Anglican Y.P.U. Conference Puts Stress On Evangelism

The eleventh annual Labor Day conference of the Anglican Young People of Prince Edward Island was held at Crapaud Youth Centre Sept. 1-2-3. There was a record attendance with over seventy people registered. Representatives came from Halifax, Lunenburg, Bridgewater and Dartmouth, N. S. and from almost every parish on the island. This is the first time fellow members from our sister provinces have attended the Labor Day Conference. Following the registration which was under the direction of Mrs. George Scantlebury, Deane Secretary, games and sports were enjoyed by all until 5:30 p.m. when the Conference chairman, Clayton Mill, and Deane President, Allison Gill spoke words of welcome to all.

A.Y.P.A. members attended the 11th annual Labor Day Weekend Conference at Camp Kingston, Crapaud. Seated in the 3rd row, l to r, are the officers and guest speakers as follows: Clayton Mill, Conference chairman; Lloyd Profit, past president; Carrie Thompson, members of the Anglican Church, Mrs. Spencer and her son Michael, with the help of various church organizations send 10,000 copies quarterly, of the B.R.F. in Canada.

On a world wide basis, 377,000 copies of the B. R. F. are published in 37 different languages. These are used by the armed forces, hospitals, institutions as well as individuals. In the Royal Family Prince Charles and Princess Anne are using this literature. The Queen Mother of England and the Governor General of Canada are Patrons.

PRESENTATION Following this talk a presentation was made on behalf of the members to James Ibbott, who is leaving shortly for Trinity College, Toronto to study for the Christian Ministry. The gift was presented by June Scantlebury and Allison Gill expressed the regret felt by all at the loss of such a devoted member.

EVERSONG was held in the church with young people participating. Lessons were read by Milton Dorey and Roddy Ives. Roger Gardham led the prayers and Arthur MacLean gave the sermon. Following a fellowship lunch, love was served and the evening closed with family prayers led by the Chaplain. Mondays' program opened with prayers in the church led by the Chaplain and Mrs. Eric Lowther of Crapaud, as organist. This was followed by the Fourth session to all.

Rev. G. R. Ebsary, Chaplain introduced the theme, "Youth Evangelism" and expressed the hope that everyone would take full advantage of the opportunities of learning new ways of spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

With supper over, the members spent a busy evening playing cards and dancing. The evening came to a close with Family Prayer led by the Chaplain. This was a time when one forgot the excitement of the day and concentrated on meditation with fellow members.

EVANGELISM Sunday morning opened by all receiving Holy Communion with Rev. Fr. Neville, S.S.F. officiating and Rev. G. R. Ebsary assisting. The offering from this service went for Bible Reading Fellowship extension. Communion breakfast was followed by the first session "What is Evangelism?" with Rev. Father Neville S. S. F. as our guest speaker. Father Neville told of his experience in Foreign land and of their idea of worship. His meaning of Evangelism is to have a set plan for Bible reading and meditations, daily, regardless of other duties. In this way one will learn more about Jesus Christ and be able to spread the good news. "As we are a part of Christ, so he is a part of us."

The 11 o'clock service with Rev. G. R. Ebsary, included the installation of Deane Officers. These were installed were Allison Gill president; June Scantlebury, Secretary; and Doreen Dennis - Treasurer. Assisting the Chaplain was James Ibbott. Lessons were read by Messes Gerdie Hill and Beverley Mahr of Halifax, N. S.

After dining, the President told members of the highlights of the previous Diocesan Conference in Thomson explained about the A.Y.P.A. literature on display and Misses Grace Hiscock of St. John's Nfld and Elizabeth Sutherland of Hamilton, Ont., told of their work and experience in travelling with the Sunday School Van in the Maritime provinces.

The second session "Evangelism, Whom?" was with the Chaplain. He explained how, when and where one could spread Evangelism. As this is the year set aside especially for Youth and Evangelism, we should be eager to follow the way of the twelve disciples and tell of our love for Jesus Christ.

THE PARISH The third session was with Archdeacon Harrison, who used as his theme "What is the Parish Doing?" "We should spend more time on religion. Set aside other unimportant things and devote more time to studying the Bible. We can't have Christ without his church. Christianity today is a watering down. Loyalty and faithfulness to the church, demand sacrifice. Did not Christ give up his life, so that we might live? Let us, live up to the A. Y. motto - For Christ and His Church."

WE AND OUR NEIGHBORS

SCHOOL BELLS RING Lucky is the school district where there is no teacher shortage and school bells are ringing. All over Canada and the United States and probably Europe too, trained teachers are fewer and the school populations larger and there is no solution in sight. It seems this fall will blow long enough to give everyone a chance to evaluate and appreciate a good teacher!

AN ACHIEVEMENT I was delighted to hear from Mrs. Clark, a rural school teacher. I've been wanting a sand-table for ages," she wrote, "and this year I'm really getting one. A carpenter moved into the neighborhood and offered to make one but I asked him to show my three eldest and slowest boys how to do it. He agreed, saying he knew what it was like to be slow at book learning. "And you can hardly imagine what a change this has made in the boys," she continued. "They used to be just plain sulks—especially the first week when there are so many clerical things for a teacher to do and books and materials to organize. Well, it's been amusing and pathetic to see how hard those boys have tried to do the responsible members of the class the first time they have felt really necessary. And important. I'm appointing them Guardians of the Sand-table and giving them badges to wear. And I'll help them print cards like, 'Take care of this sand-table. We know you will help them to learn to read a little and spell a few words.' "Aside from that," continued the teacher, "sand-tables are a great help. For one thing, small children can build things on it, and even do their sums and spell out words. It seems shame to have them sit at their desks too long. And it's a real aid in teaching geography and history to the older pupils. Land forms, water forms, countries and continents are more real, molded on sand, than on the printed page. It's fun for the children to trace early explorations, and to show early settlements that way. I'm looking forward to using that sand-table a lot."

