THE steamer Miramichi, Capt. Baquet, arrived from Montreal at half-past five o'clock yesterday afternoon, with a general cargo and five passengers. She sailed on return at midnight with a general cargo. STEAM LAUNDRY.—We understand Messrs. Mark Wright & Co. expect shortly a complete outfit of American Laundry Machinery, and intend to have a first class steam laundry in operation here in a few weeks. THE Moncton Times says that Messrs. Meikle and Gurtior, the evangelists, purpose visiting P. E. Island this summer. They will probably arrive at Georgetown next month with their large tent and work west. The parents of the pupils and friends of the institution are invited to attend and assist at the distribution of prizes which takes place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. JOSEPH McLEAN, of Grand River East, was on Sunday last ordained Priest by His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, at the Basilica, Quebec. Rev. Father McLean, accompanied by Messrs. P. A. McElliott and J. McMillan, two theological students of the Grand Seminary, Quebec, arrived here on Thursday evening. THE body of Frank Coyle, one of the victims of the drowning accident at the Harbor's Mouth, was discovered floating in the water near the lobster factory at Governor's Island this morning. The body is badly mutilated, and is only recognizable by the clothing. The remains will be brought to town and interred this afternoon. THE countryman who gave the policemen such a hard run a few weeks ago is again on the rampage. This morning about half-past four he was amusing himself frightening the residents of the northern end of the city by running about, shouting and making himself obnoxious generally. The police are again on the lookout for him. A HANDSOME cleopatra chair was on exhibition to-day in the window of Mr. J. Newson, South Side Queen Square. The body is of walnut; is nicely carved, and together with the upholstery, which is in first-class style—was done in Mr. Newson's establishment. The centre piece—which is the work of Miss Eliza O'Halloran, a pupil of the Convent de Notre Dame—is of garnet velvet, and is beautifully worked in velvet, with roses, pansies, etc. Both sides are of old gold plush, and are nicely ornamented with gold braidings, etc. The Cleopatra, is a beautiful specimen of what skill and taste can accomplish. A LARGE number of militia men and others interested attended the meeting in the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court Room last evening for the purpose of organizing a rifle club. Capt. Moore was appointed chairman, and Lieut. J. A. Longworth, Secretary. After some discussion upon the subject a club was formed with the following officers:— President—R. R. Fitzgerald. Vice-Presidents—F. L. Haszard and W. A. O. Morson. Secretary—Sidney Grey. Council—Ewen McDougall, C. R. Smallwood, Lemuel Hooper, Jos. Unsworth, J. A. Longworth. A MAN who gives his name as Daniel Fraser, and says he belongs to Millvale, entered St. Dunstan's Cathedral about half-past one o'clock this morning and proceeded to ring the bell. He was immediately arrested and this forenoon arraigned before acting Stipendiary Magistrate Peters. Fraser said that some time during the night he entered the Cathedral, having no other place to go to, and that shortly afterwards he became unconscious and does not remember what took place. He is a pale, sickly looking young man about twenty-six years of age, and is apparently insane. After his arrest he was placed in a cell with two drunks—both powerful young fellows. He immediately set upon them and gave each a pair of elegant black eyes. The Stipendiary remanded him for eight days to make enquiry into his past conduct. Five drunks—two sailors and three local talent—were disposed of in sums ranging from $1 to $3. We regret to learn that Mrs. McAulay—wife of Mr. Joseph McAulay, of Tracadie—committed suicide by hanging some time last night or early this morning. The facts of the case, so far as we can learn, are about as follows: This morning, shortly after daylight, Mr. McAulay awoke and proceeded to arrange his wife in a bed that she might prepare breakfast. He could not make her hear him, and becoming alarmed, started out to hunt for her. On entering the kitchen he was horrified to see her lifeless body suspended from a beam in the ceiling, and with a handkerchief tied over her eyes. He immediately alarmed the neighbors, and the body was cut down. Mrs. McAulay had been melancholy for the past eighteen months, and was for a time an inmate of Falkenwood Asylum. Insanity is supposed to have been the cause of her sad death. She was about forty years of age, and leaves a family of four children—two boys and two girls. Coroner McLeod left for Tracadie this afternoon to hold an inquest on the body. The inquest will be held on Monday.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER] The Bait Question. OTTAWA, June 19. The Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries denies that new instructions have been sent to the fisheries protection vessels in regard to allowing American vessels the right to purchase bait, but says that customs officials have been directed to be very cautious about seizing vessels for infringement of the fisheries laws as it was never intended that petty revenue officials should have power to seize vessels. The government are considering a proposition to prohibit the exportation of fish bait from Canadian ports, as it is alleged that large quantities of bait are being shipped from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to United States ports for use in their fishing vessels, and also that American vessels purchase bait at sea from boats outside the three mile limit. An embargo upon the exportation of bait is the only remedy for this. It is not yet known whether the Imperial Government will sanction or disallow the Act, lately passed by the Dominion Parliament, making the purchase of bait in Canadian ports an offence for which foreign vessels can be forfeited. Opening the Campaign—Gladstone Speaks. EDINBURGH, June 19. Gladstone opened the campaign with a great speech last night. He said that this was the people's battle and the people had resolved to win notwithstanding the defection of some prominent Liberals. He was seeking to dissolve a union on paper and to replace it with a union heart and hand, of two kindred people. Gladstone further said that he was going to narrow the contest down to a fine point from which his opponents could not escape, viz.: the principle of allowing an Irish Legislature to manage purely Irish affairs. He was not wedded to the details of his plan and would accept any better one than his own. The country had simply to choose between a policy of coercion and a policy of justice. Salisbury's Definition. LEEDS, June 19. Salisbury addressed an immense meeting here last night, and described Home Rule as "a shadow, immaterial and unsubstantial cause," and Gladstone's bill as "dead and abandoned by its parents." Rejecting a Candidate. LONDON, June 19. The Liberal Association of Aylesbury has rejected the candidature of Baron Rothschild, because he voted against Gladstone. A Quebec Sensation. QUEBEC, June 19. A great sensation is caused here because the City Council of Three Rivers refused to vote an address of congratulation to Cardinal Taschereau. Weather Bulletin. Probabilities for the next 24 hours for the Maritime Provinces. TORONTO, June 19—10 a. m. Moderate to fresh west and north winds, fine, slightly cooler weather.
