

Jay And Purcell Win Top Honors At S.D.U. Track And Field Meet

A Mount Stewart boy, Paul Jay won top honors in the senior competitions and a Charlottetown student Billy Purcell was the best junior all-around athlete in the annual track and field day events held yesterday at Saint Dunstan's University.

Young Jay, a freshman student scored a total of 15 points, one more than his closest competitor Pierre Michaud. Andre Lapointe was third in the senior division with 11 points.

Billy Purcell, who also stars at hockey and baseball, easily won the junior honors. He had a total of 26 points compared to 12 for Ed Dalton and six for third place man Art Seaman.

The juniors won out in the senior inter-class competitions by a wide margin. The sophomores placed second with 27 points and the seniors third with 18. The juniors had 53 points.

In the junior inter-class competitions the freshmen defeated their younger opponents in Grades XII, XI and X. Freshmen scored 39 points, Grade XI had 23 points and the Grade XII and Grade X team combined had 15.

The co-eds for the first time invaded the field that was supposedly dominated by the boys and carried off a second and third place in the mile walk. Mary Farmer placed second and Mary Heustis third.

Canadiens Turn Over Six Players To St. Mary's

MONTREAL, Oct. 2 (CP)—National Hockey League Canadiens turned over six players to Halifax St. Mary's, coach Wilfrid Fields of the Maritime Major Hockey League club said today.

The sextet worked out with the St. Mary's squad at their noon-hour practice session today and Fields said he was impressed with the showing.

Coach Fields said he was particularly interested in Les Keating who showed well in today's practice. "The boys will be with us until the end of the school, and you can tell them in Halifax I'll have a sharp team," he said.

The St. Mary's coach said he had six forward lines, five defence-men and two goalkeepers working out. Eleven more players are expected to arrive Thursday. One of them will be Nick Pidsodny, last year's netminder with Sydney Millionaires.

So far the team has only gone through skating practice, but start scrimmages tomorrow, Field said.

THE GUARDIAN, CHARLOTTETOWN OCTOBER 3, 1951

With the first intercollegiate football game only four days away coach A. J. MacAdam is busy these evenings putting his Saint Dunstan's University team through their final practices in preparation for their meeting Saturday with Mount A. The Saints were supposed to play a practice game with the Abbies yesterday but the latter team were unable to turn out in sufficient numbers to go on the field. The Saints lineup for Saturday will be practically the same as the one outlined in this paper a short while ago with possibly one or two changes. The Mounties are expected to field a strong squad as, unlike the Saints, all of their last year's team with the exception of one man has returned to College.

Coach Ev. McNeill and his junior baseball Abbies have a big task facing them this weekend when they clash three times with Springhill Tankers for Maritime junior baseball honors. According to reports Springhill has a snappy junior team and also a fighting one as their series with the Lewisville Cubs showed. Benny Carson will likely get the pitching assignment in the opening game here Sunday with Donnie MacLean, Jackie Burke and Cliff Ready being ready for the two games at Springhill on Monday. Springhill also has a couple of pretty fair ball tossers who held Lewisville to a limited number of hits in their series last week.

Two hockey players, who performed with the Islanders last season are shown in pictures of the Vancouver News-Herald along with Murph Chamberlain. Frankie Bathgate is shown looking at a picture of his brother Bernie who used to play with the Canucks and under the picture is the caption "Frank Hopes to Fill Bernie's Shoes."

In the other picture "Crusher" Conway is shown along with two other defensemen doing push-ups in an hotel room under the watchful eye of the old "Hard-Rock" Chamberlain.

There may be trouble brewing in the goalie situation in the Maritime Major Hockey League. First it was the Sydney Millionaires with Nick Pidsodny and now it is the Saint John Beavers with Phil Hughes. Pidsodny went to Buffalo for a try-out and the Beavers who are connected with the Montreal Canadiens and consequently Halifax Saint Mary's want to send Nick to Halifax, leaving Sydney in the lurch. Now Hughes, a stand-out last season has been signed with St. Louis Flyers and the Flyers reportedly want to loan him to Buffalo.

Harvey C. Lehman of Ohio University, after much lengthy study and research on the question of comparing an athlete's age with his peak ability has prepared a pamphlet on the subject. He claims that a pitcher is at his best at 27, while other baseball players reach their peak at 28. Professional hockey players are most proficient at 26 and pro footballers at 26. Professional boxers are at their best at 23 with the best age for a fighter being from 23 to 27.

