

THE DAILY EXAMINER
NOVEMBER 2, 1882.

Legislative Council Elections.
Advices from the Second Electoral District of King's County, state that Mr. Clow is, by all odds, the most popular Candidate.

The tone of the reports from the First District of King's County, is decidedly and emphatically in favor of the re-election of Mr. Bolger; and it is pretty evident that steadfastness and honesty will, in his case, have their due reward. The puny efforts of the Patriot to make the people believe that Mr. Bolger's repeated and consistent endeavors to abolish the useless Legislative Council, were mere pretences, will not hurt Mr. Bolger; for he is a tried man. The Patriot must, of course, say something. But in attacking Mr. Bolger's sincerity, it has made gross mistake.

The same may be said of its attack upon the ability of Mr. Nicholson. Its well studied depreciation of Mr. Nicholson will, we feel sure, be resented by Mr. Nicholson's many friends. No one knows better than the editor of the Patriot that whenever Mr. Nicholson spoke in the House of Assembly he spoke with power and effect. Mr. Nicholson's high moral character, his sincerity, his earnestness, his sympathy with the true interests of the people, and above all his sterling honesty, make him an able representative. Mr. Nicholson is well known to be a good man; but his friends are not likely, this time, to depend almost entirely upon his well-known goodness for his election. They will work—the more actively for the Patriot's taunts and insinuations.

It seems that the Hon. R. B. Reid is to receive some fictitious opposition in the First District of Prince County.

The idea that the property-holders of that fine district will reject Mr. Reid, and elect Mr. James F. White to keep them saddled with the expense of a useless Second Chamber is very ridiculous.

The defence of the Second Chamber or its merit has virtually collapsed. In fact no one thinks two Legislative Chambers needed in this Province. This being the case, let no side issues, no false imputations of bad motives, no mean insinuations, no human devices, no sympathetic personal interest in the prosperity of the "outs" who want to get "in,"—let none of these things—deter Legislative Council Electors from voting for the Candidates who come out squarely—without any "ifs" and "buts"—for the reduction of the Legislature to one Chamber. The reduction of the Legislature is the one great object to be kept in view.

The McLeod Case.

An Ottawa despatch to the Halifax Herald says:—On the 30th ult. in the Supreme Court was heard the case of McLeod vs. Queen. The appeal was from Mr. Justice Henry, sitting in the Court of Exchequer, by which he allowed the claimant some $56,000 for injuries sustained by him whilst a passenger on the Prince Edward Island Railway. Lash, Q. C., and Hodgson, Q. C., of Charlottetown, on behalf of the Crown, and Mr. Davies, Q. C., for respondent. The counsel for the Crown contended, first, that the accident was not brought about by negligence of the crown or its officers in charge of the railway; second that the contract to carry safely, as far as the exercise of personal care and foresight could provide; implied between a passenger or passengers on an ordinary railway, and the railway company, could not be implied against the Crown, as such a contract necessarily implied negligence upon the part of the servants of the Crown, and the Crown could not be made liable by petition of right for such negligence; third, that the damages were excessive. As the Court was opposed to the first and last contentions of the Crown and would hear no argument upon these points the whole weight of argument was therefore directed to the question of liability of the Crown as carriers. Judgment was reserved. It was agreed between the counsel that four other appeals on the list of a like character and involving similar points, should abide by the decision of this case.

Scotch Fisheries.

A Scottish fishery board reports that 4,111,155 barrels of herring were cured in 1881 under official superintendence. This is the third time that the cure has exceeded a million, the years 1874 and 1880 being the other occasions. The average of the last five years has been nearly one million yearly, and as each barrel contains between seven and eight hundred fish, the total is about seven hundred and fifty millions for each year. A large portion of the nightly catch is sent to market early in the morning, so the figures above given do not represent the total catch. It is estimated, in fact, that half as many Scotch herring are sold fresh as are cured. It is further estimated that, in the English seas, though official reports do not show the exact number taken, the herring fishery which has Yarmouth as its seat, landed on the quays of that place, in the last thirteen years, more than twenty seven hundred million fish. The annual catch in the North Sea by British, French, Dutch and Norwegian fishermen, is twenty-four hundred million. The herring fishery, too, employs fifty thousand people in Scotland alone.

