Inspecting Officer Praises St. Dunstan's Cadet Corps

"You have put on a creditable performance here this afternoon," Colonel A. W. Rogers, ED, commanding officer of 2 Militia Group told the members of St. Dunstan's Cadet Corps.

Col. Rogers also told the corps they put on a fine showing despite the fact that they had to put on their inspection in such cramped quarters, compared with their fine football field, where the inspection was carried out last year.

The inspecting officer was also very high in his praise of the band, under the direction of Lloyd Ward.

"I am amazed in the change in the band over last year," he said. "You wouldn't know it was the same band. They certainly did a marvellous job here today in keeping the feet moving in military fashion."

Chief instructor, Major (Rev.) F. L. Cass, was also high in his praise of the cadet corps. He stated that he had been in charge of the SDU corps for 15 years and had seen 15 inspections and BEST EVER.

The inspecting party were accompanied on their tour of the ranks by the instructor of the corps, Major Cass.

Toward the end of the inspection Col. Rogers presented the following prizes to the cadets. The Strathcona Trust prize won by Cadet Major Harry Callaghan; prize for shooting won by Cadet Captain John Bent and the prize for the first year cadet won by Cadet Joseph Doyle.

Bandmaster Ward was also presented with a small token of appreciation for the excellent work done in training the band.

Following the presentation of the prizes to the cadets, the band and Mrs. Herndon in a Charlotte ministry began about one year ago, and was intensified by a visit to Central Christian Church last July. Both he and Mrs. Herndon and the two other boys who accompanied him were very much impressed by the beauty of the island, and look forward to their future residence here.

The new minister entertains a definite interest in the project of organizing and developing a Georgetown, drew fines of $5 and costs. The sixth man, a city resident, was taken to Riverside Hospital for treatment.

A city man appearing on a non-support charge placed by his wife had his case adjourned for one week.

A Tracadie youth convicted on a charge of speeding was fined $25 and costs or 10 days. A second youthful motorist was fined $20 and costs or 10 days for failing to stop at a red traffic light.

From a small beginning of two cabins at Highfield in 1936, Mr. Rodd with the assistance of his wife became the first operator of a large motel on the Island. They have again established a first by becoming the largest motel in the Maritimes.

Mr. Rodd explains that increased tourist traffic has necessitated his most recent expansion. He believes firmly that a causeway would increase the Island tourist trade by three times its present capacity.

The watch was operated by Constable Ralph Hardy.

20-Unit Addition Will Make City Motel Maritime's Biggest

Construction now underway on the Charlottetown Motel will make this highly popular stopping place the largest motel in the Maritimes.

The addition being constructed will be a two story building with 10 units at ground level and 10 units above. Mr. Rodd started the motel in 1954 with 16 units. A couple of years later he added 14 units and a suite.

In addition to the extra accommodation, the Charlottetown motel will extend its present lounge forward by 20 feet. During last summer they extended the kitchen facilities to the rear in anticipation of the present expansion.

Mr. Rodd also reported that he intends to construct a swimming pool on the front lawn for the use of his customers both at the motel and from Highfield Court. Showers will be provided in the new extension.

The motel is managed by Wallace Rodd.

Are We Hiding The Book?

A missionary told the Gospel story to a group of people in a remote village in India. Then he read the story of Jesus' birth from the Scriptures. "How long ago was this great day when God's son was born?" one person asked. "About two thousand years ago," replied the missionary. "Then why has the news been so long reaching us?" asked the villager in surprise. "Who has been hiding the Book all this time?" Although the British and Foreign Bible Society along with kindred groups has been translating and distributing the Scriptures for more than a century-and-a-half, there are still millions of people who have never heard the Gospel of Christ. There are a number of reasons for this, but mainly the fact that the demand for God's Word far exceeds the material resources of the societies, and so there is a continuing appeal to all Christians to support the work of the Society in its great outreach. We may contribute through one of the many branches throughout Prince Edward Island or directly through The Bible House. We also help when we make a purchase of Christian literature and supplies at The Bible House, the profits of which are used to further the work of giving God's Word to every man in his own tongue "without word or comment."
