RUNAWAY.—Mr. A. S. Hewitt's horse ran away with him yesterday afternoon while out driving on the Park Roadway, fortunately doing no injury to either Mr. Hewitt or Miss Coady who were in the carriage at the time. ROBBERY AT ROCKY POINT.—McKinnon's store at Rocky Point near the wharf was yesterday afternoon broken into and all the money in the till stolen by thieves who broke in through the back of the shop. Mr. McKinnon was away at the time. Complaint is made of the annoyance caused on several occasions by roughs who, the residents of Rocky Point say, come over from town and insult people they meet on the road.

PICNIC YESTERDAY.—The Salvation Army and Orange Young Britons enjoyed a very pleasant private picnic at the camp grounds, Rocky Point, yesterday afternoon. Piper Ferguson enlivened the occasion with sweet strains of music on the bagpipes which was very greatly enjoyed. Miss Cullum, of Toronto, and quite a number of summer tourists were present and all expressed themselves delighted with the day's outing. The weather was perfect.

CALEDONIAN CLUB.—The Scottish Gathering takes place on Wednesday, the 22nd, at Souris Driving Park. The Caledonian Club is the pioneer of athletic sports—the national games—in this province, and the deep interest taken in the games every year shows clearly that they are highly appreciated by the sons of old Scotia and the general public. We therefore bespeak for all those who will attend the Gathering a day of rare enjoyment. In addition to the excellent programme of games, dancing booths have been built for those who wish to trip the "light fantastic," and Muttart's Steam Riding Gallery will be on the grounds, so that the lads and lassies may also amuse themselves by having a race on the ponies. Don't fail to take it in.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

Rev. Mother St. Peter, of Notre Dame Convent Removes to Sydney Mines, C. B.

Reverend Mother St. Peter, of the Notre Dame Convent, left Charlottetown this morning for Sydney Mines, C. B., where she assumes the position of Superior of the convent recently established in that town. Yesterday evening she was waited upon by the ladies of the Children of Mary, the Holy Family and St. Vincent de Paul Sewing Circle Societies, who presented the Reverend Mother with a suitable address accompanied by a purse of money as a small token of the high esteem in which she was held by those who had the privilege of her acquaintance while in this city. Mother St. Peter thanked all present for the kind words tendered her in the address and expressed the cherished hope that all would continue in the good works which had been so successfully carried on during her stay at Charlottetown. All present were greatly impressed by the truly Christian counsel and advice given them by the good mother.

For twelve years Mother St. Peter has been the Superior of Notre Dame Convent, during which time she labored incessantly for the welfare of all who had the privilege of being educated in that excellent institution of learning. In her own Christian way she helped to form the character of a very large number of the youth of Charlottetown, the true value of which will be the more appreciated as time rolls on. She labored for them not only during the school period of life, but also was ever ready and willing to assist them in their more mature years; as is evidenced by the good work performed by the ladies' Societies under her direction, particularly those of the Children of Mary, the Holy Family and the St. Vincent de Paul Sewing Circle.

Mother St. Peter has invariably proved herself to be not only a lady of the most refined culture and literary accomplishments, but also a Superior of excellent executive and administrative ability. During the time she presided over Notre Dame Convent, notwithstanding that the support of such a large institution depended on the precarious support of voluntary assistance, she nevertheless managed to have the school not only sustain its former efficiency, but gave to it an impetus that will last for many years to come. There is no school in the city so thoroughly equipped for an up-to-date education as is the Convent of Notre Dame, and it is to Mother St. Peter that much of this desirable result is due.

She was ever the true friend of the poor and needy, and many are they who found consolation in her kind words of encouragement during the hour of trial. While we regret her departure from our midst, we congratulate the Convent at Sydney Mines on having as its head such a cultured, pious and capable Superior as the Reverend Mother St. Peter.
