By the Canadian Press
Tommy Byrne Sunday pitched and batted New York Yankees to a 6-3 American League triumph over Detroit Tigers. The tall left-hander singled in two runs in the eighth to break a 3-3 tie and rounded the bases on a trio of throwing errors. He spaced nine hits for his first victory of the season.

Meanwhile Boston hammered St. Louis Browns twice, 8-6 and 6-2 to move within 42 percentage points of the leading Tigers in the standings.

Washington whipped Cleveland 10-5 in a singleton while Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox split, the Sox winning the opener 7-3 and Philadelphia the nightcap 4-2.

Detroit jumped on Byrne for single runs in the first two innings and enjoyed a 3-1 lead at the end of five before a crowd of 54,027 New York fans. Yogi Berra homered in the fourth for the Yankee run.

The Yanks tied the count against starter Ted Gray with two runs in the sixth. Byrne knocked in one with a long fly. Gray departed in this inning in favor of Paul Galvert, who stopped the rally by getting Phil Rizzuto to hit into a double play.

Galvert, a Montreal native, was tagged for the loss in the eighth when Byrne singled home two runs and scored himself on two errors by Johnny Groth and another by Calvert.

The Red Sox outstruggled the lowly Browns in the three-hour-long opener, in which 20 walks were issued by pitchers of both sides. Al Papai was victorious over his former mates as he travelled the route in the second game before 34,533 paid fans.

Another bases-loaded home run by Gil Coan did the trick for Washington, enabling the Senators to come from behind and defeat Cleveland. It was Coan's second such homer in five days.

Coan's grand-slammer off Bob Lemon was delivered in the seventh, when the Senators scored six runs to erase Cleveland's 5-4 lead. Jess Flores was the losing pitcher. Mickey Harris, who allowed only one hit in the last five innings after replacing Conrado Marrero, was the winner.

Cleveland got three homers, two by Al Rosen and one by Jim Hegan.

Ed Stewart contributed a double and three singles to the Senators' attack, while Sam Dente and Coan each supplied three hits.

Home runs by Pete Suder and Mike Guerra provided Philadelphia Athletics with the second-game victory over Chicago. Chicago had handed Lou Brissie his fourth straight pitching setback while gaining a 7-2 first-game triumph in the opener.

Montreal Canadiens Win Junior Hockey Ch'ship

By Vio Morris, Jr.
MONTREAL, May 7 (CP) — Billy Gould led Montreal Canadiens to the Memorial Cup Saturday night with a dazzling three-goal performance as the Montrealers trounced Regina 6-3 to capture the Canadian junior hockey championship in five games.

A crowd of 5,000 was on hand to see Gould and Art Rose take the sting out of the Regina attack by scoring five important goals between them.

Canadiens' victory gave Montreal its second straight Memorial Cup. Last year Montreal Royals brought the title here for the first time by defeating Brandon Wheat Kings in the west.

Jacques Nadon was the other Montreal sniper, while Brian McDonald, Merv Gregg and Eddie Litzenberger were Regina marksmen.

The game was played at a terrific pace with Canadiens holding the upper hand throughout. They outshot Regina 35-25.

Canadiens had too much class and speed for Regina and their heavy rearguard of Ernie Roche and Bucky Hollingworth counted heavily in the contest.

Marlboros In 4-1 Victory Over Calgary

CALGARY, May 7 (CP) — Toronto Marlboros had no trouble riding herd on a disorganized string of Calgary Stampede Saturday night. The eastern champions put a 4-1 victory brand on the cowboys and took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Allan Cup final.

In the Calgary dressing room after the game, defenceman Jack Taggart said: "We lost the game because we deserved to lose — we just weren't skating."

But the Ducks, who won the first game of the Canadian senior hockey championship series 6-3 and dropped the second 5-4, were skating. And they also threw their weight around more vigorously — particularly young Hugh Bolton, the 21-year-old University of Toronto engineering student who is slated to play defence for Toronto Maple Leafs next year.

Bolton, as well as making smart use of his solid 190 pounds, was one of the four Toronto goal-getters. Al Buchanan, Chuck Blair and George Armstrong — all from different lines — scored the others. Veteran Doug (Crafty) Cairns scored for Calgary in the first period.