An extensive dynamite factory has been established near Belleville. This is the only one in Ontario.

There is no foundation for the statement that the name of Regina, the new capital of Assiniboia, is to be changed.

CATHOLIC LITERARY UNION.—A meeting of the members of the Catholic Literary Union will be held in St. Patrick's Hall, on Friday evening, the 3rd instant, at eight o'clock.—JAS. L. DEMPSEY, secretary. [no2 2]

FOUR trespass cases were to-day tried by Peter McGowan, Esq., and James Curtis, Esq., J. P.s. They were at the suit of Alexander Hayden vs. Long, Hurrey, Hennessy, and McKinnon, respectively. All were dismissed for want of sufficient proof.

SUPREME COURT.—To-day, Mr. M. McLeod is showing cause against the rule nisi granted for a new trial in the case of Carleton vs. Lavie tried at Georgetown last July. The argument will likely last over to-morrow. The Summerside Scott Act cases will likely be heard on Saturday.

TWO Scott Act cases were tried before the stipendiary Magistrate this forenoon. At the suit of James Curtis, Esq., Inspector of License, Thomas Cardiff was convicted and fined $100 and costs or two months imprisonment for the second offence. Angus McDonald for same offence, was fined the same.

WE are pleased to learn that Sergeant-Major McDonnell has been appointed first Lieutenant, provisionally, of the Charlotte Town Engineer Company, vice A. B. Stewart, deceased. Lieutenant McDougall will, we learn, go to Kingston Military College, to study for a term the duties of his present office in the militia.

A FEW DAYS ago a melancholy young man named McKinnon (son of the late John McKinnon), Vernon River, attempted to commit suicide by drinking a small quantity of medicine which he supposed to be poisonous. Dr. McNeill was called and restored him to health. On recovering he asked to be sent to the Asylum. His request was granted and he was admitted into the Institution yesterday.

COUNTERFEITS.—The Moncton Times says "counterfeit P. E. Island notes, very cleverly executed, but on bad paper, are in circulation in Halifax. Pewter 50 cent pieces are also being passed, and while new are very deceptive. The notes can be detected by the softness of the paper, and the fifty cent pieces are more natural, but lighter in weight than the genuine coin, and of course have not the clear ringing sound of the silver when struck.

WE learn that Mr. John McLeod, of Valleyfield, at the recent examination at Dalhousie College, Halifax, won a senior exhibition, worth $200 a year, good for two years. This will enable Mr. McLeod to complete the whole course of four years. At the same institution Mr. Alfred Nicholson, of Southport, won a Munro Bursary worth $150 per annum, and Victor Coffin, of Mount Stewart, another, worth the same amount. We congratulate our young friends on their success.

IT is always well to know, if one is going to argue, just where your argument leads to. The Boston Transcript tells about a good deacon who hated to see rings in a woman's ears. "They ain't natural," he exclaimed. "If it was intended for women to wear them she would have been born with holes in her ears. The first woman didn't wear earrings, I'll be bound!" "No," remarked the quiet little man in the corner, "nor anything else." The discussion is reported to have been brought to an abrupt close, and the house adjourned without delay.

THE Department of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa has received from the British Government a piece of plate, for presentation to Captain C. E. Fulton, master of the ship Flora, of Amherst, in recognition of the part he took in rescuing the crew of the barque Margaret Boyd, of Ardrossan, Scotland, which was wrecked in the Atlantic, in November last, on a voyage from Miramichi to Lorne, Ireland. The British Government had previously awarded a binocular glass to the first mate, a gratuity of £3 sterling to the second mate, and one of £2 to each of the five seamen who manned the boat that effected the rescue.

