

Accused Found Guilty Of Criminal Negligence

Reorganization Planned By Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—The central committee of the Soviet Communist party adopted Friday a sweeping reorganization of industrial and agricultural management proposed by Premier Khrushchev.

The central committee approved a resolution recommending adoption of Khrushchev's drastic shakeup of party and government work during the final sessions of a five-day meeting. The resolution, an broadcast by Moscow radio, said the drastic measures were necessary to

Joseph Ivan Arsenault and George Gallant, Summerside, were charged jointly with robbery with violence as the result of Bruno Arsenault, Summerside, having been beaten and robbed on North Market Street on the night of Oct. 7 when $50 in cash, a $55 cheque and a wrist watch were stolen from his person.

Accused Found Guilty Of Criminal Negligence

SUMMERSIDE — After deliberating for an hour and 30 minutes, a petit jury charged a verdict of guilty as charged against Donald Alexander MacPherson of Parkdale in Supreme Court at Summerside yesterday afternoon. The jury made a recommendation for mercy.

MacPherson was found guilty of criminal negligence causing bodily harm to Elizabeth McKeown of Parkdale, who was injured by a car driven by the accused May 18, as she tried to cross the highway after alighting from a school bus which was stopped.

The case went to the jury at 11:30 a.m. After Mr. Justice R.R. Bell charged the jury they could return one of three verdicts — guilty as charged, not guilty as charged but guilty of dangerous driving which is a lesser offence, or not guilty. MacPherson was remanded for sentence until Dec. 3.

UNIQUE SPORTS FEATURE MAKES DEBUT HERE TODAY

SUMMERSIDE — A distinctive new feature of The Guardian and Evening Patriot is making an appearance today on the Summerside and district pages.

"Next Week in Sports", as this special feature is called, will bring to citizens a complete guide to sport activity in this area, from minor sports, curling, bowling and various high school sports activities.

It will appear every week as a public service feature through the courtesy and co-operation of a number of the community's public-spirited sports-minded businessmen.

It will be a handy timetable of local sports events, and, clipped and saved, will provide a handy reference sheet to sports events taking place during the week.

Any sports group in Summerside or surrounding area may contribute to this feature by sending in their advertisements free of charge. With this public service possible by their advertisements free of charge, we encourage them to see elsewhere on this page.

Victor Howatt Named To Lead Flower Show

SUMMERSIDE — The regular annual meeting of the flower show committee was held recently at the town hall in Summerside.

Mr. Henry Moise advised the members that it was with regret that he had resigned his resignation as president of the flower show committee. He assured the meeting that he would continue to be an active member. Victor Howatt was elected to succeed him as president.

Following the reading of minutes, the treasurer's report, the following directors were appointed for the coming year: From the Abewell Chapter, JODIE the sponsors of the flower show; Mrs. W. E. Smallman, Miss Wanda Wyatt, Mrs. Arthur Allen and the treasurer of the JODIE, Mrs. Eric McKay.

From members at large: Victor Howatt, Owen Kelly, Harold Magee.

A business meeting followed, and the following points discussed: possibility of exhibits of flowers; revision of entry list; with particular regard to dahlias; new leaflets to be prepared; as there is a discrepancy in the number of entries for a particular trophy and the actual stipulation of the donor.

In order that this can be cleared up it was decided that a circular letter would be prepared.

SAYS VALUE EVIDENT

Mr. Pearson said the value of the proposal was evident now that the market price of wheat had dropped to $1.97 a bushel.

The best long term solution would be a support floor price rather than advance payments "made on a hit-and-miss basis according to political exigencies."

Mr. Pearson suggested Canada has over-extended its credit and has become more and more dependent on Red China.

The Liberal leader said the record of Mr. Hamilton's statements made at various times before the June 18 election that the government could sell all the wheat the farmers could produce; the exports this year would reach 375,000,000 bushels; and subsequently that the government could sell 600,000,000 bushels if the farmers had it.

Mr. Pearson challenged Mr. Hamilton to confirm these estimates.

TOURIST LOAN

In regard to the tourist industry, the premier said "during the next few years we intend to make loans available to farm people who desire to open their homes so that visitors to this province may enjoy some time on our farms."

The premier said "other people will be assisted to open the restaurants and overnight accommodations that must form part of this great expansion."

The premier added that the government is planning to establish more provincial parks.

Looking on to 1964, the centennial of Confederation, the premier said "it is perhaps the greatest singular honor we have ever had to bring our province to the attention of the very highest authorities for the centennial will be intensified and you will be given a chance to play some part in the historic event."

TO PROTECT HIGHWAY AT NORTH TRYON

Tunnelling under the Trans-Canada Highway just east of North Tryon, Kibarako Construction Ltd. of Montreal is nearing completion of a project intended to handle water from the upstream area.

This large tunnel is 10 feet in diameter, 140 feet in length, and is 38 feet beneath the road surface.

It will supplement three culverts that have proven inadequate to handle heavy runoff of water from the upstream area that includes the dam at Robertson's mill in North Tryon with the result that water has on occasions built up to a large-sized pond on the north side of this large "rip" area which carries the Trans-Canada Highway.

Tunnelling at the average rate of nine feet per day on two shifts, the project resembles a mining operation, with its own little narrow gauge steel tracks on which the conveyor loads of clay are hauled from the tunnel head to the outside area where it is dumped and leveled.

Using tubular liner plate in sections 10 by 40 inches, the metal tunnel is built as the removal of clay permits so that there is no serious danger to the men from a possible cave-in of clay, which is packed at least as hard as stone, and requires the use of air compressor equipment in the excavation work.

Grouting work, using cement forced through holes drilled in the corrugated metal tubing, is also being done to fill the spaces between the metal and the clay so that the road bed above will not be disturbed by later settling or movement of the 38 feet depth of clay above the tunnel.

The project is under the direction of three company officials on the site, J.K. Young, E.B. Bond, and Meredith Spidle, and employs nine men including five from the Tryon area. Lorne Inman, Ken Blanchard, Pope Conick, Wendell Muttart and Maurice MacDagall.

PROGRESS OF

EXTRAORDINARY PROGRAM

Stating that the government has embarked upon "one of the most extraordinary" programs ever developed in Canada, the premier said "we have rested a good part of this province's future upon the shoulders of men and women in the towns, villages and school districts. We will give technical help and guidance and to the best of our ability, see that financial assistance is given where necessary."

"In order to assist in the development of villages, towns and school districts and in the creation of new jobs and new opportunities, this government must, in the immediate future, spend $1,500,000. This amount, however, when matched by federal funds, will enable us to spend well over $2,500,000 in the next three years for economic and resources development."

"To those who say the issue of this election is the government's plan to spend $2,500,000 in the next three years for economic and resources development, I say to you that the expenditure of that kind of money in support of the efforts of local people calls for an opportunity for