Savoie After 14th Straight Kayo Monday

TORONTO, May 5 (CP) — Armand Savoie, 19-year-old Montreal fighter who tickles the ivories (by ear) and carries a stick of dynamite in each fist, will shoot for his 14th straight knockout and his 18th in 22 professional fights Monday night. Ring experts figure his shot will be on the button.

Armand, not old enough according to boxing regulations to fight a 10-rounder, will be up against southpaw John (Spider) Thompson of Buffalo, N. Y., in the main bout eight-round go at Maple Leaf Gardens. The way the smiling-eyed Armand is going in training he should pin the American's ears back in time to let the expected 6,000 fans get home early.

Armand's record speaks for itself. Two weeks ago he knocked out Alan McFater, Toronto's pride and joy in the lightweight division, in seven rounds and hardly worked up a sweat. McFater earlier won two decisions over the Buffalo lefty.

That record calls for another Savoie K. O. Monday, but the quiet and assuming fighter who represented Canada in the 1948 Olympics isn't saying much except that he is "confident."

Ben Hogan Ties Golf Record

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., May 7 (AP) — Ben Hogan today tied the world's record for 72 holes of golf on a par-70 course with a 21-under-par 133-255 that won the Greenbrier Open Golf Tournament by 10 strokes.

Host Sam Sneed finished second in the four-day event over the 6,368-yard Old White Course with 203-66-269. Norman Von Nida of Sydney, Australia, was third at 205-65-270 and Skip Alexander of Knoxville, Tenn., fourth with 200-71-271.

Trainer Pete Odette is pretty sweet about Armand, but he is also cautious.

"We are confident about Monday night's fight, but Thompson is a southpaw and he can make trouble."

Savoie is improving every time out but he isn't ready for the big time. "The kid needs experience and I wouldn't say he would be ready for a year or two yet. He needs time."

LITTLE SPORT

At the rate the ground is drying up with the warm weather that is in vogue at the moment, it shouldn't be long now before work will be commenced on the various ball diamonds at Victoria Park and at other points in and about the City, to get them in shape for the start of the baseball season which will likely get underway early next month.

Even now, with the diamonds still clinging to the remnants of their winter and spring dampness, the youngsters could be seen getting in a little pre-season practice over the week-end at the various sites that are used for that purpose. Although most of it only consists of tossing the ball around at the moment, it is a sure sign that the sport will be coming into full bloom soon.

Local golfers too, are watching the greens and fairways at Belvedere and Green Gables courses closely these days, and with a gleam of anticipation in their eyes, are waiting for the first opportunity to start belting the pillared. All that will be needed to get the "early birds" started digging in the back closets for "ye olde drivers and putters" will be the go ahead sign from the greens-keeper, and the flag waving over the cup at the end of number one fairway.

And when you hear someone shout, "fore!" take our timely tip, and duck for the nearest cover.

"One of the saddest spectacles of sport," states a recent report from an Upper Canadian city, "is that of the once-great athlete living out his remaining years in obscurity." A few days ago, Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson caught up with Jim Thorpe, the American Indian who was hailed in 1912 when he set new marks in winning the Decathlon and Pentathlon in the Olympic Games of that year. Thorpe now is managing a practically-unknown wrestler named Sunni War Cloud.

"He's a poor man today," wrote Ferguson, "a man who never was quite able to capitalize on his Olympic fame, and his football prowess, because there was no professional football in the days when he set new marks in the world carrying the ball for Carlisle Indians."

"Thorpe shrugs off the fact that his feats were wiped off amateur record books because he played semi-pro baseball before the Olympics," Ferguson says he was "deeply wronged by the over-zealous administrations of the big boys of amateur sport." "It doesn't matter now," he told Ferguson. "All that matters is that I was an amateur athlete at those Olympics. That might have counted. But perhaps those men who blackballed me were right. Anyway, it doesn't matter now."

If someone were to take the trouble, as Ferguson did, to uncover the present status of many great athletes of the past who are still living, they would find many more who have slid down from the peak of public prominence into almost obscurity. This seems to be as much a part of sport as the "days of fame themselves." There is always some one to take their place at the height of greatness to steal the spotlight of public idolism, and while the light shines on the newcomer, the once great, slip into obscurity, only to be remembered by the record books or some staunch fan of that day, harkening back to the "good old days."

