NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

LONDON, Nov. 19.

A despatch from Bucharest says it is scarcely probable that the Russian demands regarding Dobrudja, or even their rejection, will have any important consequences. They are probably a mere "blind" for other transactions. The Romanians are preparing to enter the Dobrudja on Wednesday.

Bucharest newspapers publish particulars of the Russian demands which, if correct, materially detract from their significance. They seem only to have asked increased facilities for intercommunication during the occupation of Bulgaria. Nevertheless, according to the Roumania Libera (newspaper), the Bucharest Government have already declined the Russian proposals, declaring that the existing facilities are all the Russians need according to the Treaty of Berlin and the Russo-Roumanian Convention.

Prince Don, Duke of Korsackoff, Governor of Bulgaria, has arrived at Odessa, on his way to Livadia, to report upon affairs in Turkey.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times thinks, in view of the fact of Korsackoff having expressed his opposition to the Treaty of Berlin, the appointment of another person as Governor of Bulgaria is probable.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 19.

The modifications made by the International Roumelian Convention in the Turkish project for the organization of reforms have been accepted by the Porte.

LONDON, Nov. 19.

The committee organized to urge an early meeting of Parliament in view of war with Afghanistan, having asked Lord Beaconsfield to grant them an interview, the Premier addressed a written letter to their chairman, Lord Lawrence. In reply, Lord Beaconsfield says he is at a loss to perceive what useful purposes can be served by a more extended expression through a deputation from the committee of opinions which Lord Lawrence and others have so frequently and copiously explained. In regard to assembling Parliament the Government will, as a matter of course, be prepared in the event of a commencement of hostilities in India, to advise Her Majesty to make such communication in Parliament as the letter and spirit of the act, regulating relations of the Crown with India, may seem to require. This would seem to be a not less satisfactory and scarcely less constitutional mode of meeting the occasion than a series of memorials and deputations. The papers relative to India will be published before the end of the month.

The Lord Lawrence committee to-day passed a resolution, regretting Lord Beaconsfield's refusal to receive the deputation, and emphatically condemning his apparent determination in the event of war being declared not to advise Her Majesty to consult Parliament until the hostilities have commenced. The committee adjourned till Friday, and decided in the meanwhile to collect signatures to the protest.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 19.

During the debate on Fourtin's election in the Chamber of Deputies there were some violent scenes which reached a frantic climax when the ex-member told the Left that if he had done his whole duty they, perhaps, would not be there. Fourtin declared he accepted the responsibility for all his acts.

GRANESEND, Nov. 19.

The bark Magnum, from Quebec for London, has arrived with ten of the shipwrecked sailors belonging to the British brig W. H. Tucker, from Bull River, Sept. 26th for Belfast, Ireland.

LONDON, Nov. 19.

The German Government silver to the value of £350,000 was brought here on Monday at 50½ per ounce, for transmission to India.

LONDON, Nov. 19.

The corps of veterans which suffered the loss of two men by the explosion of a bomb during the procession in Florence, at the celebration of King Humbert's escape from assassination, was similarly attacked while returning from a funeral procession in honor of King Victor Emmanuel.

The following is the Pope's congratulatory telegram to King Humbert:—

"Having heard of the deplorable attempt made against the life of your Majesty, I express to you my extreme concern, and, at the same time, my congratulations that you have escaped this grave danger. I pray to God for the preservation of your Majesty's health.

(Signed) "LEON."

LONDON, Nov. 19.

The annual value of silk ribbons exported by Switzerland to the United States has fallen off in the past five years from 20,000,000 francs to 5,000,000 francs.

MAURITIUS, Nov. 19.

American ship Messenger from New York for Hiogo, arrived here. She is leaking and has her bulwarks damaged and cargo. Jettisoned 3,000 cases of petroleum. She will discharge for repairs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.

The Italians of this city are signing an address to their King congratulating him on his escape.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.

Brig Ella B., McLean, from Liverpool,

Sept. 28th for Charlottetown, P. E. I., in ballast, capsized about 11th October in a hurricane, Long. 26 W. The crew, eight in all, took to the boats where they remained without provisions or water over three days, and were picked up by the bark Victor, bound from Gloucester, Eng., for Philadelphia. The crew saved nothing but the clothing they had on.

