Hyalinths for Glass Culture

No use to use small Bulbs for Glass Culture. You lose your time and trouble. Get the best colors. Cheap, poor Bulbs for house culture are a delusion and a fraud. Most of the so called bargains in Bulbs are of this kind. They are "coils" small Bulbs of weak vitality, and poor color. Their only merit is cheapness and they are really "dear at a gift". Buy our large named Hyalinths, they are the finest grown in Holland.

Church Unity.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—At the Episcopal convention in the house of the deputies, after a debate which has continued for several days, a step in the direction of church unity was taken. The discussion of this subject was precipitated by the offering of an amendment to the constitution by the Rev Dr Huntington, of New York. While agreeing with the principle of this, the deputies finally decided to adopt a briefer amendment offered by Mr Faude, of Minneapolis, as follows:

"But provision may be made by the canon for the temporary use of other forms and directors of worship by congregations not already in union with this church, who are willing to accept the spiritual oversight of the bishop of the diocese."

The amendment if adopted by the bishops, will go to the diocese for action, and must be passed upon by the next general convention before it becomes operative.

Lord Herschell at Halifax.

HALIFAX, Oct. 18.—The Bar Society of Nova Scotia entertained Lord Herschell at dinner last night. The company numbered seventy. Lord Herschell's speech, which lasted only about thirty minutes, was listened to with delight. There were seven toasts, including the Queen, Lord Herschell, army and navy, the bench of Nova Scotia, bar, the United States, civic, local and federal governments, Halifax, banking and commerce.

SPANISH PEACE COMMISSION

Getting Down to Business.

SOME PLAIN TALK BY THE AMERICANS.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A despatch to a London news agency from Paris says: "Today (Monday) the conference reached a crisis for the first time. Judge Day presented the demands of the American commissioners in threatening words. He said that delay was the only possible object attainable by the persistent efforts of the Spanish commissioners to saddle the United States with Cuban debt, and would be tolerated no longer, as the United States would neither assume nor guarantee any part of the debt."

"The Spaniards replied that this placed Spain in a position of repudiating or reducing the face value of the Cuban bonds from 50 to 60 per cent, paying only half the stipulated interest on the reduced value. Before they would adopt either alternative they would surrender to the United States the entire Philippines."

"Judge Day responded that the surrender of the Philippines would probably be demanded, irrespective of the Cuban or any other debt."

"This—to the Spaniards the first intimation of the intentions of the United States as to the Philippines—resulted in a whispered conference, followed by a request for an adjournment in order to communicate with Madrid. Judge Day said that President McKinley had instructed him to demand the entire surrender of Porto Rico to-morrow (Tuesday), and the delivery of every town to the United States officers before midnight, together with the evacuation of Havana on or before Nov. 1, when the United States would be at the gates of the city ready to take possession."

"There was no alternative offered in the case of either of these demands and the session consequently was very brief. The American commissioners have received despatches from Washington indicating that the administration is irritated and indignant over the delay of the Spanish commissioners."

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says: "At the sitting of the peace commission this (Monday) afternoon the American commissioners officially—and it would seem definitely—rejected the idea of accepting sovereignty over Cuba for the United States. The Spanish commissioners thereupon remarked that Spain, having abandoned such sovereignty under pressure from the United States, and the United States having denied that sovereignty henceforth belongs to them; Cuba is de facto in a state of anarchy, as an intermission of sovereignty cannot be viewed in any other light."

"The American commissioners rejoined that, without accepting sovereignty, the United States considered themselves deputed and bound to maintain security for all the inhabitants; that they would not fail to introduce and uphold order, and in short, that they would do all that was necessary to put the island as speedily as possible in a state of normal organization, to be transformed at the earliest moment into a legal regularity, satisfactory for the security of all."

"Upon this the Spanish commissioners, with what seems striking logic, promptly replied that by the fact of the declaration just made them of the United States under taking to restore legality, order and security, the United States were invested with veritable sovereignty, and consequently could not refuse to accept the consequences of such sovereignty, seeing that they admittedly could not tolerate the relapse into anarchy of an island placed under their supervision and direction."

"Notwithstanding these striking objections the American commissioners persisted in their refusal and officially declared that the United States could not be considered invested with sovereignty. According to impressions I have been able to collect in various circles unconnected with either side, but entitled to weight, the refusal of the United States is not of so positive a character as would at first sight seem to result from the formal declarations mentioned."

"The reasoning given me is this: The United States have declared that they made a war, not of conquest, but of liberation and order, because they could not allow the prolongation at their very door of a state of things which was, in their eyes, a blow to the cause of humanity and civilization. They therefore, made a public declaration that the war was not one of conquest; and they now consider that by agreeing to be invested with the sovereignty of Cuba, they would give themselves the appearance of having conquered the island for territorial aggrandizement. They refuse to give themselves the appearance of a conquering nation. Hence they positively refuse to accept that capacity of sovereignty which would be inconsistent with the character of humanitarian disinterestedness essential to the honor of America."

Early Winter.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 17.—The earliest winter storm in the Southwest in twenty-five years, and the worst early storm on record, has today almost completely shut Kansas city off from wire communication with the south, the west and the north. An opening on the east has alone kept the city from being totally isolated. It has been raining for the past twenty-four hours. Shortly after midnight last night the rain turned to snow and the temperature dropped perceptibly. Steadily since then a dense wet snow, driven by north wind at points reaching the velocity of a gale, has fallen.

Hundreds of telegraph and telephone poles have either been blown down or broken by the weight of the snow covered wires.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 17.—Snow has fallen steadily throughout Nebraska during the day, and tonight an increasing gale is blowing, and lower temperature, and has all the marks of a January nor'wester.