Of course there are exceptions to this rule. On the youthful side Bob Feller struck out 16 American League batters in one game at the age of 16 to set a major league record and Ty Cobb led the American League in batting with an average of .350 in 1907 when he was only 20. On the other hand Jersey Joe Walcott won the World's Heavyweight boxing crown when he was 37 or older and Satchel Paige is a winning pitcher in the American League although he may be about 50.

At Practise Session Yesterday

Islanders In Longest And Roughest Practise

The three prodigal sons, Bruno Favero, George McLagan and Hub Beaudry arrived from Providence Reds camp Monday night and turned out at the Forum yesterday to take part in the roughest and longest practices of the three-day-old hockey season.

The boys roughed it up slightly during the morning workout which lasted an hour and a half but it was only a preview of what was to come last night when Johnny "Do-Check" Dutchak, big Phil, McLagan and Company started to hand out those body smashes.

Morris "Moose" Lallo was the first casualty of the season when he suffered a painful charley horse in the right leg at the morning session. Morris was out skating last night but states it will be at least several days before trainer Earl Nicholson has him back in playing condition.

Young Orin Carver received a bad bruise on the right cheek bone when he was struck with a flying puck last night.

Series Tied

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 2 (AP) — Jim (Buzz) Clarkson belted one into the centrefield bleachers with two men on tonight to give Milwaukee a 4-2 victory over Montreal and square the Little World Series at two games each.

Had Lucky Clothes On, Robinson Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP) — Jackie Robinson flashed the broadest smile in the jubilant Brooklyn dressing room today after the Dodgers had mauled New York Giants 10-0 to tie the play-off for the National League pennant.

"They've had their lucky clothes on, now we've got some lucky clothes on ourselves," said the great Brooklyn second baseman and clutch player who hit a home run and two singles in the Polo Grounds debacle.

"That means the whole season is wrapped up in tomorrow's game. We're not celebrating. We're just even. Everything goes tomorrow."

Over in another corner of the sweaty room, manager Charles Dressen, grinned but obviously pleased, announced he would send Don Newcombe, the towering Negro righthander and 20-game winner, against the Giants' Sal Maglie in the climactic contest.

"He asked to pitch," said Harold Parrott, secretary of the Dodgers. Newcombe, who worked nine innings Saturday and 5 2/3 Sunday to help keep Dodgers hopes alive, said he hadn't asked for the assignment but he was glad to get it.

Calmer man in the madhouse was Clem Labine, the 26-year-old righthander who silenced Giant bats with six hits, not yielding a run in the last 4-2-3 innings.

"It's a wonderful feeling," he said, "but, shucks, it's nothing when you have guys like Jackie Robinson and those others behind you."

Labine said he fed the New Yorkers a diet of curve balls and sinkers, fanning the Giants' Bobby Thomson in the third inning with the bases full on an overhand curve.

Dressen praised Labine's pitching, declaring "I figured he could do it," but said he was particularly pleased with the way some of his hitters have suddenly come around.

"Duke Snider is swinging at the ball again and Gil Hodges seems to have pulled out of his long slump. Their failure to hit has been hurting us."

The gloom and defeatism that crept into every corner of the Dodger dressing room after yesterday's 3-1 opening game loss was swept away today. In its place was a calm sort of confidence.

"Things look better," was all Dressen would say.

Duck Population In King's County Reported Large

Reports yesterday indicated a fairly large duck population on the King's County marshes, a number greater than in former years. For the past several years sportsmen have complained that the number of ducks dwindled to a very few across the Dominion, and as a result a survey was made. Findings showed that a peculiar disease had decimated the numbers to such an extent that the situation had become serious. This year, however, there has been an upsurge, and once again the sportsmen have come into their own.

Literally hundreds of guns were flashing in the early hours of Monday, opening day. The head of Pisquid Pond resembled a battle field as the red flashes broke the dawn.

Ducks, which had lived in peace for almost a year, rose in consternation and fear at this new threat to life, and fled to the open waters. But in their passage many fell victims of the deadly aim of the gun-toters. As the day progressed more and more ducks fell, until many hunters completed the bag limit. Yet there were some, the luckless ones, who failed to bag any.

