The beneficial effects of a good soap cannot be over estimated. We keep good soaps. In addition to our regular assortment we have just received a line of medical soaps which are especially valuable for inflamed conditions of the skin, such as chaps, eczema, sunburn, roughness, pimples, dandruff, etc., and for nursery use in allaying itching and preventing those distressing skin and scalp diseases that children are so peculiarly liable to.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY, May 14th, 1900.

House met at 4.45. Mr. A. P. Prowse presented a bill incorporating the Murray Harbor South Fishermen's Freezer Company. Referred to Private Bills Committee.

Upon motion of Mr. Rogers the tender of John Coombs for printing the journals was accepted, it being the lowest. Mr. Coombs' tender was $1.70 for printing, 20 cents for binding, and 8 cents for stitching. There were four tenders in all.

Mr. Arthur Peters then resumed the debate on the address. Referring to THE EXAMINER'S challenge he said he would not name any Conservative who had said the French were disloyal. But he would say that the Star, the organ of the Conservatives, had made such accusation; and this raising of the racial cry, he claimed, delayed the sending of the troops to South Africa. The raising of the race cry, he added, had alienated many French-Canadians from the Conservative party, and there was an example of it in the case of Mr. Pineau who had gone over to the Government side of the House. In regard to the sending of troops to Africa, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Peters claimed, had done what no other Premier ever did, Canada had done what no other country had ever done, without the sanction of Parliament and without a precedent. All honor to Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Tarte for the stand they had taken. Coming to provincial affairs Mr. Peters said he believed that on Wednesday next the first sod of the Belair Murray Harbor railway would be turned. In connection with this important matter he thought it ill-became Murray Harbor to turn the cold shoulder upon Mr. D. A. McKinnon who had worked so hard for this railway.

Mr. Reid seconded the motion made by Mr. Peters regarding the adoption of the address. He said that in view of the fact that he was not in good health and the other fact that the hon. member for St. Peters had spoken very fully regarding the various matters of public interest, he would be very brief. He thought that if there was less talk and more work the business of the session would soon be over. He agreed with the statement that Canada was now enjoying a large measure of prosperity, and thought that the manner in which the Liberals had managed affairs had much to do with inspiring the people, with imbuing them with a spirit of confidence. The revenue, for instance, had increased by $6,000,000 during the year. The deficits of the former administration had been charged to surplus. There also had been a great increase in the volume of trade under the Liberals. There was an abundant evidence in our own province last, and good average prices were obtained. There had also been considerable progress made in the dairy industry. This industry has been and will continue to be the financial salvation of the Province. The Dominion Government it was pleasing to know, continue, to foster this industry. They had given us cold storage and other assistance. At its last session the Local Legislation passed a bill incorporating the Dairying Association and contributed towards the payment of a dairy instructor. Part of the business of the instructor is to give the inexperienced cheese-maker points that must prove valuable in the way of uniform product. Mr. Reid approved of the grant towards a Maritime exhibition. In connection with the exhibition Mr. Reid spoke of the fruit industry, which was destined to still further increase. A recent shipment of Island apples, made by Senator Ferguson brought fancy prices in England. Mr. Reid gave the Local Government credit for introducing steel bridges, the cost of which he understood would not be greatly in excess of the old wooden structures. He also gave them credit for building the new Prince of Wales College. Then he pointed out that the contract for the erection of the annex to the asylum has been let, and that brush-making has been inaugurated in the institution. It was gratifying, he said, to hear that the mission of the Island delegates regarding the fisheries award had been so successful, and he felt sure that in a short time this province would soon have its share of this sum—something over one million dollars—which would be a great boon. The Local Government has also been able to secure the building of the Hillsborough bridge. The interest to be paid on the bridge would be in excess of the expenses of the ferry service. Taking up the war in South Africa Mr. Reid pointed out that it was not of Great Britain's seeking. She had been forced into it to defend her possessions and in the interests of her subjects. For a time there was some anxiety regarding the war, but when Roberts and Kitchener arrived on the scene this was dispelled and the Boers were soon put on the run. Our gallant fellow-citizens have gone to the front and are now fighting side by side with the soldiers of the Queen from other parts of the world and are giving a good account of themselves. Although the Canadians were all brave, there were none more so than the gallant thirty who went out from Prince Edward Island, two of whom had fallen in action—had given up their lives for their country. War, while it had its victories, always had its dark side. He sincerely hoped that the time would soon come when national differences would be settled not by war but by peaceful arbitration.