DURING the recent troubles in Egypt a most ancient relic has been destroyed—a tree which, according to Christian tradition, was the identical one under which the parents of Christ sought refuge on their flight to Egypt. It stood near the ruins of Heliopolis, north of Cairo, and from time immemorial it was under the shade of the Franciscans in Cairo, and an object of great veneration. During his sojourn in Egypt last year the Austrian Crown Prince visited the sacred spot and tree, which latter was cut down by the Egyptian troops while they were throwing up intrenchments near Heliopolis.

ONE of the secrets of the success of the English Salvation Army is their singing, which is specially made the order to the tastes of the illiterate and uncultivated masses. In London one of their "hymns" has for this reason, become as popular as any of the songs which are sung at the "free-and-easies," the air being irresistibly droll. One stanza is as follows:—

Elijah was a jolly old man,
And was carried up to Heaven in a fiery van.

Chorus.—Let us every one be a jolly old man,
And be carried up to Heaven in a fiery van.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BREWSTER has discharged his confidential messenger, a colored man named Simms. This Simms was the negro whose arrest in Boston before the war, as a fugitive slave, aroused so great an excitement in Massachusetts. Judge Devereux, who was United States marshal at the time, purchased him for one thousand dollars, and has since employed him in various capacities until three years ago, when he was appointed messenger while Judge Devereux was Attorney-General, and has held the position since. To-day he applied for restoration, but was refused on account of his intemperate habits.—Boston Advertiser.

THE steamship "Circassian" arrived at Quebec on Monday evening, 30th ult., after one of the longest and stormiest passages she has ever made. For two days after leaving the Me she saw the barometer stood at 29.90, and scarcely had she cleared the Irish coast when she encountered a terrific gale from the west, which lasted three days and nights. The wind then changed to the south-east, and for ten or twelve hours she ran before it with a tremendous sea in pursuit. The gale, with a slight intermission, then veered to the west and north, and finally to the north-west, from whence it blew till she entered the Strait of Belle Isle. During the greater part of one night the ship was hoisted to, and for a couple of days the 1-deck saloon had to be abandoned for more comfortable quarters below. Happily the only accident was the injury to one box, which was crushed in its cradle by a heavy sea. It was with a sense of great thankfulness to all on board that on Saturday afternoon, the peaceful waters of the Straits were reached. A meeting of passengers was held on board, and resolutions of thanks were tendered to the captain for his skillful management of the steamer.

His wide experience in the work, and well known talent as a pulpit and platform speaker, will render the occasion one of special interest. Refer to advertisement and handbills.

OUR friend—Mr. John McKenzie, Champion Tailor of the Universe,—has addressed a second manifesto to the electors of Prince Edward Island. He makes allusion to the act that an elector who votes for the House of Assembly need not own a foot of ground or have any stake in the country; while the elector for the Legislative Council must be a man of broad acres—a gentleman of considerable importance. After recommending the last named class of electors to become well clad, on election day, he concludes as follows:—"My skill as an artist has been admitted by my distinguished friend Oscar Wilde, who writes me the most pleasant feature of his visit to the Island was to see that I was appreciated by my own countrymen."

THE BOOM IN HOUSES.—There are no empty houses in Moncton, but there is a most urgent demand for more dwellings. The demand increases and has attained the dimensions of "a house famine." If perchance a vacancy occurs there are as many applications for it as for a vacant government office. Rents are very high, yet would be tenants constantly bid against each other, and in several recent cases have offered three months rent in advance for a house to shelter them. A number are now hopelessly hunting for houses which it is impossible to find. And this, notwithstanding the large number of new buildings that have been erected during the past summer.—Moncton Transcript.

DEAR SIR.—I desire to express my feelings of profound gratitude to you who have helped me so much by the use and application of your wonderful medicine known as your Absorbive Pads and Plasters, &c. I was sick about two years and spent a large sum of money with physicians but received very little benefit until I tried your absorbive treatment. When I commenced using it this summer I could scarcely walk across the floor, I had such a weakness across me, and now I can walk a mile at a time and attend to household duties much better than I could before, and feel only too glad to recommend this truly great treatment to any person or persons who may be afflicted as I was. You are at liberty to make any disposition of this note you may deem proper.
