YANKS, TRIBE, WHITE SOX WIN

The Kansas City Athletics fought their way out of the American League cellar Wednesday, battling 17 innings to a 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators.

Relief hurler Camilio Pascual threw a wild pitch to allow Cletus Boyer to score the winning run and climax a tense battle. It was the longest American League game since April 27, 1955, and the Senators were involved in that one, too—losing 6-5 to Cleveland in 17 innings.

All the day action in the majors was in the American League. Two National League fixtures, Cincinnati at New York and Milwaukee at Brooklyn were postponed.

Chicago White Sox defeated Baltimore Orioles 3-2. Cleveland Indians doubled Boston Red Sox 6-3 and the belting New York Yankees trounced Detroit Tigers 13-5.

HOMER TIES SCORE

In Kansas City, Jim Finigan's home run to lead off the 17th against Connie Grob tied the score after Washington had gone ahead 6-5 in its half on Roy Sievers single, a sacrifice and Whitey Herzog's double.

Then, in a struggle as tense as though the clubs were battling for the league lead, the Athletics eked out the winning run. Grob got Joe Ginsberg on a pop foul but Young Boyer popped a single to right. Manager Lou Boudreau, who had used three straight pinch-hitters in a successful effort to tie the score in the ninth, reached into his bullpen and brought up lefthanded pitcher Tom Lasorda to hit for Tom Gorman.

Skipper Charlie Dressen yanked Grob and brought on lefthander Chuck Stobbs to pitch. Then Boudreau substituted another hurler, righthand-hitting Alex Kellner, for Lasorda. The big pitcher responded with a single, sending Boyer to third. Then Pascual came in to relieve Stobbs and walked Mike Baxes on four pitches, filling the bases.

That set the stage for the wild heave that ended the four-hour, five-minute game.

FOUR PITCHERS

The Yanks blasted four Detroit pitchers for 17 hits as three of their own hurlers held the Tigers to five scattered hits.

Southpaw Tommy Byrne, third Yankee hurler, worked the last five innings and was credited with the victory. Billy Hoeft took the loss.

At Chicago, southpaw Jack Harshman chalked up his second win of the season with a seven hitter against the Sox.

A two-run outburst in the fourth inning, which saw Baltimore starting pitcher Johnny Schmitz driven from the rubber, gave Harshman enough of a lead to hold on for the win.

In Cleveland, Herb Score and Don Mossi gave the Indians their first triumph of the season over the Red Sox. Indians had 13 hits, their highest of the season.

Score held the Sox to six hits over eight innings to gain his fifth victory. Righthander Frank Sullivan took the loss, his first of the season.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Chicago Cubs shook loose from a three-game losing streak Wednesday night by beating the Philadelphia Phillies 5-4 before 5,795 fans at Connie Mack stadium.

Catcher Harry Chiti provided the final difference when he clouted a home run off losing pitcher Harvey Haddix in the eighth inning. Monte Irvin opened the frame with his fourth circuit belt of the campaign to tie the score.

As a result of these late heroics, rookie righthander Vito Valentinetti came off with his first major league victory. The righthander relieved Warren Hacker in the sixth inning and held off the Phillies with one hit the rest of the game.

The Cubs endowed Hacker with a 1-0 lead at the start on Eddie Miksis' leadoff triple and a Gene Baker single plus Willie Jones' throwing error.

Hacker, after hurling hitless ball for 3 innings, came undone in the fourth. Del Ennis singled, and Stan Lopata doubled. Elmer Valo, making his debut with the Phillies, was purposely walked to load the bases. Jones obliged with a two-run single to left and two outs later Richie Ashburn also hit a two-run single.

Baseball Meeting Scheduled Tonight At Memorial Field

Anyone intending to play baseball in Charlottetown this summer should put in an appearance at Memorial Field tonight where a short gathering of players and coaches is to be held at 5.45.

It is of the utmost importance that every player attend tonight so that they can hand in their names to the coaches who will be

A three or four-team city league is to be formed depending upon the number of players available. Later coaches will select their teams from the list so as to insure a well balanced league that will furnish fans with plenty of exciting baseball.

Any player be he ever so young or ever so old is invited to try his hand at catching a spot on one of the teams. Age is of little importance and any newcomers who might like to play baseball are quite welcome to turn out.

Later intermediate and junior teams will be formed to represent Charlottetown in island competition.

The time once again is 5.45 tonight.

Charlottetown Tennis Courts To Open This Weekend

Tennis enthusiasts will be able to limber up for the season this coming weekend when the doors of the Charlottetown Tennis courts are officially opened for the summer.

Within the next two days courts 1, 2 and 3 will be in readiness for play and a little later courts 4 and 5 will be in shape so that local racquet swingers will have 5 smooth surfaced clay courts to strut their stuff on this year.