Another teacher hit on a device that is very helpful about the same time. She is encouraging the slow-learning upper grade pupils to make booklets for the slow-learners in the lower grades. These booklets center around the particular interest of the child. Johnny, for instance is simply wild about dogs. There will be pictures about dogs and simple stories printed by the older pupils. In the same way, pictures and stories about dolls, planes, houses, cars, horses, will be put together. "Maybe this won't work as well as I believe," wrote the teacher, "but I can see a stir of life, even now, in pupils who have just been marking time in school."

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood announced an agreement Wednesday by which Newfoundland's two big newspaper companies will cooperate to supply birch logs to Newfoundland Hardwoods Ltd., a government-established industry near St. John's.

From the first moment since the birch plant was constructed and began to operate it has experienced the greatest possible difficulty in acquiring birch logs," Mr. Smallwood said. The company's first hired contractors to cut logs, later it tried logging camps of its own. Both methods were expensive, he said, "at no time have there ever been enough birch logs brought to the plant." The company concentrates on plywood flooring and doors.

Mr. Smallwood said the agreement with Bowaters of Corner Brook and the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company of Grand Falls would "enable the birch plant to get large supplies of birch logs at reasonable cost." He said to be economical "birch logging must be carried on side-by-side with softwood logging."

The arrangement will mean a supply of 10,000,000 feet of birch wood for the plant, Mr. Smallwood said.

But today carnival people travel in their own automobiles, towing luxurious house trailers behind them. "Look at these trailers," he said, waving his hand toward a colony of homes on wheels parked behind the show tents. "This is luxury living."

Listening to Doc bark on his stand a few minutes later, there was one thing you could be sure of—he'd always work "live." No new-fangled tape recorders for Doc.

29 Chinese Pilots Volunteer For Suez HONG KONG (CP) — Twenty-nine Chinese pilots in Shanghai have volunteered to work for the national Suez Canal Company in response to Egypt's call for pilots, the Communist New China news agency reported Wednesday.

Advertisements to recruit pilots to work for the new Egyptian company were carried by newspapers in various parts of Communist China last weekend.

Carnival Spelling Is Being Supplemented By Automation

OTTAWA (CP)—Automation is hitting even the carnival sideshow barker. William C. (Doc) Crosby, veteran of 40 years in carnival work, has no use for the mechanical aids. "It's not like the old days," the grizzled, raspy-voiced talker told a reporter during a weeklong stay. "We had to work to learn, really mean work—up to 16 hours a day, week in and week out, for six months of the year. That was tough on anybody's voice."

But now, when some of these youngsters get tired, they just turn on a tape recording and let it do the spelling for them. This is the age of mechanical show-business and it is a sorry day for the color and atmosphere of the carnival.

Doc, who now fronts the freak show at the carnival, acquired the nickname in earlier years while doing the barking for a travelling medicine show.

TRAVEL IN COMFORT He has seen radical changes even in the way carnival workers travel since he started his career. "If you were with a top-rate show you went from location to location in a railway coach that passed for a pullman," he recalled. "Your upper or lower if you were so lucky) was your home. Everything you had was in a suitcase jammed under the berth."

"Sometimes you had to go with out sleep for two days to make sure you opened at the next town on time. In those days the carnival train was fourth-class transportation and we were sidelined to let all the freight and passenger trains through."

That's a promise!

Full Of Plans? I think most of us head into Autumn again with lots of good resolutions! One of these could be to give your family the delicious benefits of LIPTON SOUPS—either as soup, or in casseroles, and meat loaves. For instance: Salmon-Noodle Casserole.

1 lb. can salmon 1 cup "California Dip" 1 cup cream Heat oven to 375 deg. Cook noodles as directed on pkg. Drain. Mix with California Dip and cream. Combine cooked noodles and chunk-size pieces of salmon. Mix with California Dip. Mix 1 pt. sour cream and 1/2 pt. Lipton's Instant Soup as it comes from pkg. For 1 cup mix use 1/2 pt. sour cream, and 3 tpsps. (1/2 pkg.) Onion Soup Mix.

Talk Of Magic Poisons! Nothing I've known has ever done as much for my dry skin as quickly, as the wonder-working Lanolin Plus. You'll find that because it's made from Nature's own kind of lubricants your skin accepts it gratefully and responds immediately. LANOLIN PLUS NATURAL FEEDING DIET. Mickey has a record of his new words kept, as he learns them, on a card index. Can anyone beat this record? Lucky Babies... whose mothers keep them well and happy with the proven formula milk—FARMER'S WIFE. You can choose a type of Farmer's Wife which is exactly right for the particular needs of your baby. Ask your doctor if you should use Whole Milk (Red Label), Skimmed Milk (Yellow Label), or Sterilized Milk (Blue Label), created at the request of pediatricians, for the high-protein, low-fat formula—the Parity Skimmed Milk (Blue Label). One of these Vitamin D increased formula milks is the one on which your baby will thrive. So do check into my suggestion!

Have You Forgotten Your Holidays? Seems a silly question this time of year, doesn't it? But I don't mean the holidays you've just had... I'm speaking about the holidays ahead of you next year. It's a sad fact that too many people do forget holidays until it's too late to do anything about them—financially. And it's no secret that good holidays—the sort you mind and body need—normally require a period of sensible saving to make them possible. Suppose you plan to rent a cottage or go to the seaside next year. Then plan also to put a regular amount each pay-day in a Sunshine Savings Account at your local BANK OF MONTREAL. Make it a new account, set aside from any other, where withdrawals are absolutely forbidden! The sooner you act this year—the more you'll enjoy yourself next year!
