KLONDYKE GOLD BELOW PAR.

At Least This is What the New York Assayers Assert.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The first consignment of gold from the far off Klondike, so far as its intrinsic value is concerned, is disappointing to the assignee, the Bank of America.

The shipment comprised two lots. One weighed 44 45-100 ounces, and the other 10 17-100 ounces. The gold in the first lot assayed .749 fine, making its value $15 48 an ounce. The silver assayed .246 fine. The gold in the other lot assayed .820 1-2 fine, making its value $16 95 an ounce, while the silver turned out .174 fine.

California gold, which passes through the hands of the assayers here, assays .850 fine, and is worth at least $17 50 an ounce.

It being the first shipment that had reached this city, no time was lost in sending it for reduction to the assay office in Wall street, where the fever to reach the value of Alaska gold was so great that the wisecracks gathered, anxious to even get a look at the precious consignment. After a hasty examination of the stuff in the rough, the experts were unanimous in the opinion that, compared with either California or Madagascar gold, the Klondike wasn't in it.

Assayer Graham looked disappointed. He said the first sample of gold from the Klondike was of a very poor quality, but there is no telling what the next sample might show. Mr. Graham said there was a possibility that the shipment was made in a hurry and perhaps ought not to be taken as a criterion.

All the government officials who examined the gold pronounced it as far below what they expected it would be in value. Superintendent Mason, it was said characterized it as miserable stuff.

MARTINVALE ECHOES.

The people of Martinvale are pleased to have their genial friend Mr. H. L. Nicholson again in their midst, although sorry to note the serious injuries he received while working on a building in Boston a short while ago, having his shoulder and arm broken.

Supervisor McDonald was in the settlement last week with the road-maker, and made a good job of the roads. Road-car drivers will now be the order of the day.

Mr. D. McLean is busily engaged putting the finishing touches on his new house, which when completed, will be a charming edifice. This is evidently the forerunner of a happy event in the near future.

A Shaw, Esq., is doing a rushing business in the butchering line, having purchased several very fine oxen a few days ago.

The members of Albion Lodge, I. O. G. T., repaid the visit of Martinvale Lodge, on the evening of Sept. 1st. They were accompanied by a number of the members from Upton Lodge. The entertainment given by Martinvale Lodge was rich but well received, particularly the recitation by Bro. A. McKay. The visiting members then took part. Splendid addresses were delivered by Bros. Clay, Matheson and others, and a charming reading by Sister H. Gay. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the visiting members, coupled with an urgent request that they pay another visit as soon as convenient.

A value was found at or near the school house on the morning of the 2nd inst. The owner can have the same by applying to the secretary of trustees and proving property.

I notice that "Jonathan," the writer of Eastern News Nuggets, leads off with a very singular question. It appears he has never been to Martinvale or become acquainted with the fair belles of that flourishing settlement, or he would not ask such a question. Or it may be that he visit the place and went to the most remote house, and the e got left.

NEWS NOTES.

The results of sixteen days' run at the Mikado mine, Bat Portage, is two gold bricks. Their assay value is $16,000.

Newfoundland reports say the Labrador cod catch is one-third below last year and that fishing is poor.

Winnipeg calculations put this year's wheat for exports from Manitoba and the North-West at 30,000,000 bushels, as against 48,000,000 bushels last year.

Another foolhardy man has jumped from the Brooklyn bridge. Although bridge jumping is more dangerous than polar exploration, the uncertainty does not last so long.

Advices just received at Vancouver state the rebellion is yet in full swing in the Philippine Islands, and that the insurgents are making what would once be considered excessive demands as conditions of peace.

A minister in the North of Scotland took to task one of his hearers who was a frequent absentee. The accused man defended himself on the plea of a dislike to long sermons. "Deed, mon," said his reverend monitor, "if ye dinna mend, ye may land yersel' where ye'll nae be troubled wi' sermons short or long." Well, aiblins sae," replied John, "But it may be use for the want of ministers."

Joseph Parker, of Richmond Hill, L. I., has been arrested for stealing his own horse. It appears that the law is very clear as to the impounding of a lost animal, but there is an absence of lucidity in its rulings as to the redemption of the impounded and even to the feeding of the animal. Parker's horse became hungry, and Parker's sympathies were aroused, and with an axe he smashed the pound gate and took his horse home. Now he is being prosecuted for larceny, and will probably be punished.

A suit for $1,550 damages has been filed at Tallulah Falls, Ga., which develops a rather unique story. The suit is brought by a lady for property lost in the burning of the Grand View Hotel, and the proprietor has filed an answer that at an evening sociable the young woman was hypnotized and playfully commanded to fire the hotel. When she retired to her room it is claimed that she literally obeyed the hypnotist's injunction and thus robbed herself of the right to sue.

Piano Recital to-night by Mr. Morris.

THE CINEMATOGRAF WILL BE IN TOWN.

A Marvellous Discovery.

If there is one thing that profoundly astonishes, it is to see the results that science has been able to obtain from photography.

Far distant now are those poor photographs, unfinished daubs of Daguerre and Niepce, and how astonished would the inventors themselves be to witness the improvements their invention has undergone!

Beyond contradiction, the most astonishing, the most marvellous of these and the one whose incomparable results are to-day the wonder and admiration of the whole world is that of the cinematograph, the mysterious instrument which gives life to that which is death, motion to that which is motionless, the instrument which causes the most varied scenes of the earth to pass before the spectator. It is simply amazing for every person.

The figures are of life-size. They walk, talk, drink, act as if they were bodily present before you; you see water running, soldiers marching, vehicles rolling along, horsemen trotting, etc., etc., the whole reproduced with an impressive clearness and accuracy. It is simply stupifying for every person, and everything is a veritable portrait.

How much it is to be regretted that past ages had not at their disposal a similar means of portrayal! How curious, and of what a documentary value would have been such an invention in the time of the wars of Napoleon.

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, 13th, 14th and 15th September, our fellow citizens will have the happy chance of having in this town in the Kindergarten Hall one of the best apparatus of the French inventor.

Let them not lose the opportunity of going to see it. We are persuaded that they will participate in our admiration and not regret the 25 cents that the sight of such a wonder will cost them.

The views are changed every night. The cinematograph is the only true apparatus, and is infinitely superior to all imitations.

Doors open at 7.30 o'clock. Admission 25c. Children 15c. Reserved seats 35c.

Piano Recital to-night by Mr. Morris.

The Montreal Gazette reports: Cheese was quiet on spot today, and with buyers and sellers apart it is difficult to arrive at a correct quotation. If a buyer went out into the market he could not get any finest Ontario under 9 3/4c, and it is worthy of note that 9 1/2c paid in the country today.

The run to and from Wiltshire was made in the Superintendent's private coach, and the party was accompanied by Superintendent Sharpe, Sir Louis H. Davies, Hon. John Yeo and Hon. Donald Farquharson.

Montreal Star: It is difficult to believe that the responsible leaders of the Liberal party had trudge along much farther in premeditated oblivion of the protests showering in from all sides against the open abandonment of the traditional party platform by the present Government, which carries the Liberal name, but has dumped the Liberal policy.