Extensive work has already been done on the courts and the fences will get a face lifting later on with a new coat of paint.

Club President, Paul Kays, said last night that he is expecting a banner season at the Charlottetown courts. He believes that tennis is in for a real revival on the Island this summer and that the club will have its largest membership in many years.

The Basilica Youth Club, which has been sponsoring three tennis courts at the Knights of Columbus grounds for the past three seasons, has discontinued its sponsorship and the fences have been torn down to make room for a new softball diamond. This leaves the Charlottetown Club alone in the Charlottetown tennis field.

Even in the face of this apparent disinterest in tennis President Kays is far from discouraged He said: "The game has been pretty sick for some years now but even with recent developements like the closing of the B. Y. C. courts I still think tennis is in for a great year at the Charlottetown club.

"Most of the B. Y. C. members will join the our club and the decision of the local Junior Board of Trade to undertake the developement of junior players is a decided shot in the arm in itself. We of course, will help out the board in any way we can and in addition tennis instructions for the youngsters will be given at the club during the summer either under the sponsorship of the club or the Physical Fitness department.

"All in all I think we are in for a most successful year."

Canadians Coming To Life On American Golf Courses

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian golf pros have come to life with a bang on the U.S. tournament circuit where for more years than most care to remember they did well to earn the bus fare home.

The smashing drives and canny putting of Stan Leonard, the veteran 40-year-old home pro of Lachute, Que., and relative newcomer Al Balding of Toronto may have set the stage for Canada's renaissance in international golf.

Leonard, onetime pro at Vancouver's plush Marine Drive club, finished a commendable fifth during the weekend in the Kansas City open to pocket $1,068. That raised his take in three weeks to an astonishing — for Leonard or any other Canadian—$4,068.

Three weeks ago Leonard wound up fourth in the colonial invitation tournament at Fort Worth, Tex., and earned $1,700. He hustled on to St. Louis where he grabbed off an additional $1,200 a week later for a fifth place finish.

In all the tournaments Leonard has finished only a few strokes off the leaders—men like Gene Littler and Tommy Bolt.

Ladies' Golf Match Today

The ladies get their first golf action of the year this afternoon at Belvedere links when a team match will be played starting at 2 p. m.

The competition will be a team match, President vs. Vice-President. The draw will be at 1.50.

Q.S.S. Athletes Feted At Sports Dinner Last Night

They rang down the curtain on the 1956 basketball and hockey Leagues of Queen Square School in the Holy Name Hall last night and they did it in an impressive fashion with the presentation of trophies, a banquet and films.

Approximately 130 boys were present for the concluding events following a great year of sport during which the boys played 200 games of basketball and 25 games of hockey in a league organized by Father Clarence Roche.

There were trophies and awards galore. The Queen Square boys won the Island Interscholastic Hockey Championship and they had their own hockey and basketball leagues. Altogether 18 different teams competed in the various sports with four teams playing in the hockey league, six in the senior basketball league and eight in the junior basketball league.

Perhaps the most surprised person in the hall last night was Father Roche. It was through his direction and organization that the leagues were formed and kept operating and it was through his efforts that the boys were rewarded with trophies and a banquet.

But the boys pulled a "fast one" on Father Roche last night. They had their own presentation ready for the priest who did so much to provide them with an opportunity play athletics. Unknown to him, Donnie MacCormick and Frank Bradley had the gifts ready and when Father Roche was called onto the stage to receive his "Tokens of appreciation" he was greeted with a tremendous ovation from the crowd.

Lt. Col. Leo F. MacDonald, Principal of Queen Square School, was master of ceremonies. He recalled the great strides that had been taken in the development of an athletic program and he thanked all those who worked on this project.

Other speakers included Dr. Joseph A. MacMillan, Councillor P. R. McCormac, Chief of Police Charles MacArthur, Mr. John T. Doyle and Rev. P. F. MacDonald.

Following the presentation of trophies the guests and boys sat down together to a delicious banquet. It was a banquet which lasted throughout the evening for the boys were treated to supplies of ice cream, chocolate bars and bars and soft drinks.

A film on the 1955 World Series and a comedy show concluded the night's activities. The films were shown by Vern MacFarlane.

Among those who were thanked for the parts they played in making the sports possible were referees Gump Gillis and Donnie Whelan, Dalvay Coyle and Joe Tierney for making facilities available and Earl Nicholson for his work in supervising school sports.

Crests and team pictures were awarded to the members of the Provincial School Hockey Championship team by Chief of Police MacArthur. The awards were made to the following team members: Donnie McCormick (Capt.), Billie Mulligan, Wayne MacDonald, Ronnie MacDougall, Eddie Tierney, Richard Bradley, Dunstan Griffin, Bruce MacDonald.

