Prayer Cells Prepare For Graham Crusade

As preparations for the Billy Graham Crusade beginning June 7 step up their pace, a vast complex of "prayer cells" is penetrating the community.

This was the pattern described by Rev. T.W. Howard, who as prayer chairman for the local Crusade committee has responsibility for directing the operation. Local plans operate in four phases, according to Mr. Howard.

The first phase has been the encouragement of informal prayer in various family and church groups. Local clergymen, for example, have been meeting for an hour of prayer together each week for several months.

The second phase involves neighborhood prayer groups for women, in homes organized on an interdenominational basis. These women's groups are under the direction of Mrs. George Lewis, Mrs. Ewen Anderson, and Mrs. George Lee.

The third phase deals with interdenominational youth rallies, the first of which was held at Zion Church last Sunday. Prayer groups for men, under the direction of Reid Sangster, are held Thursday mornings at 7:30, this week to be held in Zion Church.

"Billy Graham has said that prayer is the secret power of evangelism," comments Mr. Howard, "and we believe that prayer is the most important preparation we can make for the Crusade. A Crusade is like an iceberg; much of it lies beneath the surface. These little groups may not be seen, but they will contribute much to the Crusade. We believe that Billy Graham and his team ask people in other Crusade cities to pray, that our city will literally be one of the most prayerful places in the world in the weeks to come."

ARDA Study Of Adult Ed. Announced

A comprehensive study designed to analyze needs and trends in residential adult education programs in the Maritime provinces, also being staged here May 20-21.

Some 21 teenagers were entered in the contest which was under the chairmanship of Jaycee John Walker.

The spelling contest, where each school had a three-man team, was won by Janet Trainor, Barbara Kenny, and Elaine Doucette.

The public speaking competition was won by Bernard Toussaint. In second place on a point behind was Mary Handrahan of Tignish R.H.S. Gerald Doucette was third.

Taking part in the spelling of O'Leary were: Jane MacWilliams, Geraldine Murray and Judy Shaw. Alberton: E. Oise Dalton, Jean Murray, and Diane Gallant.

On behalf of Mrs. Leone Ross, chairman of the Island Centennial school events, Merril Callaghan, supervisor of schools, presented each participant with a Centennial pen.

Judges were: William Costain, O'Leary; James Currie, Alberton; Sister St. Eileen, Sister St. Angela, Miss Yvonne Ferry and Aubin J. Gallant, all of Tignish. Mr. Callaghan was chairman.

Sister St. Mary Arnold announced the winners and introduced the students and judges.

It was pointed out that this was one of the fundamental considerations in instituting the study.

He said, "Adult education in the Maritimes, as elsewhere on this continent, has for the most part made use of the facilities at hand. Community halls, motels, hotels, summer camps, public schools, private homes, and university buildings have been and still are the centres that must be used for programs of this kind. While these facilities have served well in the formative years of adult education, as a movement, it is questionable that we can continue to regard them as adequate."

Questioned concerning the need for residential education facilities especially adapted to the requirements of adults in this region, Mr. Jones pointed out that the fundamental reason for initiating the study is to provide adult education with an accurate view of existing residential programs in the region and the demand that these programs and projected programs will place on existing facilities in the future. More than that, however, it is expected that a study of residential adult education programs and institutions at home and abroad will provide a wealth of information which can be adapted for use with adult groups in this region.

When plans were first made for the holding of the 1964 Dominion Drama Festival in Charlottetown there were some misgivings that the audiences would measure up to size. But last night's opening proved the fear unfounded. Here a patrons crowd into the foyer of the recently completed Confederation Theatre one of the main buildings in the Fathers complex in downtown Charlottetown.

on King Street was given 20 days suspended sentence with commitment held; Chester McClellan, Elm Avenue was fined $10 and Augustus Quinn, Gt. George Street received a reprimand to May 23.

John David Norton of Mt. Allison was fined $10 and costs because of faulty brakes. Joseph Blaquiere, Dorchester Street received a fine of $20 and costs for having no licence and no registration for his car. A man was fined $10 and costs for going through a red light.

THE concluding session for this four-day series will be held at the Legion Home in O'Leary again under the chairmanship of Bruce MacNaught on behalf of the O'Leary branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. The objective for O'Leary will be 150 donors.

The goal for the Centennial Year clinics? Mr. Jones said "is a 100 per cent response at every clinic so that a 100 per cent blood supply may be maintained for those who require this service." Mr. Jones commented that it was highly gratifying that Charlottetown had set the pace for the other centres in the province by achieving a 104.4 per cent result at the first of the series for the year held at Zion Church hall early in April.

There was a heavy docket in city police court Saturday morning. Magistrate A. J. Haslam QC. fined three men for speeding a total of $18 and costs. They were Elmer J. Mulligan, Emerald RR 2, John A. MacPhail, Wilbur Drive and Maynard Paul Gallant of North Rustico.

Gerald Smith of Johnston's River was fined $10 and costs for driving on a place other than their residences. James O'Brien, Jordan Crescent, received a reprimand from the magistrate on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Dewey M. Doyle, Baber Street, was remanded in custody until today on a similar charge. Also on like charges: Joseph Carr-
