fifty and sixty of a daily average; whereas if we get the name of the said road changed and a new schoolhouse built, it would make a marked change in the place.

Worked Like Slaves.
THE CRUEL TREATMENT OF BOHEMIANS IN WEST VIRGINIA MINES.
B. Here, the correspondent of the New York Bohemian paper, who went to Pocahontas, W. Va., to investigate the reported cruel treatment of Bohemians employed on the extension of the Norfolk & Western railroad, has returned, bringing with him three men and a woman whom he rescued from one of the camps.
Mr. Here says he reached the Logan county camp on the 16th of March. All of the houses, about a dozen in number, were armed with Winchesters and revolvers, and a pack of bloodhounds were kept chained close by. He was told there were no Bohemians in the camp, but he had all the men marched before him and picked out 13 men who, upon his promise of protection, acknowledged that they were Bohemians.
He then started back to Pocahontas with the rescued men, which place was reached on the 13th. Ten of the men secured employment there, while the other three and the woman came on to New York with him.
The men say they were compelled to work like slaves under the lash, were watched night and day, chased by bloodhounds if they attempted to escape, had hardly sufficient clothing to cover their nakedness, and had no shelter from the wintry blasts at night but that afforded by the loosely built log "shacks." Their beds consisted of leaves, with the frozen earth for a pillow.

News Notes.
A woman's rule in which: When in doubt ask what is trumps.
It is remarked that the man with a lot of money is generally satisfied with his lot.
A mild winter is reported from Iceland, where it has been as warm as 3 degrees below zero, but if that is one of their mild winters what must their cold winters be!
According to a Truro paper, the hat works at that place last week turned out 192 dozen hats, which is said to be the largest week's work since the establishment has been in operation.
An Ottawa despatch says:—According to a statement received by the Minister of Customs, the rate for the carriage of dead poultry from Liverpool to London is 50s. per ton, including collection and delivery within the usual limits in both cities. A special rate for eggs of 30s. per ton in two ton lots has been struck, subject to the same conditions of collection and delivery. The tons referred to in both cases are equal to 2,250 lbs. This information will doubtless be of interest to persons engaged in the poultry and egg business in Canada.
So far as England is concerned war depends upon the disposition of her people. If the Czar, therefore, was determined to drive the English people into an alliance offensive and defensive with Austria, Germany and Italy, he could not have pursued a course better calculated to accomplish his purpose than that ascribed to him of having sanctioned the cruelty of that hideously immoral man, the Grand Duke Sergius of Russia, towards the daughter of the Princess Alice and the grand-daughter of the Queen. Personal injury of the kind described, intended to coerce individual conscience in the matter of religion, is just the thing that appeals most strongly to the vast majority of Liberal middle-class people of England, who form the strongest part of the forces which prevent England from assuming responsibilities that may lead to war. The Princess Alice was one of the most beloved of the English royal family, and her life of hardship and pathetic death, as well as her request that she be buried with the English flag wrapped around her, appeals strongly to the sentiments of the English people. That her daughter should be ill-used by the Russians because of her religious principles will arouse the anger of the people already inflamed against Russia because of its persecution of the Jews and the Czar's insolent treatment of the English people's friendly remonstrance with him on that subject.

THEY'RE GETTING ALARMED.—Advices received at Ottawa are to the effect that the people of Dakota are becoming seriously alarmed at the Canadian repatriation movement now in progress, and the government of North Dakota is holding meetings and imploring the settlers to remain in the state.
IRISH RELIEF FUND.—The St. John Globe says:—"A collection was recently taken up in the different parishes of the diocese of Charlottetown, P. E. I., for the Irish famine relief fund, and $97 was obtained." As a matter of fact the amount collected was $975.83, which has been duly forwarded.

CONTRADICTION.—It was commonly reported that Mr. Hedley Hynes' horse, which got a sleigh shaft run into his breast last Saturday, on Rustico ice, is dead. We are glad to be in a position to contradict the report. The horse is fast recovering under the skillful treatment of J. Henderson, V. S., of North River.
A COMPANY SUED.—Some months ago, says a late Halifax despatch, Mrs. Catherine York was badly injured by falling into the dock of the Canada-Atlantic S.S. Company on the arrival of the steamer Halifax, the lady, it is alleged, dying from the injuries received. Now William York, administrator of the deceased, has entered an action for damages against the company. The damages are placed at $10,000.
BIG FAMILIES IN QUEBEC.—According to a late Montreal despatch, Julian Houson, who was named some months ago to distribute the hundred acres of crown lands which the Quebec government granted to every family possessing twelve or more children, states that up to date no less than two thousand families have been reported as requiring the required number of boys and girls to receive a slice of the public bounty. The number of families are constantly increasing.