For those who have fallen into leaner years, it is better to leave them that way, unless something can be done to help them materially. True, we all like to hear what became of so and so, who was once a great athlete, but if it is a sad tale to tell, it is better left untold. Let those who were once bathed in the light of greatness live in the warmth of it with their memories. And let those who once knew them as great, think of them as they were then, and not as they are now.

LONDON, May 7 (Reuters) — Julian Creus of Liverpool England, set a British and Empire feather-weight weight-lifting record here Saturday night with a snatch of 221-1-2 pounds.

Boston Braves Suffer 15-0 Defeat At Hands Of St. Louis Cardinals

By the Canadian Press
Howard Pollock Sunday stopped the rampaging Boston Braves cold on just four hits while St. Louis Cardinals let loose with a barrage of their own for a 15-0 National League triumph. The Braves had scored 55 times in their previous four games before facing Pollock.

Meanwhile Brooklyn downed Pittsburgh 3-2 while Philadelphia came through with two victories over Cincinnati, 6-0, 6-4.

Pollock struck out five and walked one. Del Crandall and pinch-batter Roy Hartsfield were the only Braves to reach second base.

A single by Tommy Giaviano and triples by Ernie Slaughter and Red Schoendienst — good for two runs — started the Redbird drive in the third.

They added three more in the fifth on four singles and a double, and four more in the sixth on two doubles, two singles and Willard Marshall's error.

The final big St. Louis rally produced five runs in the seventh — three of them on Eddie Miller's home run with Slaughter and Schoendienst scoring ahead of him.

The Cards started hitting Johnny Sain in the first inning but he had given up 11 hits and five runs before he went out for John Antonelli in the fifth.

Jackie Robinson made it a one-man show today as Brooklyn came from behind to beat Pittsburgh. The Bums' sparkling second-base man drove in all three tallies with a home run, a double and a single in three tries.

A near-capacity crowd of 33,734 saw Robinson lace his game-winning four-bagger into the left field bullpen in the sixth with nobody aboard. It was Jackie's second homer of the year.

A wild Jack Banta donated the Pirates two runs in the first frame. Rex Barney, the winner, relieved him in the fourth, and pitched one-hit ball until relieved by Carl Eskine in the ninth.

The Pirates' Murray Dickson allowed seven hits and was charged with his second loss.

Philadelphia tossed away a four-run lead over Cincinnati but came back in the eighth on Del Emlis' homer and scored another run in the ninth to win both ends of the double bill.

At Chicago, New York Giants today swept a twin bill from Chicago Cubs, 4-3 and 5-2, before a capacity crowd of 40,748 that shivered in 38-degree temperature.

REMEMBER WHEN

Frank Patrick was appointed bench manager of Boston Bruins, a National Hockey League entry 16 years ago today. Brother of Lester of New York Rangers fame and a hockey great in his own right, Frank lasted only one season with Bruins. He was replaced by Art Ross who had piloted Bruins before Patrick took over.

NEW YORK, May 7 (CP) — The Manchester, England, soccer team which arrived here today by boat will play its first match at Toronto, Wednesday.

Matches also are scheduled in New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Los Angeles, and Fall River, Mass. A second game will be played in Toronto June 14.

Many Fans See Baseball Films

Large crowds of baseball enthusiasts had the opportunity of witnessing some excellent baseball films here over the week-end, with showings at the Provincial Sanatorium, Saint Dunstan's University and Holy Redeemer Hall.

The films, five in all and dealing with baseball instruction and also on the 1949 World Series, were brought here through the kindness of the Bike Shop and shown through the facilities of the Department of Physical Fitness.

In addition to the showings over the week-end, the films were on display earlier in the week at the Armouries in Charlottetown, Summerside, and Kensington, and will be shown today at Georgetown and at Souris on Tuesday.

The films, which have to be sent out of the Province this week, will be brought back again at a later date when it is hoped that they will be shown at Tignish, O'Leary and Alberton, and possibly other centres.
