The bugs look similar to army worms, except that they are hairy and have a white strip down their sides. They are found in their early stages coming from the headlands and the hedges and bushes that border fields. They are usually seen about mid-September and will last through till the fall.

Controls for these bugs consist of DDT applications, either spray or dust. If using dust use 20 pounds 5 per cent DDT dust and if the spray is used one quart of DDT spray. It is advisable when using the spray to use a spreader and sticker. The spray should be a fine spray and under high pressure, with good coverage on the leaves and if possible the root as well.

Minister's In United Church To Receive Salary Increase

By DAVE BUTLER

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The United Church general council has approved a recommendation that salaries of ordained ministers be increased $150 annually for two years.

Sitting in the seventh day of the 21st biennial meeting, the 600 commissioners supported another recommendation that the principle of maintaining a national minimum salary applicable throughout the whole church be continued.

The minimum salary for ordained ministers, now $4,100, will be raised to $4,250 in 1965 and to $4,400 in 1966.

In addition, each minister will be provided with a free furnished manse, and the cost of heating the manse in excess of $200.

Opposition to the action came from Rev. J. W. Scott of Erikdale, Man., who said he had been on a minimum salary for six years and "haven't found it to be a sacrifice." He said the increase was not needed in many parts of the country. "In fact, I am in the top income bracket in my parish."

RAISES NECESSARY

Rev. A. G. Eagle of Sarnia, Ont., speaking in support of the increases, said the raises were especially needed in the Maritimes and the West.

"When I go back there will be a pile of letters from the Maritimes and the western conferences written by ministers asking for a place in the London district," he said. "The sum of $150 is little enough for a church of our size, our strength and our power to give."

The council also approved a resolution stating that a commission of laymen and ministers be set up to "study the social and moral problems related to the rapid introduction of technological change." It would also make recommendations to the general council of 1966 in the form of an outline of principles "which would apply Christian values."

Following acceptance of a report from the British Columbia conference on the Freedomite problem, the council agreed to urge the federal and provincial governments involved "to unite their efforts, to enlist the support of interested non-governmental parties and to work out, in a manner consistant with democratic principles, a creative approach to the Freedomite problem."
