SALLY DOWS.

An After-War Romance OF THE SOUTH.

BY BRET HARTE.

COPYRIGHT, 1892, BY THE AUTHOR.

Maj. Reed's house was but a few minutes walk down the dusty lane, and was presently heralded by the baying of three or four fox hounds, and foreshadowed by a dilapidated condition of picket fence and stuccoed gate front. Beyond it stretched the wooden doric columns of the usual southern mansion, dimly seen through the broad leaves of the horse chestnut trees that shaded it. There was the usual listless, black shadows haunting the veranda and outer offices—former slaves and still attached house servants—arrested like lizards in breathless attitudes at the approach of strange footsteps, and still holding the brush, broom, duster or home implements they had been lazily using, in their fixed hands. From the doorway of the detached kitchen connected by a gallery to the wing of the mansion, "Aunt Martha," the cook, gazed also with a saucepan clasped to her bosom and her revolving hand with the scrubbing cloth in it apparently stopped on a "dead center."

THE USUAL SOUTHERN MANSION.

Drummond, whose gorge had risen at these evidences of hopeless incapacity and utter shiftlessness, was not relieved by the presence of Mrs. Reed—a soured, disappointed woman of forty, who still carried in her small dark eyes and thin handsome lips something of the bitterness and antagonism of the typical southern rights woman—nor of her two daughters, Octavia and Augusta—whose languid atrabiliousness seemed a part of the mourning they still wore. The optimistic gallantry and good fellowship of the major appeared the more remarkable by contrast with his cypress-shadowed family, and their venomous possibilities. Perhaps there might have been a vein of southern insincerity in his good humor.

"Paw," said Miss Octavia with gloomy confidence to Courtland but with a pretty curl of the hereditary lip, "is about the only 'reconstructed' one of the entire family. We don't make 'em much about yer. But I'd advise yo' friend, Mr. Drummond—if he's coming here carpet bagging, not to trust too much to paw's 'reconstruction.' It won't wash." But when Courtland hastened to assure her that Drummond was not a "carpet bagger,"—was not only free from any of the political intrigue implied under that baleful title, but was a wealthy northern capitalist simply seeking investment, the young lady was scarcely more hopeful. "I suppose he reckons to pay paw for those niggers yo' stole?" she suggested, with gloomy sarcasm.

THE COOK GAZED ALSO.

"No," said Courtland, smiling, "but what if he reckoned to pay those niggers for working for your father and him?"

"If paw is going into the trading business with him—if Maj. Reed, a so'th'n gentleman, is going to keep shop he hain't such a fool as to believe niggers will work when they ain't obliged to. That's been tried over at Mirandy Dows, not five miles from here, and the niggers are half the time runnin' round here takin' holiday. She put up new quarters for 'em and tried to make 'em eat together at a long table like those low-down folks up north, and did away with their cabins and their melon patches, and allowed it would get 'em out of lying round too much and wanted 'em to work over time and get mo' pay. And the result was that she and her niece and a lot of poor whites, Irish and Scotch, that she had to pick up long the river, do all the work. And her niece Sally was mo' than half union woman during the wah and up to all no'then tricks and dodges and swearin' by them, and yet for all that the thing won't work."

THERE WERE THE USUAL LISTLESS BLACK SHADOWS.

"But isn't that partly the reason? Isn't her failure a great deal due to this lack of sympathy from her neighbors? Discontent is easily sown and the negro is still weighted down by superstition. The Fifteenth amendment did not quite knock off all his chains."

"Yes, but that is nothing to her. For if there ever was a person in this world who reckoned she was just born to manage everything and everybody it is Sally Dows!"

"Sally Dows!" repeated Courtland, with a slight start.

"Yes, Sally Dows, of Pineville."

"You say she was half union, but did she have any relations or—or—friends in the war—on your side? Any who—were killed in battle?"

"They were all killed, I reckon," returned Miss Reed, darkly. "There was her cousin, Jules Jeffcourt, shot in the cemetery with her beau—who they say was Sally's, too; there was Chet Brooks and Joyce Masterton, who were both gone on her, and both killed, too; and there was old Capt. Dows himself, who never lifted his head again after Richmond was taken and drank himself to death. It wasn't considered healthy to be Miss Sally's relation in those times, or to be even wantin' to be one."

"Oh, for the age of chivalry!" sighed Chappie. "Why so?" queried Hickley. "The knights used to wear tin trousers, and they never bagged at the knees."

PAY YOUR BILLS.—You will be better able to do it, if instead of allowing your system to run down to the breaking point, you take a timely course of Hawker's Liver Pills and Tonic. And then the Doctor's bill will not be on the list of those to be paid.

"Wife," said a hen pecked husband, "go to bed."

"I wont!"

"Sit up, then. I will be obeyed somehow."

DR. J. WIER, Dorchester, says: "Have prescribed Puttner's Emulsion with good results in pulmonary, scrofulous and wasting diseases. Especially applicable to children being so easily taken."

"I'm afraid Bridget won't work here much longer." "Why?" he enquired in dismay. "She's getting too stout for my clothes."

IN reply to oft repeated questions, it may be well to state, Scott's Emulsion acts as a food as well as a medicine, building up the wasted tissues and restoring perfect health after wasting fever.

It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ar

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

The Telephone Company —OF— P. E. ISLAND.

PARTIES using the Telephones would find talking much more satisfactory if they would observe the following rules:—

1st. Speak with the mouth about four inches from the transmitter.

2nd. Speak in a moderate tone of voice, not too loud and distinctly.

3rd. Place the telephone so as to cover the ear, just as if you wished to shut out all other sounds. Do not press too hard on the ear.

It is possible to talk and be heard when standing back two or three feet from the transmitter, if you shout loud enough, but it is not a pleasant mode of conversation, is entirely unnecessary, and is a useless waste of wind and lungs, besides being very annoying to all within range of your voice.

MRS. EMMA BOW, Waterville, Maine.

Physicians and so-called Dyspepsia Cures failed to give any benefit.

Croder's Botanic Dyspepsia Syrup

Brought relief and a permanent cure.

To the Dyspepsia Cure Co.

GENTLEMEN:—For four years, I have had a complicated stomach and liver trouble. THE blood would rush to my head causing palpitation of the heart so badly that I fainted many times. After I had tried the best physicians, and two of the leading sarsaparillas, without receiving any lasting benefit, I was recommended KIND to try your Dyspepsia Syrup. One bottle did me so much good that I determined to buy six, under your guarantee to cure me or refund my five dollars. But FOUR bottles accomplished a complete cure and I am again in perfect THAT health; FREE FROM CONSTIPATION; NO RUSH OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD; NO PALPITATION OF THE HEART AND A RAVENOUS APPETITE. I sleep nicely and am growing fleshier than I would like it. Your medicine is SAFE and PALATABLE, far more pleasant than any of the many CURES remedies I have tried, AND IT CURES. I will gladly answer any inquiry concerning this statement. Yours respectfully,

MRS. EMMA BOW.
