

In Memoriam

MR. ELMER ADAMS

"It is not the tear in this moment shed,
When the cold turf has just been laid
That can tell how beloved was a friend
That is dead,
Or how deep in our hearts we deplore him.
It is the tear through many a long day wept;
It is life's whole path o'er shaded;
It is the one remembrance fondly kept,
When all lighter griefs have faded."

The death of Mr. Elmer Adams, which sad event occurred on April 25th., in Prince County Hospital, calls to mind the beautiful and pathetic words of the poet. Death is at all times sad, but when it comes so suddenly, especially to one on the threshold of manhood, it is indeed overwhelming.

He was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Adams of Elmsdale and but twenty-five years of age.
Three years ago he married Miss Marjorie Doyle of Bloomfield, in Toronto, then returned to his native Elmsdale where he purchased a farm.

Besides his farm duties he successfully operated a truck, and by his sterling character, honesty and integrity won the respect and confidence of all with whom he had business relations. Possessed of a cheerful personality and a keen sense of humor, Elmer was a general favorite with the old as well as the young.
Although not enjoying the best of health for a brief period, he carried on his duties, until on the advice of his doctor he entered Hospital a week and a half prior to his death. Following treatment there, he underwent surgery, which failed to restore his health, despite expert medical skill and kind nursing. From that time he realized his condition was serious and his words and deeds could be summed up in the sentence, — "Not my will O Lord, but Thine be done."

The funeral service was held at the Elmsdale United Church, on April 28th., and was conducted by Rev. Alexander McDowell, assisted by Rev. Albert Lewis. Hymns sung were: "Jesus, Saviour Pilot Me," and "Safe In The Arms of Jesus." A duet — "Shall we meet beyond the river" was rendered by Messrs. Alvin Ashley and Russell Leard.

The large number of friends and relatives who came from far and near to attend, as well as the many and beautiful floral tributes and the large number of memorial Bibles placed in loving memory, all bear silent testimony of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

A dutiful son, a kind husband, an indulgent father, a loving brother, and a sincere friend was laid to rest by the following pallbearers: Messrs. Robert Campbell, Bruce Currie, Ralph Rennie, Orin Wallace, Everett Hudson and Gerald O'Brien.

The deceased is survived by his wife and son, Jackie, his parents, six sisters, — (Thelma) Mrs. Harry Wells; (Roberta) Mrs. Brendon Wallace; Blanche, Ruby, Gall, Lorraine; and four brothers, Ivan, Alvin, Eric, Walter.
