Brief Flurry In Gold Stocks

TORONTO, Oct. 1. (CP) — A brief early gold flurry today on the Toronto Stock Exchange faded slowly as the session progressed.

Sparked by reports that the International Monetary Fund's restrictions on the sale of gold were lifted, market speculators and investors bought producing mine stocks heavily in opening trading. Demand eased after the first hour and the exchange's index of 20 selected issues — a barometer of market trends — declined.

Senior producers such as McIntyre-Procupine, Malartic, Dome, Giant Yellowknife and Wright-Hargreaves benefited most. Gains ranged from 10 cents to more than $1. Junior producers showed $3 gains in 39 issues traded. Advances extended from a few cents to about 20 cents.

Husband Missing After Wife Injured

ACTON VALE, Que., Oct. 1. (CP) — Some 200 policemen and volunteers failed to find any trace of Olivia Loranger, 37, after combing the woods near here for two days.

Norbert Labbe, Provincial Police inspector-general, said no trace was found of Loranger, who is wanted for questioning in connection with a hammer attack on his wife. The 36-year-old housewife was found on the kitchen floor of the Loranger farmhouse three weeks ago, her head battered by a hammer. Hospital authorities in Montreal said the victim lapsed into unconsciousness five days ago and is not expected to live.

New Styles In Women's Shoes Seen In London

LONDON, Oct. 1. (Reuters) — Women will turn up their toes this winter if they follow latest foot fashions.

Designs shown at a fashion-in-footwear exhibition today favored up-pointed toes and higher heels with tiny bases, hardly larger than a finger nail.

Materials ranged from nylon net, lace, grosgrain and worsted to the latest waterproof street velvet, in addition to more conventional calf and suede.

One of the most striking styles was a half-shoe in black suede lined with gold kid and fringed over the instep leaving the heel bare.

Reveal a character's character, Lady Shawcross, wife of Trade Minister Sir Hartley Shawcross said at the opening of the exhibition today.

"That tidy, clean shoes are the mark of neat, tidy and clean people. Subbed top-caps, heels worn down—these are the marks of the drab unhappy people who take no pride in the contribution which they can make to the more pleasant things in life," Lady Shawcross said.

"And to the women who think life worth living, smart shoes are like smart hats—they give her a feeling that after all, all is right with the world; and I hope they help the mere man to feel the same."

Convinced Disappearance Was Suicide

TORONTO, Oct. 1. (CP) — The Telegram says today in a newspaper story that the mysterious disappearance three years ago in Nova Scotia of an elderly Ontario-born couple has all but been solved by the finding of the decomposed body of a woman.

The story says that after nearly three years of investigation and the identification of a body found in the Stewiacke River near Halifax a few weeks ago as that of Mrs. William Brown, Royal Canadian Mounted Police are convinced that Mr. and Mrs. Brown, former residents of the Toronto area, were victims of a suicide pact. Mr. Brown is still missing.

The couple, both in their early 70s, were born in Auburn and after residing in the Toronto area for some years, moved to Nova Scotia where Mr. Brown was employed as a salesman throughout the Maritimes.

On Dec. 18, 1948, the Browns' automobile was found near a bridge on the outskirts of Stewiacke. Three weeks later the R. C. M. P. was called in.

A son, William C. Brown, of Toronto, long discounted the suicide theory, even though he received a parcel containing a watch presented to his father before he was to have had the watch in the event of his father's death. There was no explanatory note in the parcel.

The woman's body was found 11 miles from the deserted car.

U.S. Millions To Build Up German Industries

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 1. (AP) — United States millions are now being spent to build up German industries which were hit hardest by Allied dismantling after the war.

U. S. taxpayers are being charged indirectly for still other millions to erase the effects of dismantling.

Nearly 700 plants or sections of plants have been ripped out of West Germany by Britain, France and the U. S. since 1945. Some were shipped to Western nations which suffered from Nazi occupation, while others went to the Soviet bloc.

They included key installations whose loss caused bottlenecks in Germany's production. These bottlenecks slow industrial recovery and hinder mobilization of German industry in the Western defence effort.

Demands for certain chemicals far exceed available supplies. Stocks of aluminum are falling.

