Diplomats Wives Enjoy Varied Experiences Abroad

By MARGARET FRANCIS STOCKHOLM (CP) — Home is wherever you hang your hat for the wives of Canadian external affairs department men abroad.

But to women like Rita Chapdelaine, wife of Canada's ambassador to Sweden—Jean Chapdelaine—it adds up to a full, interesting life and a valuable background for their children.

Since the embassies are permanently furnished, they bring few things with them to a new post—a few nostalgic paintings of Canadian scenes, or family pictures.

COLORFUL CITY

"No, I don't mind not having my own furniture," Mrs. Chapdelaine said. She was standing beside the high, recessed window of the ambassadorial apartment with the honking traffic of Stockholm's arterial Strandvägen below. Beyond was an arm of the Baltic where fishboats, sails furled, were winter idle; beyond that, the islands of residential Stockholm. "Living in foreign countries is a lot of fun."

parents' Montreal home.

Dr. Pidgeon represented Canada's United Church at many significant conferences throughout the world, and often his wife was with him. "But their work," stresses Mrs. Aitken, "has really been done in Canada."

"was our first posting abroad, and an exciting time. Mrs. Vanier, with all her experience, was a wonderful teacher for a young wife."

Coffee was being served in the sitting room when Claude, a tall, pretty 14, appeared on her way to her ballet lessons. She wore a tartan skirt over her leotard.

"Horrors!" exclaimed her mother. But when Claude left she admitted she was glad her teenager is growing up in Europe. Her friends in Canada are so sophisticated, with boy friends at 14. Here they are full of life, but they still like each other's company, for record playing sessions, movies."

LIVELY FAMILY

Claude, with her five-year-old sister, Antoine, attends the French school, and speaks French, German and Swedish fluently.

"Stick'em up," was merry Annick's greeting. He may speak four languages, also, but his favorite recent present was a cowboy suit, two guns and an Indian headdress.

With her two maids and a cook, all German, Mrs. Chapdelaine has her housekeeping problems in the big, old-fashioned apartment. Unlike her predecessors in the post, she has no housekeeper or butler. "I do what they would do—shopping, arranging flowers, arranging the table for parties. "I like to devote my life to my family and home, no matter where we live."

The minutes of the last meeting were read and signed. A bill of $3.35 was paid for school supplies also $110.10 for outside windows and installing of same. Correspondence was read and discussed and it was decided to send the names of the deceased members in, to be published in the orial Book.

Red Cross work consisting of 1 baby's sweater, 4 children's sweaters, 2 pairs of socks and 2 jumpers was passed in. Reports of committees were heard and new ones appointed: Sick and program, Mrs. Vernie Webster, Mrs. Joseph Murphy; lunch, Mrs. Eldon Dawson, Mrs. Eldon Burke, Mrs. Elmer Dawson and Mrs. Frank DesRoches.

A very interesting contest was put on by Mrs. Willard Wadman. Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Leard. Roll call to be answered by paying 2 cents for each size of shoe.

Church Leader And Wife Observe Diamond Wedding

Dr. George C. Pidgeon and Mrs. Pidgeon observed their diamond wedding anniversary on March 22nd, in Toronto. The Rev. George C. Pidgeon, D.D., LL.D., first moderator of the United Church of Canada is known throughout Canada in his ministerial work and for his writing of the column "Religion and Life." Mrs. Pidgeon as well as her husband is regarded with affection by a host of friends.

A reception was arranged by the family at the University Women's Club, 182 St. George St. With Dr. and Mrs. Pidgeon on this occasion were their two daughters Mrs. W. E. M. Aitken of Toronto and Mrs. Cameron H. Caesar of Sarnia, and their son Arch L. Pidgeon, of Victoria; as well as the four Caesar grandchildren and a granddaughter, Mrs. S. J. Dolin of Toronto.

On Sunday the women's organizations of Bloor St. United Church, where Dr. Pidgeon was minister for 33 years filled the church with flowers. This is the Toronto church which has always had the largest student congregation as it is situated in the heart of the student community — also Dr. Pidgeon was a speaker of great spiritual and intellectual appeal. Dr. and Mrs. Pidgeon were close personal friends of Dr. and Mrs. John MacNeill, the former a native of Prince Edward Island. Dr. MacNeill was, in his earlier years, with the Toronto University later going on to the Union Theological Seminary in New York City as a teacher. Dr. MacNeill used to supply in Bloor St. United Church for Dr. Pidgeon.

Dr. Pidgeon was born in Quebec 86 years ago. He went to McGill and Presbyterian College in Montreal. He was ordained in 1894 and four years later on March 23 he married Mary Jones in her Children brought their dolls to the festival and these made an attractive display against a background of puppets and kamishibai. They had made in keeping with the theme of their study. Customs of such a Festival carried out in the singing games and also at the tea party.

Doll Festival And Japanese Tea Party Are Enjoyable

Miss Kemp, the president of the Junior Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Anglican Church had a very enjoyable Doll Festival and Japanese Tea Party at their regular meeting on Thursday last. A mission study is on Japan for a year in March the children observe a Doll Festival.
