A WIDOW'S SUIT.—A Winnipeg despatch says that the case of Rajootte vs. the Canadian Pacific Railway, which is brought by the widow and children of a switchman killed in the yards there by his foot being caught in a frog in October, 1887, came up before a special jury at the assizes to-day. On behalf of the plaintiffs it was contended that a railway company is bound to block the frogs so as to minimize dangers to their workmen as much as possible, while the defendants contended that no statutory obligation was cast upon them to do so. At the close of the plaintiff's case a non-suit was moved for and the judge was of opinion it should be granted. The plaintiff's counsel would not accept, and the judge instructed the jury to find a verdict for the defendants. They disregarded his directions and returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $5,000. The case will be appealed.

EVIDENTLY PROSPERING.—We are pleased to hear that Mr. Frank Eden, formerly of Charlottetown, and now a dealer in boots and shoes at Halifax, is prospering in our sister city. From the Recorder we learn that he has just completed a handsome three-story building on the east side of Gottingen street, which he will occupy shortly. The building is of wood, and has three shops on the ground floor. Two of these are large sized and one small. The large ones have each two handsome plate glass show windows, and the smaller shop one. The windows are deep, and large panes facing the door ways give a grand display to the goods which may occupy the windows. Inside dust sashes close them from the shop. Up stairs there are three dwellings comprising in all some fourteen rooms. The halls and stairways are all wainscotted to the height of some four feet. The north shop has a depth of 90 feet, and will be occupied by Mr. Eden. In the rear of the front shop, which is over fifty feet deep, is a stock room, with cellar underneath, and there is also a well-lighted office finished in ash. The counters have walnut tops, and the shelving has all been arranged in an approved manner. The outside of the "block" has been artistically painted, and is an ornament to the street.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

A Second Rescript.

LONDON, Nov. 27.

A Dublin despatch says that the News Association has been reliably informed that the Pope will insist upon promulgating a second rescript on the Irish question. The Irish bishops will shortly be summoned to Rome.

DUBLIN, Nov. 27.

The report that a second Papal rescript had been sent to the Irish bishops a fortnight ago is now confirmed. It was intended that the rescript of the document should not be made known, but the bishops should proceed to enforce the commands contained in the first rescript without alluding to the existence of a second. This plan was spoiled through the indiscretion of a servant of the Bishop of Limerick, who divulged part of the contents of the rescript. It is probable that the publication of a part of the document will force the Pope to reaffirm publicly his wishes regarding Ireland.

Dissension in The Ranks.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 27.

About 1300 Democratic voters and members of G. A. R. Posts, scattered over the State, held in the Capitol building last night a secret meeting at which it was resolved that every Democratic member of the G. A. R. should abandon the order, and all present pledged themselves to withdraw from their posts. A name and a constitution for the new order proposed by the Democratic veterans were adopted. The new order is to be charitable and non-political. Similar meetings will be held all over the State. Letters from men in eight States indicate that the movement is national. Few Indiana Democrats have attended Grand Army meetings since the election, because all posts have been holding meetings ratifying the election of Harrison.

A Brakeman Killed.

DORCHESTER, N. B., Nov. 27.

As Crockett's special was coming around Palmer's curve, just before getting into Dorchester, the train broke away from the tender. Thos. Carroll, forward brakeman, was in the engine, and thinking the train had not all broken away, ran back over the rear of the tender and fell on the track. The entire train passed over him, and he was completely cut to pieces. The body was picked up and taken to Moncton on the Halifax express. This is the eleventh man killed between Halifax and St. John this year.
