SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES.

VISITOR:

The Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia

PRINCIPAL:

The Rev. John Padfield.

THIS SCHOOL offers, at very moderate cost, the advantages of a comfortable and pleasant home together with a thorough and refined education.

The course of instruction is the same as that of the best Schools in England and is founded upon the University Examinations for Women. Eight young ladies from this School passed the Local Examination of the University of King's College in June last. This is the only School in Canada that has passed pupils at a University Examination.

The number of pupils is limited, rendering the School select, and while it possesses all the educational advantages of a large public school, each pupil is enabled to receive that individual care and oversight which is so important, and which cannot be given in a large establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Padfield are assisted by a staff of four resident governesses, besides visiting masters.

Parisienne French is taught conversationally. There are two resident French Governesses.

References given to parents of pupils. For further particulars address the Principal.

A SOUP KITCHEN

IN connection with the Women's Temperance Union and Benevolent Society, will be opened for the winter if sufficiently assisted by the charitable public. In order to distribute judiciously, only those will be relieved who identify themselves with the Society, which will enable the committee to look particularly into each case. In view of the present pressing demands for help, the friends of the poor are urgently requested to send donations immediately and as regularly as possible, which will be received by Mrs. W. KENNEDY, Confectionary. Clothing will likewise be very acceptable.

Secretary of the Women's Benevolent Society.

THE Duchess of Marlborough fund amounts to £26,500.

CAPTAIN PRICE was fully committed, at Quebec, on the 24th inst., for bigamy at the next term of the Court of Queen's Bench.

NUMEROUS distinguished persons are expected to arrive at Rome to join in rendering homage to the Pope on the 7th of March, on behalf of the scientific world.

THE St. Petersburg Golos urges that the time has come for the beginning of a complete reconciliation with the Poles, by placing them on the same footing as the Russian subjects.

"BELL'S LIFE" publishes a letter from Capt. Bogardus, the American pigeon shot, offering to wager £2,000 against £1,000 that he can kill 1,000 pigeons quicker than any man in the world.

A CONSTANTINOPLE despatch asserts that a terrible distress prevails in Adrianople; 15 persons were found dead from hunger there in one day. In some cases pieces of wood were found in the mouths of corpses.

LONDON, Jan 24.—The paddle-wheel despatch vessel Lively, which is commanded by a son of the Duke of Cambridge, and which collided after returning with the two Princesses to see their sister off by the Sarmatian, has not sustained any material damage.

MARITIME PENITENTIARY.—Although May 1st is the time fixed for the removal of the convicts from the St. John Penitentiary to the institution at Dorchester, it is not considered that the new quarters will be in readiness by that date.—St. John Telegraph.

A FORMAL reception, offered to the Princess Louise by Lady Lindsay, on Tuesday 20th inst., was attended by the Prince of Wales the Duke of Edinburgh, and all the fashionable world in London, including a number of musical, artistic, and literary celebrities.

THE Toronto "Mail" mentions the rumor that Mr. Ingram, M. P., of the "Illustrated London News," is about to start a daily illustrated paper in New York, and that Mr. Edward Jenkins, M. P., ex-Agent General for Canada, is to be placed in charge.

WHEN Parliament meets on the 5th of February, the present arrangements are that it will be opened by the Queen in person. The Address to the Crown in answer to the Speech from the Throne will be moved in the House of Lords by the Earl of Onslow and seconded by the Earl of Rosse. In the House of Commons the Address will be moved by Lieut.-Col. H. E. Home-Drummond Moray, M. P. for the County of Perth, and seconded by Mr. J. P. Corry, M. P. for Belfast.

THE English papers are making use of the lamentable tragedy which occurred at the Tay as a warning against bad bridges. The Carleton Sentinel utters a very earnest warning in regard to the railway bridge at Woodstock. There is a bridge on the Intercolonial Railroad about five miles out of St. John, that was not originally designed to be permanent (if we remember rightly), and which has often excited the anxieties of travellers, that ought to be attended to. The present would be a good time to have the work done. We commend the matter to the Railway authorities.