The Central News says an important despatch from India states that Shere Ali's reply to the Viceroy's ultimatum was received yesterday at the India Office in London. The Indian Council was immediately summoned, and the result of the conference is to be laid before the Cabinet this afternoon.

The Standard announces that no reply to the British ultimatum has been received from the Ameer of Afghanistan, and orders have accordingly been sent to India for the troops to advance.

ITALY, Nov. 20.

Romezzo Passanente, the would-be assassin of King Humbert, manifested perfect unconcern and brutish self-assurance while undergoing his preliminary examination. It was evident that he had calmly mediated the act and fully made up his mind to suffer the consequences. At one point in the examination, when the magistrate expressed his horror at the prisoner's deed, the latter said: "It seems to me you are getting too excited." On being asked if he had not observed that the people would have torn him to pieces but for the police, he replied: "People are fools, they always act that way." To a question as to whether he had intended to kill the King or merely to wound him, he answered, "my intention was to finish him." He said he was neither an Internationalist nor a Socialist; that he did not know the meaning of those words, but he failed to give a satisfactory account for an International work found in his possession.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.

The Prussian budget shows a surplus last year of 54,000,000 marks, which, however, has been absorbed in Prussia's contribution to the Imperial expenditure. The estimated deficit is 73,750,000 marks.

The widow of Prince Adalbert of Prussia, formerly Theresa Elser, is dead.

LONDON, Nov. 20.

The Pall Mall Gazette's Berlin special says the proposal to cancel the agreement with the Crown of Hanover, and to abolish the Guelph fund, has been overruled by Prince Bismarck, who has asked a delay to give the Duke of Cumberland time to reconsider his determination.

GLASGOW, Nov. 20.

The Clyde shipbuilders, at their meeting just held, have decided that unless the men who now are on a strike resume work forthwith, they will lock out all the ironworkers employed by them in the different shipbuilding yards. This will affect thousands of workmen, many of whom of late have only been gaining a precarious livelihood. Workmen at large stigmatize this step on the part of their employers as nothing more nor less than tyranny, which may yet lead to violence.

The Marquis and Princess at Sea.

A cable despatch to the New York Herald dated Londonderry, 15th inst., says:—"The 'Sarmatian,' captain Aird, carrying the Marquis and Marchioness of Lorne and their suite, arrived at Moville, at half-past four this morning. The Governor-General and the Princess, after waving a last adieu to Princes Arthur and Leopold as the steamer passed rapidly out of the Mersey into the Irish Sea, promenading the 'Sarmatian's' dock for some time, conversing pleasantly.

The Princess Louise then retired to her boudoir, where she rested until dinner. She did not appear on deck after dinner and went to bed early. The Marquis, more accustomed to the sea, spent the afternoon on deck talking with the captain and the other officers. The members of the suite retired soon after dinner, and none appeared at tea. The entire party passed a comfortable night. The Marquis was slightly seasick in the evening, but expressed himself as perfectly recovered this morning. Especially was he profuse in his praise of the swinging berths. The wind was quite high during the night, but the sky was clear and the Sarmatian made good progress. She came to anchor off Moville before daylight.

"The Marquis and Marchioness rose early this morning, and enjoyed the luxury of salt water baths. Breakfast was served at half-past nine, and the Marquis and Marchioness were said to have entirely recovered their spirits. The morning was spent in writing letters to friends in England and Scotland. At two o'clock this afternoon a deputation from Londonderry, consisting of the Mayor and officers of the Corporation, waited upon the Governor-General and his wife and presented an address, expressing the good wishes to the people of Ireland for their safe voyage. Lord Lorne, replying, acknowledged the value of Irish immigration to Canada.

The Princess expresses the greatest satisfaction with the ship and the arrangements made for the comfort of the party. Especially was she interested in the life-preserving pillows. The wind is still from the north, with frequent heavy squalls. Indeed, the weather is so heavy that, for the comfort of his passengers, Captain Aird has decided not to sail until the gale moderates. The Sarmatian sailed at 11.20 on Friday night for Halifax."