At Fortune and Flat River it was the same story, but in Murray Harbour North they moved out high in the air so that the hunters had poor shots.

The general consensus in King's shows a good supply of ducks, and all that remains is for the hunter to be good enough to shoot them.

A large percentage of the hunters moved into the fields later in the day to try their luck at Hungarian partridge. Many again took the limit, which gives indication of abundant numbers of upland game this year.

A few large coveys were reported, but in general coveys of 8 to 10 predominated.

There were some reports of shooting prior to the opening of the season, a situation which generally occurs every fall, and which is difficult to control.

Only by quick notification to the authorities can it be remedied, and the culprits arrested.

The need of dogs was plainly evident on the ponds, as many ducks were shot and the hunters were unable to get them. There have been many arguments for and against dogs, but anyone who has seen the ducks lying in the water out of reach would have been convinced, since without them there is a loss of game birds. Throughout the whole season the number of lost wounded game is extensive, and every effort should be made to reduce this to a minimum.

Defense Looks Good

The defense, the best in the Maritimes last season, was looking good last night. Larry Travis, Phil Vitale, Dutchak, Bob Gray, George McLagan and "Spy" Ready were all handing out body checks and proving hard to go around.

Coach Leo Lamoureux had a few words of praise for all the local boys trying out with the team. After watching Lorne Hennessey make a good play he remarked that the young fellow should become quite a hockey player if he keeps improving the way he has been doing the past few days.

The condition of the ice for the time of year is remarkable and has been praised by the players. Forum Manager Bill Brown and his staff of Cap and the boys have been working day and night to put down a good sheet of ice.

Two more hockey players may be turning out with the boys today. They are Danny Horeck who is believed on the way here and Gordie Simpson from North-

Dodgers Come Up Off Floor To Down Giants With 10-0 Shutout

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Brooklyn's redoubtable Dodgers, a single defeat from extinction and supposedly knocked to a frazzle, came off the floor today to hammer New York Giants into submission, 10-0, and carry the play-off for the National League flag down to the final desperate gasp at the Polo Grounds tomorrow.

While Clem Labine, 26-year-old crew-cut rookie, was carving his initials on the Giants' wrecking crew, Jackie Robinson and his fellow sluggers tore into three second-line Giant pitchers for 13 ringing blows, including four home runs, to snap a victory string that had reached eight straight.

Labine, who rejoined the Dodgers late in July from St. Paul, mowed the Durochermen down methodically through the gloomy, rainy afternoon. He yielded only six hits in gaining his fifth win against one defeat for the season.

What the Dodgers did to Sheldon Jones, George Spencer and Al Corwin was brutal. Robinson, Gil Hodges, Andy Pafko and Al (Rube) Walker, the flock's substitute backstop, all belted homers. Walker's went over the right-field stands with two out in the ninth to end the slaughter.

Robinson, a somewhat sad figure in Brooklyn's 3-1 defeat in Monday's first playoff game, also bored two singles into the outfield grass, and it was his second safety which knocked Jones, the Giants' starter, out of the one-sided contest. Walker, playing for the crippled Roy Campanella, also pitched in with a brace of singles. Every Dodger except Carl Furillo scored at least once during the demoralizing assault.

Beavers Seek Pre-Season Exhibition Games

TORONTO, Oct. 2 (CP) — Coach Johnny (Peanuts) O'Flaherty pushed 18 players through their paces at suburban Weston Arena today as Saint John Beavers of the Maritime Major Hockey League swung into their second day of training.

O'Flaherty, who last year coached Toronto St. Michael's junior and senior teams in Ontario Hockey Association play, said he is seeking a few exhibition dates before moving his club east where they begin their regular schedule Oct. 17.

Newest addition to the camp is Jack Meldrum, a fast-skating forward who played with St. Mike's seniors last season. He showed well in his first workout.

Only three players of last season's Beavers now are working with the squad. They are Nick Nicolle, Jack Thaler and Jackie Heon. Heon, 20 pounds overweight, hopes to hit his regular playing weight before long.

O'Flaherty said Phil Hughes, who played goal for St. Michael's Majors last season, has signed a contract with St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey League. He added that Hughes might be lent to Buffalo Bisons by the Flyers although he hoped to get the remainder of the Beavers.