It is thought in some quarters that the change which has taken place in the United States, by which only second-class men can be secured for foreign Ministers, will eventually work a revolution in American diplomacy. The absence of first class men at London, Paris, Berlin, &c., will necessitate the transaction of all difficult business at Washington. This will in turn require able British, French and German ambassadors at Washington, and thus the labor, dignity and glory of American diplomacy will become a thing of the past.

THE Times, in a leading article, on Saturday, commenting on the proposed increase in the German army, says: "What is disturbing in the matter, is the vivid revelation it affords of the terrible condition of the armed truce in which Europe exists from day to day. By wisdom and firmness statesmen may avert collision of those armed forces, but such an achievement will need incessant vigilance and patience. At such a time England ought to hold herself as free as possible from all unnecessary entanglements in order to be able, if necessary, to make herself heard at some critical moment, when the whole course of European history might be hanging in the balance."

THE Times' Cabul despatch gives the substance of a scheme which correspondents think will probably receive consideration at London and Calcutta. If the scheme is carried out British troops will immediately withdraw to Jellalabad. A proclamation will be issued stating that vengeance for the massacre of the British Embassy has been satisfied. The army will withdraw to Jellalabad, leaving the Afghans to live under such sovereigns as they may elect until such sovereigns be finally established. The Queen forgoes the right, under the Treaty of Gundamuk, to place an envoy at Cabul till communications with the Cabul Government shall, in the meantime, have been conducted by the Queen's special agent, and pending peaceful settlement of the country, Jellalabad and Condsar will be occupied by British troops. The Queen will insist that all communications of the Afghan ruler with foreign governments shall be held subject to her approval.

The Skating Rink.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—In a recent issue of the EXAMINER there appeared a note requesting a meeting of those interested in the formation of a new Skating Rink Company. All I have to say in reference to this notice is, that the sooner we have a new rink the better; for the directors of the Citizens' Skating Rink seem determined to run it into the ground. They are continually quarrelling and are for ever at daggers drawn. For instance: Director No. 1 comes down to the Rink and says, "Peter, there will be no band to-night; but the ice is very good and you will open the Rink from half-past seven to half-past nine, as there is sure to be a number of people who would like to skate. Peter just gets the gas lit and the fires on, when in comes Director No. 2 in a state of great excitement. "What do you mean by having the Rink open to-night?" "Oh, Mr. — was here and said to open it." "Well, never mind what he says. Turn the gas out, for we must save the ice for the Carnival." So out goes the gas, and there is no knowing how many people are disappointed. This was the case to-night—at least if not the case it was very near it. Peter was told this afternoon that there was to be skating to-night, but no band. Of course he he told the same story to everyone who asked about it; and, in this way, it was pretty well known all over town. Well, about seven o'clock, word was sent to the Rink to the effect that it must be closed, as they wanted "to keep the ice good for the carnival." This is a very poor reason to give for closing the rink, as if skating will harm the ice to-night, it stands to reason it will harm it tomorrow night. No, it is not on account of the Carnival, but simply on account of the jealousy existing between the directors. One says to open the Rink, and another feels in duty bound to countermand the order, and says, "close it." If the shareholders would take the matter in hand and give the whole control of the affair to Dr. Strickland, I am sure the public would have no cause for complaint. He is the only one who understands running a rink; and the others are jealous of him, and so work against him. Another cause for complaint is the uncertainty regarding the band. No one ever knows the nights it is to play, and there is always some misunderstanding about it. Hoping that all cause for grumbling will be removed.

I remain,

Sincerely Yours,
SKATER.

The Louise Club is the title of an organization got up in Kingston by a number of young people, numbering about thirty, who intend to hold parties in their houses every week during the winter. We are inclined to think this a leap year delusion and snare, and are much mistaken if some of the young men connected with it do not see through its operations and be made acquainted with another species of club before long.

Detroit Free Press: A gentleman from Canada says that Sir John A. Macdonald, the Premier, always sends a deputation away happy. He will promise to attend to what is wanted, no matter who the petitioner is. If he takes out a little memorandum book that he always carries with him and puts down a note, the matter is always attended to; if he takes no note of it, but promises to do all in his power about the request, the delegation always hears of the subject again.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 40,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your Druggist about it. Sample Bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all Druggists.
