DECEMBER 14, 1896.

WEST PRINCE ELECTION TRIAL.

The evidence in the Hackett election trial was concluded on Saturday last, and the Court adjourned until Wednesday, the 30th December, at Alberton, upon which day the decision of the judges will be given.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

When the gentlemen composing the present Government were in the cool shades of Opposition they were loud in their denunciation of commissions. But now that they have obtained power upon the strength of an appeal racial and religious prejudices, they have swallowed everything they said when in opposition and are treating the people to a large dose of Government by Commission.

Speaking of the Tariff Commission a few days ago, the Ottawa Citizen gave space to the following extracts from a speech delivered in Parliament some two years ago by Mr. McMillen:—

"Although hon. gentlemen opposite are in this House backed by 89, 90, or 100 followers, they are so entirely ignorant of the views of their constituents as regards the changes that should be made in the tariff that the Finance Minister and two of the Senators with whom he has surrounded himself had to start on a mission around the Dominion to find out what the people wanted."

"If I were a supporter of a Government that treated me and my constituents in that fashion, I would have as little confidence in it as they had in me. It is nothing short of a positive insult to every constituency represented by a Conservative that the Government should have gone round gathering information and ignoring the representatives sent by the different constituencies to this House."

Now, however, that Mr. McMillen's friends are in power he will probably not be heard from along this line during the forthcoming session. What a sensation Mr. McMillen would create in Parliament were he to now talk as he did two years ago.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The extra session of Parliament last summer cost the country $400,000. This is a snug sum to pay for grit obstruction.

The Gazette points out that the Laurier Tariff party of appointing a mission to Europe to charge that public enemies have voted against its candidates kills two birds with the one stone. It gives a job to the man who conducts the investigation, and it gives a job to the man who gets the vacant place.

It is pointed out by the Mail and Empire that Mr. Prefontaine, one of the Liberal members pledged to give the plebiscite, is, with others, seeking incorporation for the purpose of conducting a brewery in Montreal. Mr. Prefontaine knows what Messrs. Laurier and Ross mean by the plebiscite.

Montreal Gazette: Mr. Sifton is promising to do great things when he comes to Ottawa and takes charge of the Interior Department. Having compelled Messrs. Laurier and Tarte to swallow their Quebec utterances on the Manitoba school question their alleged principles in regard to religious education, and himself, he, no doubt, has some excuse for his bouzoufferies.

Speaking at the Bank of Ottawa meeting, Mr. Charles Mager, the President of the institution, and one of the foremost business men of the capital, said that any reduction in duties on wheat and flour would have the effect of injuring the flouring interests of the country and of transferring an important business from Port Arthur to Duluth, to the detriment of the Manitoba farmers, and possibly of those of other Provinces.

The following words from the conclusion of President Cleveland's message are respectfully commended to the consideration of the Laurier Government:—"The way to perplexing extravagance is easy; but a return to frugality is difficult. When, however, it is considered that those who bear the burdens of taxation have no guaranty of honest and able management of their public revenues, the duty of all possible retrenchment is plainly manifest."

Replying to some remarks of the Truro Herald with regard to the dismissal of Mr. C. T. Hillson, the Truro Times-Guardian says:—"The Saturday Satellite says the Liberals have dismissed one man and put on three. We presume this means the Liberals have dismissed one Tory and put on three Grits. We don't know that it would be a very great sin if they did."

This is about the size of grit feeling, notwithstanding all the commissions sent out by the Federal Government.

The United States is now well advanced in its third year under tariff reform policy. The succession of surpluses rolled up under the policy of protection has been succeeded by an era of deficits and financial complications that threaten national bankruptcy. The present fiscal year will almost be a record breaker. The receipts from July 1st to November 9th, have been $129,371,326, and the expenditures $181,453,236, an excess of expenditures over receipts of more than forty-one million dollars, or at the rate of nearly ninety million dollars in twelve months. Possibly the closing months of the year will be more favorable, but the outlook is not reassuring. Tariff reform has been a failure in the United States. If tried in Canada on similar lines it will be equally unsatisfactory.

The loss of the Sallier, involving as it has done the death of 215 human beings, is a very dreadful affair, and affords another proof of the dangerous character of the Spanish coast on which so many good ships have been lost. It is only a short time since a similar accident on the same coast resulted in the destruction of a great many lives.

THE CUBAN TROUBLE.

Weyler's Reception.—Death of Maceo.—Spain Feeling the Pulse of Europe. Gen. Weyler arrived at Havana on Friday evening, accompanied by two squadrons of cavalry. He was given a popular ovation from the time he reached the city limits until he arrived at the Palace. At some places along the route girls strewed flowers in the pathway and he was in other ways treated as a popular hero.

