Where We Fit is a series inaugurated by the Student Union to find out where we really do fit in the Student Union, in the University, in the Community, in the society. Regular Thursday afternoon sessions will be held in the Barn from 12-4, the first two hours consisting of entertainment.

The plans for the series are still tentative. On Thurs Oct. 23, the executive will be there to answer questions They have now been in office for six months. Let's ask them questions- questions such as... What's the use of a Student Union? Can we get along without it? What happens to our forty dollars? Have these five people the right to speak for us? Where do we fit in Student Union?

The second session deals with the university and the community. We have invited Premier Campbell to come to the Barn and talk about what the role of the university is on the "Island". Let us ask him what he feels the role of the student is on P.E.I. What can we do as the Island University for the Island? What can the Island do for us? Where do we, as students, fit into the community? Do we play a vital role? Let's ask our Premier.

For the third week, we have invited the Student Services people to come to the Barn. We hope that we will be able to gain a greater insight into the services offered by Student Services and we will have a chance to tell these people what we feel their role is at the university. Let's ask them what they can do for us. What is our role in their department and in the university? Where do we fit?

The last session before the "finale" deals with students, in particular women, in society. What is the role of the women in the university and in the society? Why is it that the Senate, Board of Governors, and Student Union are predominately male? We are trying to invite someone from a rape crisis centre and someone who is knowledgeable about abortions here in Charlotte-town to answer our questions.

The first four sessions are warm-ups. On Nov. 20th we are going to try and stage an all-day teach-in. The Aims and Objectives Report is out and has touched directly or indirectly on the preceding topics. If implemented, this report is going to have a major impact on, the students at U.P.E.I. Last year we talked about where we felt the university should be going. Now the committee has defined it - What's our reaction? Where do we fit according to the report? Is that where we really want to fit?

What has been outlined is a tentative schedule. Nothing has been finalized. Last year the sessions in the Barn were great. We had a chance to say our mind. That's what the intent of the Where We Fit series is, to let people who are making rules for us find out how we feel about things.