So a good share of U. S. economic aid in Germany today is to reverse the Allies' occupation objectives, at the time of the Potsdam Conference six years ago.

Some of the very plants torn down under the dismantling program are being restored with U. S. funds.

Meanwhile, the Germans use hard-earned foreign currencies to buy material elsewhere that they once produced themselves in factories wiped out in the occupation era. The deficit between what the Germans must buy abroad and what they can sell is in large measure a cost to the U. S. treasury.

American officials say 92,000,000 marks ($20,000,000) of E. C. A. funds were poured last year into the Ruhr steel industry, a major target of Allied dismantling. And 75,000,000 marks go into steel projects this year.

E. C. A. put up 15,000,000 marks for big rolling mill at Dortmund's Hoerde steel works last spring. Just 100 yards from the new mill, the Allies had dismantled the old one because it had produced armaments for the Wehrmacht.

PARIS, Oct. 1. (Reuters) — Canadian, Royal Navy and French warships will start anti-submarine and anti-aircraft manoeuvres in the northern Mediterranean Oct. 3, it was announced today. A total of 49 ships will take part.

37 Miles Of Highways Paved In PEI This Year

A total of 26 miles of paving and approximately 12 1-2 miles of light paving, consisting of tar spraying and an application of granite chips, was completed by the Department of Public Works and Highways this year.

Hon. Dougald MacKinnon, Minister for the Department, said yesterday that in the future, more attention will be given to secondary roads, and the use of sandstone will be increased as a means of building up the roads of this Province.

Subgrading of the Trans-Canada Highway to be completed this year includes the Wood Islands-Pictou and Crapaud — Borden Sections. Tenders will be called this fall for the paving next year of these stretches.

The paving done this year includes 10 miles from Bonshaw towards Borden, 3 1-2 miles from Kensington through New Annan, 3 1-2 miles from Summerside towards Borden and 8 miles from Pool's Corner to Cardigan and Georgetown. Light paving done was 8 miles between Montague and Murray Harbour, 2 miles Cornwall-Clyde River, 1-2 miles on the Mt. Edward Road, 1-2 mile on Palmers Lane and the stretch from the Belvedere Service Station to the Kensington Road.

Will Attend Maritime Y.P.U. Convention

Two delegates from this Province will be among the United Church Young People from the three Maritime Provinces who have been invited to attend a Fall Convention planned by members of the Executive of the Maritime Conference of Young People's Union on Thanksgiving week-end.

The Convention is to be held at St. Andrew's United Church Hall in Halifax with sessions beginning Saturday evening, October 6th and concluding Monday noon on October 8th. During their visit to Halifax, the young people will be guests in Halifax and Dartmouth homes. Representing P. E. I. will be Miss Evelyn Underhay, Montague, and Miss Neida Richards, York.

Rev. J. D. N. MacDonald of Woodlawn United Church, Dartmouth, will be the Theme Speaker. His subject is to be "Choose Ye This Day," and during the session the delegates will have an opportunity of thinking through with him some of the problems that confront the youth of today.

Saturday evening's program will include a banquet with Rev. J. Elton Davidge as the special speaker. Mr. Davidge has recently been appointed Field Secretary of Christian Education for the United Church in the Maritimes.

The Young People will conduct the Sunday evening Church Service in St. Andrew's United Church and at that time the delegates will be privileged in hearing Dr. Sidney Gilchrist, a Medical Missionary who has recently returned on furlough from Africa. There will also be opportunities for singing, recreation and group worship during the various sessions. Other leaders will present subjects dealing with the Commissions in the Young People's program such as worship in Music with Professor Harold Hamer, Boy's and Girl's work with Rev. J. E. Davidge, World Affairs with Professor George Grant, and Dramatics with Mr. Don Wetmore. The delegates themselves will have an opportunity to share ideas.

Early registrations received point to a large gathering and a wide representation from most sections of the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. and Mrs. Trainer will reside in Johnston's River where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

The Forth and Clyde canal, 40 miles long, was built in 1791 to connect the River Clyde with the Firth of Forth.

Miss Marshall Guest Artist At First Concert

Lois Marshall, soprano, will be the guest artist at the first concert this season in the Prince of Wales College Concert Series, on November 9th.

