Red And White Off Press; Improvement Is Evident

By Charley McMillan

The fourth and latest edition of Red and White is off the press. The first consensus of the paper is that it is marked improvement over the other three. There are 10 pages in this issue, with a little bit of everything included. Some of the articles are fair, others are good, and some are excellent.

One thing that this issue has done is to create some interest in many activities that were formerly ignored. The paper has also given the students a medium in which to express themselves on any matter they feel needs expression. This is the principal factor which the former papers lacked. Many of the articles, and of course the editorials, will raise a few eyebrows; there will be disagreement and provocation, but almost everyone will admit that the Red and White has been raised to the status it deserves.

The honor and glory must go to the new editor, Paul D. Foster. As one of the artists in the Red and White pointed out, the former editor stated that in his regime, he would neither beg, borrow, plead, nor cajole. When Paul took over the paper, he said he would do all that and more. It is in this perspective that Red and White now strives for excellence.

BASKETBALL TEAM OFF

The Varsity Basketball team left for Nova Scotia yesterday on its last road trip of the season. The Salsits played St. Mary's in Halifax last night, and their final game of the season is next Friday afternoon against Mount Allison Mounties. To date, Ed Hilton's team has won three games out of nine played. With a bit of luck the Salsits could win five games, which means that they would have to get at least a split in this weekend's encounters, and then beat Mount A at home.

No matter what happens, Coach Hilton can look to the future with an air of optimism. There are four freshmen on the team, two sophomores, and two juniors, so he will lose only Frank Garrity through graduation. There are several players of the school team that are possible. Varsity material, so he will have plenty to work with.

Roger MacDonald, Varsity manager, has compiled some interesting statistics. Rookie Jacques Desmarais leads in rebounding with 98; Frank Garrity has 71. Jake also leads in shooting with a 46 per cent average, compared with Bob Francoeur's 27.8. Francoeur has the best foul shooting percentage with 87.7, followed closely by Len Stroh with 67.3. Francoeur has scored the most points—131 in nine games for an average 14.5 a game.

DEBATING TITLE

The St. Dunstan's Debating Team came through with its third Maritime Championship in a row this week, when MIDU President Bill Johnson awarded SDU the third debate by default. The team now goes against Royal Military College Kingston, Ontario, and the Western Canada champions, University of British Columbia. It has been suggested that the resolution in the finals will be: Resolved that education at the university level be federalized.

The playoffs will work something like this: The three teams will draw from a hat for the bye. The losers will debate in the afternoon behind closed doors, since the winner of the semi-finals must debate again that night for the national title. The finals will be held at St. Dunstan's on Tuesday, March 10, marking the first time that the Canadian finals have ever been held in the Maritime provinces. Father Bolger announced Tuesday that Paul Batchelder and Colin McMillan will represent SDU in these debates, with John R. MacDonald acting as an alternate.

The president of the SDU Liberal Club, Gerry Findenard, was elected National Vice-President of the Atlantic Region at the annual convention of CULS, held in Ottawa last week. Gerry was accompanied by Jim MacGuigan, a former student at St. Dunstan's, was one of the guest speakers.

JAYVEE HOCKEY

The Idle Jayvee Hockey team is still waiting for definite word on the playoff situation. The Jayvees tied the Legionaires for first place, and split wins in the two engagements, in all likelihood, the first place team will meet the third place team, and second versus fourth, but there has been no official announcement about how the first place team will be decided. St. Dunstan's record for the regular season was five wins and one loss.

Since today is the last of the month, it might be interesting to note a few of the more important events that will be staged at St. Dunstan's in March. The Students' Union elections will be held early in the month for the presidency, a post selected from a member of the Junior class, and the vice-presidency selected from the Sophomores. The annual mid-term retreat opens on Thursday, March 12 and ends on March 14. The national debating finals are on March 10. The intramural hockey playoffs will likely start next weekend. The Drama Society's presentation of "The Tempest" will be late in March. Some time before the Easter Holidays, which start on March 22, and finally, there will be a matter of the hockey team attending the Canadian Interscholastic playoffs to be staged in Kingston.

OFFER NEW PROPOSALS

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson was asked Thursday whether the federal government has new fiscal proposals for the forthcoming federal-provincial conference at Quebec. Mr. Pearson said in reply to Gilles Greigore (Creditiste-Lapointe) that the government has "certain plans and proposals" to place before the conference. He gave no details.

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE

At 97, Mrs. Praskovia Doubina is the oldest person ever to be granted Canadian citizenship. And next to her citizenship certificate her most prized possession is this letter of congratulation from Prime Minister Pearson. She came to Canada in 1926 to join her son Michel whom she had seen in 41 years. "Now Canada is really my country," she says. (CP Wirephoto)

Sharp Urges Britons Take Careful Look

By JOSEPH MACSWEEN LONDON (CP)—Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp has advised British exporters to take a rifle rather than a shotgun when they go after Canadian markets—and he pleaded fair hunting laws.

Addressing a luncheon of 450 Anglo-Canadian businessmen, Sharp used the gun analogy to drive home his point: that exporters should take a "very careful and detailed look" at the highly competitive market. It wasn't enough merely to have the "get out and sell" idea.

UNDER STUDY

Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, in his recent Ottawa visit, heralded a new hard-sell campaign and Sharp reported that British complaints about Canadian anti-dumping and customs evaluation laws have been under study for some weeks.

"We shall remove any discrimination if such exists," said the minister.

LBJ Guarded From Possible Suicide Pilot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stringent security precautions imposed during President Johnson's 15-hour Florida visit were reported to have been prompted by a tip that a Cuban suicide pilot would try to ram the chief executive's jet transport.

No official in Washington would confirm that such was the case but a number of virtually unprejudiced sources moved taken during Johnson's trip, which ended Friday morning, fit the pattern of a suicide mission if indeed one was planned.

The Miami Herald, in a story by Gene Miller, reported the Secret Service—which guards Johnson—received a tip, apparently about a week ago, that a suicide pilot might attempt to ram the presidential jet, or a Cuban-based ground-to-air missile might be aimed at the craft.

Officially, the White House and the Secret Service had nothing to say about the report.

The Herald says the Secret Service believed such an attempt on Johnson's life was highly unlikely, but decided to take no chances.

REPRESENTS POPE

LONDON (Reuters)—For the first time in the history of the Roman Catholic archdiocese churches, the Pope was represented at a Greek Orthodox service here Saturday—the enthronement of the new Metropolitan of Thessalonica, Monsignor Athanasios, at the Greek Cathedral here. The Pope was represented by the apostolic delegate in Britain, Archbishop Cardinal.