Very little doubt remains in Cuban circles in Philadelphia as to the death of General Maceo, the Cuban leader. The news came to hand on Friday from private sources, which acknowledge that no further doubt of Maceo's death can exist. The information comes directly from Cuban agents on the island.

Dr. Zertucha, Maceo's physician, says that Maceo intended to cross the Trocha on December 3rd, but was prevented by sickness from doing so. Next day it was announced that he had been seen by a boat with his men, but would go by water around the end of Trocha and meet the insurgent force on the Havana side of the line. Two boats were prepared, they being painted black to prevent them being seen, and the cars were mutilated, so they could not be heard plying in the rowlocks. At night Maceo and 25 men embarked in the boats and passed in front of the town of Mariel, at the northern extremity of western Trocha, not being seen by any of the Spanish sentries thereabouts.

The rebel leader Miro and other commanders of rebel bands accompanied Maceo. The short voyage was accomplished without the slightest mishap and the rebel party landed at the point selected without it being discovered. When on Dec. 4th an engagement took place between the rebels and Major Ciruela's command, Maceo was engaged with 2,000 men. When a Spanish force appeared Maceo divided his men into two wings, with the intention of surrounding the Spanish column. He remained alone with his staff for a moment watching the fighting and exclaimed: "This goes well. Shortly afterwards he was hit by two bullets, one striking him on the chin, breaking his jaw, passing out at the junction of the neck and shoulder, the other hitting him in the abdomen. Either would have caused death. The rebel leader expired in a short time. The rebels who were fighting desperately against the Spanish attack, were panic stricken when they heard of the death of their chief. They fled in disorder not making any attempt to take Maceo's body with them. The Spaniards then returned to Punta Brava with the dead and wounded. When the field was clear some rebels returned and carried Maceo's body off with them. Dr. Zertucha says he does not know where the remains were buried. Near and far search was made by the Spaniards but it has proved fruitless.

The London News publishes a despatch from Havana saying it is stated that Spain has asked the Pappal Nuncios at the various capitals whether any of the powers would support her in the event of war with the United States or interfere in Spain's behalf at the right moment.

KILLED IN THE CONGO.

Death of Baron Dhanis.—White Operating Against the Derivatives. It is reported that Baron Dhanis, who led the Anglo-Belgian movement against the Mahdists at the time of the Dongola expedition, and who was said to have arrived safely at Lado, north of the territory of the Congo, Free State in August last, has been killed in the Congo, not having been defeated by the derivatives. It was understood that he was preparing to move further northward when the Anglo-Egyptian expedition passed from Dongola in the direction of Khartoum. Baron Dhanis descends from an old Antwerp family, but was born in London in 1862. His mother was of English extraction, and his father was a Belgian. He was educated first in Scotland and partly in Belgium. In 1882 Dhanis entered the military school at Brussels and became a sub-lieutenant in a line regiment in 1884. Later he was entrusted by the international African association with a mission to Zan-zibar, and he acquitted himself with so much credit that the Belgian government appointed him to the command of the expedition to Katanga. He defeated Gongo Luteto, one of the Arab chiefs, and also gained a signal victory over Seto, the son of Tippoo Tib, and Munie Moharre, and captured Nyangwe and Kasongo. He afterwards inflicted a crushing defeat upon Runaliza, completely overthrowing the Arab Power in the district. This title of Baron was conferred upon him, and he was expected to win further laurels during the approaching campaign against Khartoum.

RELIGIOUS FANATICS IN REBELLION.

The New York Herald's Rio Janeiro advices state that the uprising of the religious fanatics in the state of Bahia has assumed a grave character. Provoked by the enthusiasm, bands of rebels have invaded several villages and committed many acts of oppression. The chief leader of the religious insurgents is Colon Conselheiro, who calls himself the God Jesus. When his followers take possession of a village, the municipal authorities are always expelled by one of the so-called agents of Conselheiro. Government troops who were sent to disperse the fanatics met a large land on Monday near Joazeiro. A fierce conflict ensued, and 150 of the rebels were killed. The federal loss was one officer, one sergeant and eight privates killed. Several privates were also wounded. The rebels retreated across the border into the State of Matto Grosso. The correspondent says the religious disturbances are the direct result of the machinations of the monarchist faction in Brazil.

NEWS NOTES

The Governor-General was expected in Ottawa today. It is reported that the Negus of Abyssinia has ceded to Russia a small stretch of coast between Obok and Erithraea at a coaling station. The Dominion Government will be asked to interfere to prevent the barbarous practices which prevail among the pagan Indians in the Northwest.