Lorne Cahill, Frank Bradley, Gerald Noonan, Vince Mulligan, Emmett Joseph, Leonard Walsh, John Gerkhe (coach), Merrill Flynn (manager), Louis Smith, Jimmie Mulligan.

The trophy for the championship team in the School Hockey League was donated by the Knights of Columbus and Benevolent Irish Society and presented by Jack Doyle. The individual cups were present by Art Campbell.

The P. R. McCormac Trophy for the winning team in the senior basketball league was won by the Muskrats and donated by P. R. McCormac. Individual cups were presented to the team members by Urban MacQuaid.

The Queen Square School Trophy donated by the School for the winning team in the junior basketball league was won by the Gothics and presented by Leo Callaghan. Earl Nicholson presented individual awards.

The John Gehrke Trophy to the player amassing the most points in the hockey league was won by Donnie McCormick.

The Charlottetown Clinic Trophy for the goalie with the best goals against average was won by Ronnie MacDougall.

The MacDonald - Brown Trophy donated by Frank MacDonald and Bill Brown to the player judged most valuable to his team was won by Billy Mulligan.

The Duffy - MacMillan Trophy donated by Dr. L. I. Duffy and Roy MacGillivray to the player who best combines hockey and gentlemanly conduct was won by Wayne MacDonald.

Billy Mulligan won the trophy for the player collecting the most assists.

Want Olympic Hockey But Without Expense To Ass'n

By W. R. WHEATLEY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—The leaders of amateur hockey agreed unanimously Wednesday that Canada should be represented in Olympic and world hockey competition provided the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association isn't saddled with the expense.

The 40th annual meeting of the nine-branch body approved a motion to this effect offered by the Saskatchewan branch and after a short discussion adjourned further deliberations until today.

The question wasn't reached until after the plenary session had spent considerable time discussing the association's finances and approving a reduced budget for 1957.

Mayor Frank Becker of Vernon, B.C., a delegate to the meeting, addressed the plenary session on behalf of his city and the Vernon Canadians, the 1955-56 Allan Cup champions.

Becker said the city and club would be prepared to "raise our fair share of the money" necessary to send the Vernon team, at least as a nucleus, to the 1957 world tournament in Moscow.

SHOULD AVOID EXPENSE

In presenting the Saskatchewan branch's motion, Ken More of Regina said there was no intention of denying Canadian representation but the branch felt a team should not be sent at the expense of the CAHA.

The question comes in for general discussion today when the CAHA officers will report on the basis of information gathered since the last annual meeting.

Still awaiting decision on the final day of the meeting is a proposal by Conn Smythe, boss of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, to stage the Memorial Cup final in Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, for the next five years if given an option on a further five-year renewal in addition to a contract covering the first five years.

The final series, for the junior Canadian championship, now alternates between eastern and western Canada, as a rule in the home town of the sectional winner.

Smythe said he would make the usual split with the CAHA on the gate and in addition would pay the western team $4,000. If the eastern finalist is from other than the Ontario branch, it would receive $3,000; if within the Ontario branch, $2,000.

DOESN'T AGREE

Ken More, whose Regina Pats lost to Toronto Marlboros in this year's final, said he couldn't agree to any change for next year at least, when the final normally would be played in the west.

Regarding Canada's participation in Olympic and world tournaments, first vice-president Bob LeBel asked if the Saskatchewan motion meant some other association could send a team.

Secretary-manager George Dudley said that under regulations the CAHA is the only body that can officially sponsor Canada's entry.

CAHA president Jimmy Dunn of Winnipeg said the only application for the 1957 tournament in Moscow had been received from Vernon.

In adopting financial reports and setting up the budget under a revised plan, the delegates got into long discussions.

Frank Dilio of the Quebec branch said the budget included the usual $27,000 from the professional lagues—contributed in respect to amateur players moving up into pro ranks.

Dilio said that since the joint agreement with the pros actually is not in effect, having lapsed last June but being observed pending a new agreement, "The pros could walk in here and say 'we're not going to give you the $27,000."

BUDGET SET

Under the new setup, proposed by the Ontario branch, the CAHA budget for 1957 is $30,000.

Distribution to clubs in the recent Allan Cup series:

Vernon, winner, $3,746, 10 games; Chatham, finalist, $3,801, 10 games; Saint John eastern semi-finalist, five games, $1,514; Winnipeg, western semi - finalist, $1,682, nine games.

Similarly for the Memorial Cup series:

Toronto Marlboros, winner, $11,702, 13 games; Regina, finalist, $8,898 19 games; Montreal eastern semi-finalist, $8,705; Port Arthur, western semi-finalist, $4,135.

The Maritime branch asked that playoffs between Maritime junior and senior winners with other branches alternate annually east and west. The general meeting concurred in the decision of the resolutions committee which said the playoffs committee could look after any necessary arrangements.
