Prepare For Flower Show At Alberton

—Flower growers in Alberton and surrounding districts are anticipating with pleasure the second annual flower show, sponsored by Regalette Rebekah Lodge, which is to be held in the lodge room next Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The committee in charge of the show, Mrs. Gordon Hardy, Miss Shirley McArthur, Miss Margaret Forsyth, Mrs. Charles Johnston, Mrs. J. C. Matthews, Mrs. Elmer Wallace and Mrs. Lloyd Wilkie, have given much time and thought to preparations and there is every indication that it will be a very worthwhile event.

The prize list has been completed and may be seen at H. D. Corbett's, Myricks Alberton Ltd., Callaghan's or Noonan's in Alberton, at K. R. Matthews' in Elmsdale, at the drug store or Jelly's store in O'Leary, or secured from any member of the committee.

Entries may be made the evening preceding the show or on Wednesday morning up to half past eleven. It is pleasing to note that any variety of cut flowers or potted plants may be entered in the competition. In addition to awards of merit in all classes, prizes of nursery stock are being offered for the best mixed bouquet, the best table decoration, and for the following flowers and plants: Gladioli, dahlias, sweet peas, phlox, asters, zinnias, foliage plants, tuberous begonia, gloxinia.

These prizes are being donated by the Rural Beautification Society, the Cotton Memorial Nursery and A. C. Green of Alberton.

Mrs. Gordon McMillan of Cornwall, who has graciously consented to judge the show with the help of an assistant to be chosen by her, has been invited to formally open the show at 3 p.m. Prizes will be presented during the evening. Tea will be served by members of the lodge both afternoon and evening.

Another Break At S'side War Surplus Store

—Another in a long series of breaks at the War Surplus Store in Summerside occurred early Friday morning and netted the thieves an estimated $500.00 in merchandise.

The break was discovered at 3.45 on Friday morning by the manager of the store, Mr. Norman Prichard, who had come down to the store at this early hour on his way out on a fishing trip. Investigation revealed that the rear door of he premises had been forced open and entry gained to that part of the building but as there was nothing of value to the intruders there it was necessary for them to make another and successful attempt at the front of the store. Here the moulding was pried away from one of the panes of glass and in order to do this they were obliged to operate on the main street of the town.

An estimated thirty pairs of pants, ten or twelve jackets, socks, shirts and other articles of wearing apparel were taken in the raid as well as a radio which was in the store.

Later in the day some of the articles were picked up by police along the western railway track at various points, some near the intersection of Notre Dame Street and others as far west as the rear of Mr. Prichard's own residence which borders the track.

Apparently the thief or thieves had stuffed the stolen goods in a large bag which must have been filled to overflowing and the various articles dropped out as they made their hurried escape along the track.

During the several years that Mr. Prichard has been in business at the War Surplus Store he has been the victim of a number of breaks and has suffered considerable loss but the one on Friday was the most crippling of all. S.

Donnie Sheen hit the only home run of the contest. Johnny Gallant was the leading batter, hitting 3 for 3, and he was also the star defensively, making four very good catches.

Afternoon Session

After the opening of the afternoon session the question box was discussed. The answers to the various questions were capably given by the supervisor, Mr. Merritt Callaghan and president Earl Jelly.

Mr. J. P. McCarthy, principal of Truro Normal School, Truro, N.S., was then called upon. His address was on the subject, "What Is Teaching". He outlined the main objectives, "lesson hearing" and "telling the story". He said the natural function of the mind is to inquire. Teaching is the guidance of learning and requires the ability to stimulate the pupil.

After a short recess, Mr. Connolly of the Home and School Association, addressed the meeting. He stated that the Home and School Association had for its aim the improvement of conditions for schools in general.

The resolutions committee, under the convenership of Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, brought in their findings as follows: This convention is in favor of the establishment of a teachers' credit union. Ten members were interested in joining a credit union for teachers. A unanimous vote on the preference for a two day convention program was presented.

The president, vice-president and secretary were re-appointed. They are:

President, Mr. Earl Jelly, O'Leary; vice-president, Mr. Terence Gallant, Howlan; secretary, Mrs. Mary McIsaac, Glenwood.

The convention was brought to a close with the singing of "The Queen".

RCAF Holds One Of Last Wings Parades At S'side

—With the job of the Air Navigation School at Summerside nearly completed the R. C. A. F. held one of its last wing parades at Summerside Station yesterday While there will be at least one more wings parade at Summerside, it will not be as large as the one held yesterday morning. After presenting navigators' wings to the two courses of R.A.F. and Canadian graduates A/C W. W. Brown, C.D., chief staff officer of Training Command, congratulated the newly commissioned officers and welcomed them as qualified aircrew members of the Nato forces.

Included in the group was the third course of university reserve training plan students to graduate from Summerside. The U. R. T. P allows students from Canadian universities and service colleges to train as R.C.A.F. aircrew during their summer vacation. Following the graduation they returned to their universities where they will become members of the university air squadrons.

Those graduating as members of the R. C. A. F. regular force left Summerside for other bases where they will specialize in either jet aircraft, transport or Maritime navigation.

No Comment On Size

In talking with the press following the wings parade, A/C Brown, queried regarding possible decrease in station personnel when the Air Navigation School moves to Winnipeg, said he had not checked figures regarding the future size of the station and could not comment on its future size. He said, however, that while the Air Navigation School would be moving from Summerside this fall, the Central Navigation School would remain at Summerside at least until next spring.

Air Commodore W. W. Brown, 48, was born in Hamilton, Ontario, where he received his early education leading to admittance to the Royal Military College from which he graduated in 1925.

He immediately was commissioned in the Royal Canadian Air Force and since that time has served in various senior appointments at home and abroad. During the war he commanded service flying training schools at Moncton, N.B., and Souris, Manitoba, and in 1945 he was selected as senior R.C.A.F. officer of the rearmament wing in France and Germany.

In 1946 A/C Brown returned to Canada and took over his present duties as chief staff officer at Trenton.

Sport fans will remember him as an outstanding football player with service teams before the war.

In 1949 A/C Brown received the Legion of Honor degree of Chevalier from the Government of France for his services to that country. S

Leod once again sent a runner across the plate, driving Purcell home with a single to right field. In their half of the eighth the Curranites scored two runs. Grant Grady walked, and Coke Grady got on on a fielder's choice when Grant was forced at second. Whalen and Lefurgey whiffed, but Kennedy let Lefurgey's third strike go through him so Curran and Briggs had runners on first and second.

A passed ball advanced both runners and Buckley in a pinch-hitting role was walked, filling the bases. Maure Cannon's sharp single to left drove both runners across the platter. Buckley set the Abbies down in order in the top of the ninth.

In the home team's final inning Walker led off with a base on balls. He stole second and Kennedy's accurate throw to second had no takers so continued on its way to centre field, Walker going to third. Joe Dalton then bunted to the pitcher and Walker was about ten feet from the plate when the ball connected with the bat, so there was no possible play on him. The game ended with the score 3-3.

Don MacLeod led his team at bat with two for four, and Johnny Whalen got two of his team's three hits in three official trips.

There were no outstanding defensive plays, but the fielding was steady, each team committing two miscues.