The New York World on Tuesday said that Rev. Mr. Talmage was to marry Miss Mangum of Sing Sing, on Wednesday Mr. Talmage said the report was untrue. A threshing boiler exploded on the farm of Archibald Ferguson, Yarmouth, Ont., last Wednesday, instantly killing Alexander Forbes and fatally scalding Edward Dutton.

Rose Coghlan was given a benefit in New York on Friday in the Broadway theatre under the auspices of the dramatic profession and it resulted in $6,200 being turned over to her.

The recent disagreement between the European steamship companies of Boston and the cattle shippers regarding the rates on cattle to the European market has been satisfactorily adjusted.

Inspection of winter crops of celery now in treches in the Kalamazoo, Mich., fields—made it fall one-third shorter on account of damp, warm weather. The estimated loss is $50,000.

At Harrison, Neb., sympathetic neighbors of a woman whose husband abandoned her ordered the brute to leave town, which he did, and then he sued the good folk for alienating his affection.

Mr. Annie Conrod, who died at Halifax last week, left an estate of $10,000. Of this amount $500 is to be invested and the income applied towards the maintenance of students for the Roman Catholic priesthood.

Advices from Antananarivo, Madagascar say that the night of Nov. 13 rebels looted the town of Ambohimanga, ten miles from the capital, capturing forty prisoners and all the cattle. The English residents escaped.

It is reported that the British government has taken possession of Clarion Island, a break rock off the coast of Jalisco, Mexico, and will make it a coaling station for its warships which pass up and down the Pacific.

Miss Mac Kelly, prominent in musical and social circles of Duluth, died suddenly a few nights ago. She was singing at a church in the opening bars of "The Giveth His Beloveth Sleep" when she fell backward dead.

The Montreal Court of Review has confirmed a judgment giving a tenant $73 damages in a suit against a landlord, the ground of action being that the house was so infested with bed-bugs that boarders would not live in it.

The district of Bothwell, Ont., is greatly excited over the large quantities of oil that have been struck recently. Thirty rigs are boring night and day for oil, and several quarters have been struck. Some of the wells pump over a hundred barrels a day.

The poster craze is on the increase in the United States, and collectors are eclipsed even the postage stamp mania. George M. Moulton, of Chicago, has a collection of 2,000 specimens, representing hundreds of names, which are almost entirely American.

The Powers have agreed upon what they want Turkey to do, but Russia has vetoed the taking of coercive measures. The clause that the Porte will do what the Powers desire are not the brightest. They cannot use the one argument that Turkish Sultanate understand.

Mr. Pingree, the new Governor of Michigan, proposes to make his term famous by the passage of laws increasing the taxes on and decreasing the revenues of the railroads. Some great local reputations are made in the Western States by the advocacy of such policies, also some heavy losses to investors by adopting them.

In the Federal Senate, on Thursday last Mr. Erkins (Rep., W. Va.) offered the following amendment to the immigration law: "That in addition to restriction imposed by law on immigrants coming to the United States there shall be imposed and collected a fee of $10 on each immigrant coming into the United States not on American ships."

The Montreal schoolmaster who, to punish some pipe-smoking boys, dosed them with tobacco water, has been reprimanded by the Board of Commissioners. He will have to be more conservative hereafter. The stomach is not included, among those parts of the body which a pedagogue is by tradition licensed to irritate for purposes of chastisement.

In an election to the French Academy, Andre Theuret defeated Emile Zola by a vote of 18 to 4 and M. Vandal by a vote of 20 to 2. The fact that they have triumphed over Zola will help to make these "immortals" known to the world, and to keep the Academy before the public. A man to belong to this noted body has still to recognize the restrictions in literature.

The St. James Gazette says it has the highest authority for the statement that the army estimates for the ensuing year, which will be presented to Parliament upon its re-assembly, will be greatly increased. According to the statement of the Gazette, eight new battalions of infantry and eighteen new batteries of artillery, with four guns each, will be formed and the cavalry service will be reorganized.

A Joint Mandement on the School Question to be Issued.

OTTAWA, Dec. 14. It looks as if there are troublesome times ahead for the Laurier Government on the school question. Father Corbett, of Cornwall, strikes back at Tarte in grand style, and on Saturday La Semaine, the religious organ of the Archbishop, had a slashing article saying that the school question was not settled, and, he adds, never would be until the rights of the minority were returned. It is stated that a joint mandement will be issued in a few days, signed by all the bishops, enjoining no surrender on the part of the faithful.

OTTAWA, Dec. 14. It is definitely settled that John Lovitt, ex-M. P. of Yarmouth, N. S., will succeed the late Senator Knibb in the Upper House. Geo. King, ex-M. P. for Kingston, N. B., has also been called to the Senate.