Lois Marshall has risen with almost meteoric suddenness after being the Grand Award winner in the national Singing Stars of Tomorrow in 1950. She was one of the two Canadians chosen to sing on the Toronto Symphony Orchestra subscription series, a distinction that programmed her with Myra Hess and Rubenstein, and in July of last year, she appeared in the Sesquicentennial concert in Washington, D. C. where her performance won great praise from the critics.

Miss Marshall studied at the Royal Conservatory of Music from the age of twelve, and in 1950 was awarded the Eaton Prize of $1,000 as the outstanding senior school graduate.

Trainer-Boylan Wedding

St. Patrick's Church, Fort Augustus, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, September 18th, 1951, when Mary Emma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boylan, Auburn, was united in marriage to Elmer Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Trainer, Johnston's River.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. T. P. Butler, who also celebrated the Nuptial Mass. The wedding march was beautifully played by Mr. Martin Powell, who also sang appropriate hymns during the Mass.

The bride looked lovely in a floor-length dress of white Satin, fingertip veil, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. She was attended by her sister, Catherine, as bridesmaid, who was becomingly attired in floor-length gown of mauve net over taffeta, shoulder-length veil and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The groom was ably supported by his cousin, Mr. Ernest Currie. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of the bride's parents where breakfast was served to over 150 guests. The breakfast table was tastefully decorated with autumn flowers and centered with a three-tier wedding cake.

Among the guests present were Rev. Fr. T. P. Butler and Rev. Louis Callaghan, Indian River. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Fr. Butler and was responded to by the groom. Rev. Louis Callaghan also expressed his compliments and good wishes to the young couple.

The bridal party left in the late afternoon by motor on a honeymoon trip through the Maritimes. For travelling the bride wore a navy gingham suit with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Upon their return on Thursday, Sept. 20th, they were tendered a reception at the home of the groom's parents, where a large number of relatives and friends gathered to wish them many years of happy wedded bliss.

They received many beautiful gifts, including a large sum of money.

Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Shea, Auburn, where she was the recipient of money, and beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Trainer will reside in Johnston's River where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

The Forth and Clyde canal, 40 miles long, was built in 1791 to connect the River Clyde with the Firth of Forth.

Successful Former Ch'town Scientist

Many friends here will be interested in learning that Dr. Hugh C. Campbell, formerly of Charlottetown, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Campbell, recently joined the research staff of the Du Pont Company's electrochemicals department at the Niagara Falls, N. Y. plant. He is assigned to the laboratory of the technical division there.

Dr. Campbell, who is a brother of Mr. J. P. Campbell, Charlottetown, received the degree of Bachelor of Science in chemistry, in 1947, from Acadia University, and Doctor of Philosophy in organic chemistry in 1951 from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

QUEBEC, Oct. 1. (CP) — Appeal of Mrs. Arthur Pitre from a murder conviction in the time-bombing of an airliner in 1949 today was postponed until November.

The Quebec Court of Appeals has already heard the appeal of Genevieve Ruest, the woman's brother, also convicted of murder in the plot that killed 23. The court's judgment is expected in the near future.

Ruest and Mrs. Pitre are scheduled to be hanged Nov. 16. J. Albert Guay, convicted of master-minding the bombing, was hanged Jan. 12. Ruest was the maker of the bomb which Mrs. Pitre took to the plane.

High School Girls Shown Fancy Dishes

TORONTO, Oct. 1. (CP) — A desk on wheels complete with shelves for snack-bar and radio—that's what the modern teenager may find in her room one of these days.

The piece was among items at a recent showing of furniture in a Toronto department store.

The desk on wheels was the main piece of furniture in a room designed for the high school miss.

The exhibit stressed that colors in rooms should suit the personality of their occupants. For the girl who is blonde there was a room with red maple furniture and evergreen walls.

A sophisticated background of Chinese modern furniture with touches of blue and yellow in tapes and walls was the setting for the dark-haired girl.

Britain's Three-Year Rearmament Program Behind Schedule

LONDON, Sept. 30. (AP) — The drawing board part of Britain's three-year rearmament program is practically finished.

