RIPLEY'S BELIEVE IT OR NOT

CONTRACT BRIDGE

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♦	1♥	1♠	Pass
2♦	2♥	3♦	Pass
3♦	4♦	(!) Pass	Pass (!)
Dble.	4♥	Dble.	Pass
4♠

Opening lead—six of diamonds.

This fascinating hand was played in a rubber bridge game many years ago. Star billing goes to Milton M. Miller, of Toronto, who held the East hand.

The bidding went along smoothly until Miller bid four diamonds, the suit his opponents had been bidding. His purpose was clear—he wanted West to lead a diamond in case South became declarer in a spade contract.

But West, for reasons unknown, passed four diamonds. Perhaps he didn't relish the idea of bidding four hearts with his dreadful hand, or maybe he just fell asleep at the switch, or possibly the pass was deliberate on his part, since he wouldn't have minded going down even ten undoubled.

But North chased Miller back into hearts and then contracted for the spade game. Apparently West had some idea of the significance of the four diamond cuebid because he opened a diamond.

Miller trumped and returned . . . a low heart. Declarer played low and West, much to his astonishment, won the heart with the eight. When he had sufficiently recovered from his surprise, West returned a diamond which Miller ruffed with the king. It was the third trick for the defense.

Miller didn't test his luck anymore. He led the ten of hearts and South went down one.

The last thing we would want to do is criticize South for having failed to play his nine on the first heart lead. The though that the nine might hold the trick could scarcely have entered his mind, except in retrospect.

The accolades belong to East, who had the presence of mind to make the four diamond cuebid and then had the imagination and daring to underlead his powerful hearts in a desperate effort to defeat the contract.

Canada Is Urged To Continue Non-Recognization Of China

OTTAWA (CP) — Walter S. Robertson, United States assistant secretary of state, in effect asked Canada Friday to continue its policy of not recognizing Communist China.

In a defence of U.S. China policy before the Canadian Club of Ottawa Friday Mr. Robertson said:

"You might think from much of what you read in the press that the U.S. occupies an isolated position in its refusal to recognize Red China.

"I would remind you that of the free countries of the world, 44 recognize the Republic of China, 22 recognize Peiping . . . . of the 13 countries of the Far East, only three recognize Red China."

"Other countries, particularly those most exposed to the immediate menace of Communist power, have been following the lead of such countries as yours and ours.

"Many of them are watching anxiously to see what we are going to do. If we should begin to break ranks and withdraw opposition to the reckless course of this aggressor, these countries would have no alternative but to get on the bandwagon so as not to be left out on a limb of opposition, deserted by strong free world support."

DEFINES POLICY

Mr. Robertson, sometimes described as the architect of U.S. China policy, summed it up in these words:

"It is the policy of the U.S. to meet this pervasive threat (of communism) by helping to build up the military, political and economic strength of our Far Eastern allies and friends as rapidly as possible. This is the sole purpose of our mutual security programs in these countries.

"On the one hand, our policy is to face up to the realities of Chinese Communist objectives, opposing the further spread of Chinese Communist influence and power.

"On the other hand, as a principal means to this end, our policy is to keep alive, support and strengthen a non-Communist Chinese government, firmly oriented to the free world, as a foil and a challenge to the fanatical, aggressive, hostile and threatening international Communist regime of Peiping, an implacable enemy dedicated to the destruction of all the foundations upon which a free society rests."

Chicago To Get More Water From Lake Michigan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives voted 238 to 142 Friday to permit Chicago to divert more water from Lake Michigan.

The majority overrode protests that Canadian objections to the bill should be considered, along with warnings that Canada might retaliate by diverting Upper Columbia River waters away from the U.S. Pacific northwest.

A bill passed by the House would permit the Chicago sanitary district to divert an additional 1,000 cubic feet a second of water into the Illinois waterway—the state's main link to the Mississippi River.

The district now is permitted to withdraw an average of 1,500 cubic feet a second to aid navigation and improve sanitary conditions in the waterway.

Two similar bills passed in previous years have been vetoed by President Eisenhower because of Canada's objections.

Seven Die In Blazing Home

EASTON, Me. (AP)—A blazing home on a snow-blocked road was a death trap early Friday for seven persons—a father, five of his six children and a guest.

John Hersey, 41, a firefighter at Loring air force base and a one-time professional boxer, died with his friend, Carl Lundy, 50, and these Hersey children: John, 12, Victoria, 8, James, 7, Elizabeth, 5, and Cindy, 4.

Mrs. Hersey, 40, and her 13-year-old daughter Deanna crashed through a first-floor window in their five-room, cottage-type home and escaped with burns and cuts.

Fire officials, who spent long hours in driving snow recovering the bodies, could not determine the cause of the blaze.

Saturday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