Durocher To Start Maglie In Game Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP) — Leo Durocher, a great believer in baseball's percentages, passed up tied Sal Maglie in favor of well-rested but ineffective Sheldon Jones to pitch the second playoff game against the Dodgers for the National League pennant today.

Jones and the Giants lost, so tomorrow Durocher will go with the big man on his mound staff, 23-game winner Maglie.

"It's Maglie tomorrow," Durocher said as he dropped into a chair in the Giants clubhouse after Brooklyn had won the second post-season game, 10-0, to tie the series.

"I couldn't use him today. He had only two days' rest. I didn't even discuss it with Sal."

"There's nothing you can do about that," Leo shouted as the reporters first trooped in. "We just got beat. Clem Labine pitched good game against us, that's all."

Maglie, looking determined, and Jones said that the decision was entirely Durocher's but that they agreed with his judgment.

Jones explained: "I feel good out there, but I couldn't get my stuff down."

Otherwise it was a glum, silent scene in the dressing room. Eddie Stankay, the peppermint second baseman, lay on a rubbering table while a trainer staunched the flow of blood from a spike wound on his right shin. It wasn't a serious gash.

He grinned at the thought of spiking himself after avoiding so many flying spikes during his career.

"But that's what makes it a great game. You never know what happens," he commented. "I guess I just stumbled, but I don't know."

Bobby Thomson, who connected for a double in the second inning to run his hitting streak to 14 consecutive games and then did nothing at the plate thereafter, tried to explain Labine's effectiveness.

"I never saw him before today. I didn't hit against him that time he pitched against us. His curve was everything," Thomson said. "He's not very fast, but he had a tricky curve and was making you swing."

S'side Curling Club Annual Meeting Held

At the annual meeting of the Summerside Curling Club on Monday night, Mr. J. K. Curran was re-elected president. Other officers are: Vice-president, T. L. Linkletter; secretary, treasurer, Chester Robinson; executive, Kenneth Callbeck and G. F. Cameron. During the meeting Mr. Curran gave a report of last year's activities. It had been "a most successful year. The meeting was adjourned till November 19th when the opening date will be decided on.—S.

Battle Expected

Tomorrow's game shapes up as a burning battle between two of the game's finest righthanders. Sal Maglie, winner of 23 victories, for the Giants against big Don Newcombe, who notched 20 during the regular campaign.

Today's bashing not only snapped a string of eight stretch victories which finally carried the Giants into the league leadership for 24 hours, but otherwise cooled off a team which had begun to look unbeatable. Up to this debacle the Polo Grounders had won 13 of their last 14 games, 32 of their last 45. Labine's magnificent job supplied a tonic sorely needed by the Flatbushers.

Leo Durocher gave it a lot of thought before he called on the erratic Jones today. He had half a mind to start Maglie with only two day's rest in hopes of wrapping up the pennant and gaining a day of rest before tackling the Yankees in the World Series on Thursday.

It was just as well he didn't. The way Labine was fogging balls past Giants' batters in the ninth inning, he and Maglie probably would have been out there yet.

Rain Interrupts Game

Giants' supporters among the crowd of 38,000 saw a ray of hope for their heroes when, with the Dodgers already five runs to the good, a drizzling rain brought out the infield canvases and interrupted the game for 41 minutes. There was just a chance, they reasoned that the blazing kid would cool off somewhat during the long wait.

He didn't. In the final four frames after play was resumed, only two Giants reached first base — both on walks. Neither got any further as the rookie smoked them across. Only two of the last 14 Giants got the ball out of the infield.

Up to the time of the rain, the Giants had been threatening their young tormentor. They stranded two runners in the second after Bobby Thomson had doubled down the left field line—the only extra baser of Labine—and Willie Mays had followed with an infield hit.

In the third, with Dodgers leading only 2-0 on the strength of Robinson's two-run homer in the opening chapter, the home club loaded the sacks with two away, bringing up the dangerous Thomson. A hit at that juncture might have changed the course of the game.

The flying Scot worked Labine to the full count as the crowd chanted for a rally. Then the kid, taking a chance, loosed a sweeping curve that missed the dish by several inches—and Thomson fished for it. He went down swinging, and after that the Giants were a beaten ball club.
