Rector Gives Review Of Activities At University

Following is the text of the rectorial address given by the Very Rev. R. V. MacKenzie, D.D., at the closing exercises yesterday of St. Dunstan's University:

"On behalf of the faculty and graduates I wish to extend a very hearty welcome to the distinguished guests who have honored us on this occasion; to the parents and relatives of the graduates; and to the many friends who have assembled to witness this very important event in the lives of the graduating class.

"While the ceremonies and addresses of this afternoon are of the utmost significance, nevertheless, for us who have been present for many such events at St. Dunstan's, and, no doubt, for many of you likewise, the exercises of the day are somewhat shadowed by our overwhelming happiness in being able to assemble for the first time with some share of comfort in our new auditorium. We can hardly say that it is a dream now realized, for it lay so far outside the realm of probability that we dared not even dream of it. It is, rather, the wildest of hopes suddenly brought into being.

"After completing the large unit of Chapel and dining room and installing central heating, we thought we would have at least a year to consolidate our gains, so to speak, and finish up many odds and ends left incomplete in the rush of construction. But our Alumni Association were impetuous, and insisted on the immediate undertaking of this building. "It was a challenge not lightly to be thrust aside. It proved to be a very fortunate challenge; because, had the construction not been started when it was, many years might have elapsed before it would be undertaken, on account of the tightening up of building materials which has since taken place. I would like to pay tribute here to our architect, Mr. Harris, whose patient good nature responded to our pressing demands, which often must have been annoying.

An Excellent Job

"This is not an elaborate building; we held down the specifications to a minimum cost, and within that limit the contractors, M. F. Schurman Company, have done an excellent job, as they did in the building of the unit last year. We are very proud of the building as it is, and our highest praise and sincere thanks go out to the Alumni Association for their interest, zeal, and sacrifice in undertaking to pay for this structure. "It will keep them busy for several years yet, but if succeeding executives are as energetic as the present one they will succeed. The present executive under the chairmanship of Mr. Picton R. MacCormac and served ably by the secretary, Father Roche, have accomplished great things in a short time, and we hope their efforts will be further rewarded.

"Of course, we are in debt: we announced that fate in prospect last year. I am speaking now of our building operations apart from this gymnasium; this, as I have said, is guaranteed by the Alumni Association. On the work completed up to the fall of 1950 we are in debt. If, however, the total subscription of the 1945 drive had been paid, we would not be in debt. Only 67% of the subscribed amount was paid.

"We were fortunate in receiving some other donations and bequests, so that the debt on the building operations to date, excluding this gymnasium is $109,000.00; and that means $4,000.00 a year interest. Notwithstanding that debt we feel sure the many contributors to the campaign of 1945 are well satisfied with the use made of their contributions.

Completed Works

"As a result the following completed works give evidence to their generosity: Memorial Hall—providing residence for 80 men, six faculty members and temporary space for the library; a new dining room, chapel, kitchen and convent, a boiler room and laundry, and a complete central heating system. We purpose on the first Sunday of July to invite all those contributors who so desire to come and see them; for what has been effected through their donations, and we hope many of them will be able to come and visit us on that day of open house.

Year's Enrollment

"Our enrollment, 291 this year, was slightly lower than that of last year. As I remarked once before here our enrollment follows very closely the economic status of the Province. A very marked drop in the number registered in high school years was experienced last fall. The depression years, when the birth rate was low, may be a contributing cause. The number registered in college years continues to rise slightly.

"Of course the mounting cost of everything is a difficult hurdle for young people desiring an education. But if we could curb some of our extravagant habits, the burden would be lighter. I am sure that some students spend as much on luxuries, such as cigarettes, sweets, taxis and shows, as the cost of their board and tuition. And they won't learn a lesson from the immigrants who come to this country and in a few years have a sizeable amount saved through frugal and careful living. Our young people, fired by the spirit of a spendthrift age, only scorn them for it.

"I suppose we shall close our eyes to this menace as we do to many another greater one. We have become so inured to dangers! The impending threat of Communism causes hardly a blink of an eye. The necessity of religion in education is admitted; but who attempts to provide it walks alone. The death of humanities in educational curricula spells bankruptcy for our civilization—what of it? The concentration of wealth is dynamite for our social order; and we all put our heads in the sand, hoping for the danger to pass. Truly these are interesting times.

Graduating Class

"Our graduating class is again large for the size of our College: 28 Bachelor of Arts; 10 Bachelor of Science and 5 Bachelor of Commerce. This is the first class to graduate in Commerce, and we trust the course provided for them will prove a useful asset. The graduates are not of equal talent. We expect some to succeed very well in life, and some not so well, but we bespeak for them the average share of success.

"Woodrow Wilson once said, 'You can't turn a boy into a man in four years.' That means that the educative process must continue, no matter what occupation one selects now. Another educationist made the suggestion that a college should be rated on the advance in learning its graduates made every five years after graduation. That placed a continuing obligation on these young people, which I hope they will acquit favorably. We wish them all success in their efforts.

"We are specially privileged today in having to address the graduates Mr. R. W. Keyserlingk, the editor of The Ensign. Mr. Keyserlingk has had very extensive experience, world-wide in its scope. As a journalist in various countries of the world, he has felt the pulse of their political, social, and economic status. His books, radio talks, and editorials give evidence of the insight he has into these matters, and the thoroughly Christian philosophy he applies to problems they present. We are most grateful for his coming to us today, especially as we realize it must cost him much sacrifice to leave the editorial desk to come down here to the seaboard. "Finally, I wish to offer sincere thanks to the donors of prizes."

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—knowing it is nerves—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.
