HAPPENINGS

Alvina Mobbs, student nurse at the Prince Edward Island Hospital, received her cap and bib on February 23rd, 1959. Due to illness Alvina could not participate in the capping ceremony when it took place earlier in the month. Alvina is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mobbs, Chestnut Street, Charlottetown.

Miss Helen Tawel, R.N. Charlottetown and Miss Greta Wigginton, R.N., of Montague, left last week by plane for Baltimore, Maryland, where they will enter the Johns Hopkins Hospital to take a post graduate course in surgery.

The monthly meeting of the Earl of Hillsborough Chapter I.O.D.E. was held on March 9th, at the home of Mrs. C.R. Clark, with the Regent, Mrs. Frank Johnson presiding. Miss Marjorie Stewart reported that two chapter members attended the Red Cross dinner held at the Charlottetown Hotel.

A picture of the Queen is to be presented to the 4th Charlottetown Troop, the boy scouts of the Baptist Church.

Proceeding the meeting the chapter visited Beach Grove Hospital where island scenes were shown to patients who were able to move about, and a treat was provided for all.

"During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Marjorie Stewart.

Mrs. Keith Johnson presided over the March meeting of the Young Women's Guild of the Summerside Presbyterian Church on Monday evening in the church parlor. Plans were made to have special pictures framed for the Sunday school rooms; also the purchase of two dozen hymn books. The members were busy making articles for the bazaar in connection with the annual St. Patrick's day supper which is sponsored by the Ladies Club.

Mrs. Jack Schurman, who is at present in Prince County Hospital where she gave birth last week to identical twin boys, was tendered a stork shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walker. Friends from the Travelers Rest and New Annapolis districts gathered for this happy occasion.

Little Cathy Walker and Bobby MacInnis wheeled in a well-filled baby carriage and Mrs. Edna MacKay opened the gifts. Mrs. George Moase read the accompanying verses and Mrs. Don Schurman arranged the gifts on the table. The children's grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Schurman received the gifts on behalf of their mother.

The members of the Past Mistress Club of Memorial L.O.B.A. were guests of Mrs. L.M. Beaton King's Square for their January meeting. After routine business, a social hour was spent.

Mrs. Robert Roberts, Douglas Street, was hostess to the members of the Past Mistress Club of Memorial L.O.B.A. for their February anniversary. This being the 25th anniversary of the club, plans were made to celebrate the occasion by a full attendance at Grand Lodge. The secretary, Margaret M. Shaw was the only charter member present. A white elephant sale with Sister Annie Darrach as auctioneer was the source of much merriment and added a substantial sum to the bank account. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

A very enjoyable evening was spent recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacDougall, Unionville, when relatives and friends gathered to honour Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bryan with a shower. The decorations were in pink and white. While the bridal music was being played by Mrs. Donald Mathieson, the newlyweds took their daintily-trimmed seats of honor. The gifts were presented by Mrs. Willard Gay and opened by Mrs. Donald Mathieson while the accompanying good wishes were read by Miss Lucy Ann Kelly. The groom in a few well-chosen words thanked all for their gifts. Music supplied by the Misses Wand and Ruthie Buchanan and Carol James, Mrs. Hubert Campbell and Mrs. Donald Mathieson. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by several of the ladies. A coincidence of the event was a shower held in honour of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, the former Thelma Mitchell, at the same place about 20 years ago.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Spring Is In The Offing When First Lamb Appears

Then came the first lambkin to the flock at home. . . . At the moment, more than one flock belongs to these farms of the name.

There is Rob's which neighbours closely and often joins that of ours wintering as far bars. And how the farmers are able at a glance to distinguish between mine and thine among the number is a matter of some wonder and admiration to the cooks! And of the latter flock there are those suspected of early lambings that are brought home in successive small companies to the close care of these barns.

"We brought home more ewes this evening," Jock reported one night recently. Such news may be offered suddenly in mid-lesson of reading, or when having closed his mind to one or another of the ten of the current song hits without appeal to his ear, coming in then by radio, he sits quietly humming to himself in an old rocking chair.

"How?" we queried. "On foot?" "No, on the trailer. You see we were bringing home straw, so "he smiled remembering the novelty of the sight "we put bales around its frame made a house, you know?" and so kept the ewes inside it." "And they rode home in fine style!"

"Yes. . . . And by the look off things—that is, if all goes well with them, we're going to have a nice crop of lambs. We'll have more than one pair of twins, we think."

A baby ewe is the first home-born lambkin—one destined to run traces on the new green of Spring pastures in that rosy afterglow which takes robin-irids into their intriguing Evensong.

"Sit!" Alex, the baby of the family invited, indicating a seat when we came to visit a while this afternoon at the house across the lane. We sat. He turned then quickly to eye a calendar. "O", he pointed to the letter, beaming. "And T too!" he nodded.

"Well done!" we praised him. "You'll soon be able to make up the area in one of your Grandfather's angled pieces of new land, won't you? That will be the gay! And he'll be sorry then that you will have to be in school 'all day', when the farming so busy and lovely is beckoning you to come."