Orders for about 60 per cent of the arms have been placed; factories are expanding; some sub-contracts are being farmed out, and production lines are beginning to move.

But all is far from well. Output is lagging behind schedule on almost every item, from airplanes and warships down to tents. Men, machine tools and metals are scarce.

The country is so pinched for scientists and technicians that almost all of them have to be used on current projects to the sacrifice of future improvements even before military production hits its peak.

The burden of defence already is straining the country's resources. It is an open question—laden with political dynamite—how well the country can bear up under the stresses of an arms program saddled on an already wobbly economy.

The Labor Government says the country can and must do the job at whatever cost.

A potent left wing in the Labor Party, led by Aneurin Bevan, insists the job cannot be done without defeating its own purpose: that it will wreck the welfare state and bring on an economic crisis that will leave the country helpless.

The Conservatives long have argued that Britain was doing too little too late.

New jet fighters and bombers have been ordered straight from drawing board, without preliminary flight testing for bugs. So far all appears to be well although types ordered in this way still are not in service.

New jet planes appear to be excellent. Britain is proud of its new Centurion tank, battle-tested in Korea. The navy is building some new ships and refitting fasters with concentration on fast, streamlined submarine killers and aircraft carriers.

Nearly 35,000 machine tools are needed, the Supply Ministry says. About two-thirds of them are on order with British makers, American firms and European countries. The rest are expected to be obtained by diverting machines already ordered by non-defence plants.

Shortage of men is grave. It takes time to train them and no quick solution is possible.

NYMPHFIELD, England.—(CP) — Resting in a field in this Gloucestershire district, David Heaney, 15, tied a white handkerchief on his head. He was shot dead by a hunter who said he mistook the boy for a badger. A coroner's jury returned an "accidental death" verdict.

Violence And Terrorism Mounts In Philippines

MANILA, Oct. 1. (AP) — Death violence and charges of political terrorism mounted in the Philippines during the week-end, six weeks in advance of the Nov. 13 elections which Communist Huk are striving to disrupt.

Defence authorities, who have served notice they will call out 10,000 army reserves to preserve order during the congressional and provincial elections, placed blame for most violence on Luzon Island to Reds. They said subversive Huk literature is urging Filipinos to use the rifle and bayonet to overthrow the government.

In the latest violence two Liberal (administration) Party leaders in Bulacan Province, just north of Manila, were kidnapped Sunday night by Huk.

The beheaded body of one was found about 30 miles north of Manila near the Candaba swamps. The other still is missing.

This brought an unofficial tally of political killings on Luzon to 25 since Sept. 14. As many more have been kidnapped.

Military authorities in Pampanga Province, in terror-ridden Central Luzon reported 20 poll clerks and election inspectors were kidnapped last Friday. The action was attributed to Huk.

The Philippine News Service reported other pre-election violence from provinces in the Visayan Islands in the Central Philippines. It was a result of political rivalry between the dominant Liberal and minority Nacionalista Party.

Young Scot Girls Loved Swiss Camp

The girls were on their way back to Scotland after a four-month stay in Switzerland for cure and convalescence. Their holiday was sponsored and paid for by the Canadian Red Cross Society. A Swiss organization provided them with a complete national costume, including rucksack.

Mrs. Wylie Rennie, British Red Cross worker, found most of the girls in tears over leaving Switzerland. But Catherine Cormack, 9, said: "I'm glad to be going home."

HOLMAN STORE NEWS

A friend of ours went into a super-warehouse about the BELL HEATHER patterned ROYAL DO LTON BONE CHINA DINNERWARE which is on display in the China Departments of both the Charlottetown and the Summerside Stores. She was deeply entranced with the sweetly simple Heather design in delicate colors and the graceful "Montrose" shape... she pointed out to us that Bell Heather would be equally charming in a period dining room as in one of the most modern trends. Bell Heather by Royal Doulton comes from the same English potteries as the marvellous Doulton Figurines that call forth admiration and acclaim wherever they are seen... Bell Heather is "Open Stock" which means that you are able to buy a complete set or one piece at a time—whichever you may choose. Come see it for yourself in the China Department of either Holman Store.
