Mr. Ouimet said the corporation has "very reason to believe that we will be able to deal with all these (15 unsigned affiliates) before the end of September," when the existing networks would be dismantled.

The BBG has the power to force privately-owned stations to join the proposed new network, which would go into operation Oct. 1.

Still opposition was expected from some of the private stations involved along with CBC-owned stations in the new network would be 41 of Canada's 58 privately-owned English-language radio stations. They would require at least 25 hours and seven minutes a week of CBC programs. Most of these network obligations would be unopposed and nearly all would be in day shift hours. Thus, the affiliated private stations would be giving up some of their best revenue-producing time in order to carry the CBC programs.

By including the private stations along with its own 24 radio stations and 81 low-power

Yank Says Soviets May Aim At Other Place Than Moon

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—An official of the manned spacecraft centre here said Monday the United States does not plan to have two men on the moon in flight at the same time until 1964.

James A. Chamberlain, Canada-born director of Project Gemini, said the centre hopes to rendezvous two capsules in space in 1964.

"But, unlike the Russians, we will have two men in one capsule and two in the other," he added.

Chamberlain, a native of Kamloops, B.C., described the current Russian project as a "complicated step forward in space technology."

Canada has sold about 500,000 cords of these softwoods in the U.S.

The U.S. state department has been exploring the possibility of holding joint talks with