"It's curious" a son of an Island farm related when on a visit home last Summer "but when I was a boy, I couldn't get off the farm fast enough. It wasn't that I actually disliked the life, but I felt it was all hard work—with little for it. And now do you know what I intend to do? They're retiring me shortly from the business and then I'm coming to the Island to buy a bit of land."

"Why?" we asked. "Oh I can't explain. . . . I put roots down somewhere I guess. And "he grinned boyishly" to find a little peace."

Peace! Whatever else may come to us. . . . today has been peaceful and pleasant.

Until tomorrow — Diary—Good night.

apple. Transfer to freezing tray; freeze until firm, about 2 hrs. After a half hour, stir with fork to redistribute ice crystals, then continue freezing.

Serve as dessert, or as a relish with cold meats.

TOMORROW'S DINNER

Hot spiced tomato juice; lamb shank stew Michigan; buttered noodles; frozen applesauce; gingersnaps; coffee; tea; milk.

FROM THE CHEF

Lamb Shank Stew Michigan: Served in France, Mesdames, this dish would be called a ragout.

To Prepare: Coat 6 lamb shanks with seasoned flour. Brown in 1-3 c. oil. Transfer to heavily stewing pot. Add water. Boil cover, for 1 hr., or until half tender.

Add 6 sliced, peeled new carrots, 6 sliced parsnips cut 1/4" thick and 6 peeled onions sliced 1" thick. In 15 min. add 8 medium-sized, halved, peeled potatoes. Dust with 1 tsp. salt. Cover; steam-boil 30 min.

Meantime cook and drain 12 oz. broad noodles as usual. Toss with 2 tbsp. butter, 1/4 tsp. pepper and 1/2 tsp. salt.

Before serving stew, stir in 1/2 tbsp. capers with 1 tsp. caper vinegar. Arrange in a big shallow baking dish, lamb shanks and vegetables in the center with a border of noodles. Serve piping hot!

Nurse Receives Cap At Royal Vic. Ceremony

The Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, recently held its capping ceremony. Among those in the class receiving her cap was Miss Jennifer Elizabeth MacDonald, Charlottetown, daughter of Mrs. Gladys MacDonald, 256 Easton Street, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacDonald, 68 King Street.

Jenny, as she is affectionately and popularly known, was the only Prince Edward Islander in the class.

Her many relatives and friends in the province are delighted with this successful initial step in her profession. Jenny was a graduate of Notre Dame Academy and is a talented pianist. She also attended Prince of Wales College. Since living in the nurses residence, Montreal, she has had the honor to be appointed to the House committee of The Royal Victoria Hospital Nurses Residence.

Jenny was a Red Cross volunteer worker. In 1956 she represented Notre Dame Academy at a Red Cross international study centre at Hood College, Frederick, Maryland. There were one hundred delegates, the two from Prince Edward Island being Jennifer MacDonald, Charlottetown, and Barbara Clark, Summerside.

Jennifer spent her Christmas holidays in Ottawa at a classmate's home where many lovely parties were enjoyed. However, Jenny is already counting the day until summer holiday time when she will spend the holidays with her family in her beloved home province of Prince Edward Island.

GEORGETOWN W.M.S.

The March meeting of St. David's W.M.S., Georgetown, was held at the home of Mrs. Harold MacDonald on Friday, March 6th. The president, Janie Llewellyn presided and conducted the worship period on the theme "The Universal Mission of Israel". Scripture reading from the book of Jonah was read by Mrs. N. Hansen.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. N. Hansen, and approved as read.

The story of Mary Verghese was told by Dr. Brand in an address to the annual meeting of the Mission to Lepers in India was read by Janie Llewellyn. Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. H. MacDonald. Next meeting it to be held at the home of Mrs. H. Larsen. The evening closed with prayer by leader.

Fine Dishes Created From Michigan Apples

"There is no better reason for eating apples than to enjoy their fine flavor," the Chef observed, as we drove toward Big Bay, Michigan.

"Here on the Upper Peninsula I find more apples are used in home cooking than in many states we have visited. Chef," I said, "perhaps because they can be purchased in quantity, stored in cellars and kept cool through the long winter."

CHEFS' SECRETS

"Also, Madame, we have found at least one apple dish on hotel and restaurant menus. Warm apple pie, especially deep dish apple pie, is a favorite. Always with pork, applesauce is served, often hot and not-sifted.

"Some of the chefs I have met tell me they add a little butter and cinnamon or clove; others make applesauce - relish by stirring in prepared horseradish to taste. For breakfast I have been enjoying the fried apples and bacon, an all-American dish."

"And I, Chef, am delighted with the frozen applesauce."

All-measurements are level; recipes serve 4 to 6.

Fried Apples and Bacon: Pare, core, and cut in 1" cubes 10 large, tart apples or, enough to make 2 heaping qts.

Fry 1 lb. bacon in heavy skillet until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper; keep warm. Pour off all but 1/4 c. of fat from skillet. Turn in apples. Dust over 1/4 c. sugar. Cover. Slow-saut until apples are tender, then uncover. Turn gently and cook until golden brown and almost transparent.

Transfer to heated platter, ring with bacon.

Frozen Applesauce: Mix 1 qt. sweetened applesauce with 1-3 c. fine-cut candied or preserved ginger and 1 c. canned crushed pine-
